

Christmas Weddings

BREAY-INGRAM

The regular attendants at the services held at the home of Mr. Frank Winington Ingram, Grovesend, repaired as usual Sunday afternoon to the Christmas service. They found the dining room decorated with Union Jacks and holly, and a row of cushions of military design reposing under a canopy of flags and pennants. Soon the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march sounded forth, ably rendered by Miss Rette Chute, of Lakeview. Rev. Mr. Crowley took his place beneath the canopy. Then followed Corporal Edward Payson Breay, on leave from the London camp, clad in khaki, and Mr. Leslie Todman, also in his uniform, stood by his side, where they were joined by Miss Constance Evelyn Ingram in a lovely gown of cream silk crepe and obentilly, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, with all the appearance of a lovely bride, came leaning on the arm of her father. Miss Hazel Ingram made a sweet bridesmaid dressed in rose silk crepe, and carrying a basket of white carnations on her arm. The solemn service ended, when the audience present turned into wedding guests and congratulated the happy couple. During the signing of the register Miss Chute sang "Just for Today." The groom's gift to the bride was a heavy silver toilet set in a handsome case, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet and to the pianist a prayer book. The guests were invited to the dining room to partake of the bridal cake, which was out with the groom's sword, and was dispensed with tea by Miss Grace Ingram. Owing to this being the last leave of absence for the groom, the wedding, which was to have taken place some months hence, was hastened on. The engagement was announced in London, England, last week and cab'grams of congratulation were received from the Bishop of London, uncle of the bride, and from relatives of the groom. The bridal couple left for a brief honeymoon, the bride travelling in a navy blue tailored suit and black hat. The romance which ended in the wedding on Sunday afternoon, began when Miss Ingram was on a visit to her uncle, the Bishop of London, a few years ago. A short time later Corporal Breay came to Canada to study farming, and located in this district. A few weeks ago he joined the volunteers from Aylmer, for overseas service.

WELTER-IRISH

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, Luton, on Wednesday, the 23rd inst., when Miss Eva E. Irish, became the bride of Mr. Harry V. Welter. Rev. O. R. Durant officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Welter are enjoying a short trip to Detroit, and other points in the United States.

WESTOVER-ADDISON

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at "Solid Comfort" the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Warnock, Water St. at high noon, on Thursday, December 24th, when Bertha Luella Addison, eldest daughter of James T. Addison, Edmonton, formerly of Aylmer, was united in marriage to Charles Westover son of Hiram Westover, one of Malahide's prominent and progressive farmers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, pastor of St. Paul's church, and the bride was given away by Mr. Warnock. After hearty congratulations had been extended, a wedding luncheon was served. The bride is well known in Aylmer, and will have the very best wishes of a host of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Westover will make their home in Malahide.

GRIGG-S. ITH

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at noon on Wednesday, Dec 23, at the home of Mrs. Philip Smith, of Courtland, when her only daughter, Edna Amantha, was united in marriage to Lorne Grigg, of Delhi, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Igg, of Stratfordville. The bride was given away by Mr. O. McKenney, of Aylmer, brother-in-law of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ezra Adams, of Courtland. The bride looked charming in a gown of white voile and shadow lace, and wore the customary veil and orange blossoms. Miss Lucy Pratt, of Courtland, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Leo Berry, of Eden, as groomsmen. After congratulations, all repaired to the dining room, where a very dainty dinner was served. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a very pretty brooch, to the groomsmen a tie pin. The bride was the recipient of numerous and costly presents. The brides travelling suit was of brown broadcloth with blue hat. After their honeymoon trip to Aylmer and points east, Mr. and Mrs. Grigg will reside in Delhi, where the groom is the owner of a business.

BOBBETT-BINGHAM

At high noon on Friday, Dec. 25, the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bingham, Orwell was the scene of a pretty wedding, when their only daughter, Velma Gladys, was united in marriage to Raynor H. Bobbett, of Grovesend. Promptly at twelve o'clock the bride entered the drawing room, supported by her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Hazel Matthews, and took her place beneath a tastefully decorated arch.

The bride was prettily gowned in white embroidered voile, wearing a simple wreath of white roses and carried a shower bouquet of carnations. She was well attended by Miss Marion Matthews who wore a dainty gown of mauve satin with shadow lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Olaf Tisdale, of Aylmer. The Misses Jean and Ethel Bingham, cousins of the bride made charming little flower girls, carrying the ring on a tray of pretty lilies of the valley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. R. Durant, of the Malahide circuit, after which the guests to the number of about fifty repaired to the dining room where a dainty buffet luncheon was served.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The groom's gift to bride was a gold bracelet watch; to the bridesmaid a pearl necklace; to the groomsmen a gold pin set with pearls; to the flower girls gold bracelets, and to the pianist a gold brooch set with amethysts.

After the bride had donned her travelling suit of blue broadcloth with black and white hat, the happy couple left for Toronto and points east, and will be at home to their friends after Feb. 1st, at Grovesend.
