RECIPOCAL TRADE RELATIONS.

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 17.-A bill has been introduced in the Parliament of New Zealand providing for reciprocal trade relations with Great Britain.

The wheat crop of New South Wales is approximated at 1,430,000 bushels, an average of 9.9 bushels per acre.

THOUSANDS OF NATIVES SLAIN.

Paris, Nov. 17.-A special dispatch to the Journal brings news from the Niger region of West Africa. In order to punish the inhabitants of the town of Kong, capital of the kingdom of Kong, in the Manding region of Upper Guinea, for their refusal to supply his troops with provisions, Chief Samory has razed the town and massacred several thousand natives.

FLOOD IN THE NEVA.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17.-All day long a fierce wind from the sea has driven the waters of the Neva up the stream and flooded the canals, the suburban islands and outlying portion of the city. Several bridges have been swept away and the flood continues to rise, threatening to assume grave proportions. At frequent intervals cannon are fired at the fortress to keep the inhabitants alert.

AUSTRIA'S BUDGET.

Vienna, Nov. 17.-Count Franz Thun has been elected president of the Austrian parliament. The Austrian imperial budget for this year shows expenditures, 158,335,748 florins; income, 142,230 florins. The sum of 162,000 florins is required for the army and navy, and the war department demands a supplemented credit of 7,500,000 florins for the purchase of arms and ammunition and for fortifications.

GERMANY AND HAYTI.

London, Nov. 17.-The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: Not only the radical but the clerical journals are of opinion that the conflict with the Republic of Hayti and the attack on the missionaries in China will be used to influence German naval plans in favor of extensive Pacific fleet.

Various journals, meanwhile, continue to urge the government to take prompt measures for reparation in Hayti.

TRIBESMEN'S TACTICS.

Sind, Nov. 17.-Advices from the Sind Valley say that while the British force was foraging in the western part of the valley, a body of the enemy, he was accustomed to expect from Germany until lately, completely turned his head. The New Freie Presse states that the alliance has seized the opportunity of demand from the port binding assurances.

Other matters concerning the Austrian company which works the railway, and relative to which representations have already been made repeatedly at Constantinople.

WRECK OF THE RUTHERGLEN.

Narrow Escape of the Crew-Gallant Work Done by Their Rescuers-An Unknown Liner Refused to Assist Them.

London, Nov. 17.-Particulars have been received at Queenstown of the wreck of the British steamer Rutherford, Capt. English, from New York on Oct. 29 for Plymouth, which foundered on Saturday night last.

Her crew was picked up by the Norwegian bark Hermanos, and reached Crookhaven, 21 miles from Skibbereen, on Saturday morning. The crew, leaving New York, encountered a series of gales, which raised mountainous seas. The steamer labored so heavily that her cargo shifted, but the crew was able to right her for a time until, on Tuesday, she was wrecked.

She was listed to much that her sails, and she listed to her beam ends, and she was finally abandoned. It was decided to abandon the Rutherford, and Capt. English tried to lower away a lifeboat. Two lifeboats were smashed against the steamer's side and washed away before any success attended his efforts. The third lifeboat succeeded in getting away from the steamer, but was stove in and sank just as it ran alongside the bark. Happily all the struggling men were hauled on board the Hermanos. The boats of the Hermanos made five trips before all the members of the Rutherford's crew were rescued.

Some idea of the difficulty of this task may be gathered from the fact that it took nine hours to rescue all the crew of the British steamer. The latter numbered 28 men in all. Captain English reports that on the Wednesday morning on Wednesday next, an eastbound Hamburg steamer, with a green, white and green funnel, was asked to take the crew of the Rutherford. The Hermanos was outward bound to Martinique, but she was obliged to turn into Crookhaven in order to land the shipwrecked crew.

SALISBURY SPEAKS.

The Situation at Home and Abroad Is "Not Destitute of Elements of Apprehension."

London, Nov. 17.-A great mass meeting was held last evening in the Prince Albert Hall, under the presidency of Lord Salisbury, lord-lieutenant of Ireland, at which the principal speaker was the premier, the Marquis of Salisbury. Eight thousand persons were present. Lord Salisbury, in his address, spoke of the situation at home and abroad, and said that it was not destitute of elements of apprehension.

He said that the situation at home was not destitute of elements of apprehension, and that the situation abroad was not destitute of elements of apprehension. He said that the situation at home was not destitute of elements of apprehension, and that the situation abroad was not destitute of elements of apprehension.

was greeted with a great ovation. He said that the situation was "not destitute of elements of apprehension, either at home or abroad. Referring to the disturbances on the northwest frontier of India, he paid a glowing tribute to Lord Elgin, the viceroy. As to the Amner of Afghanistan, he said, he has "acted so worthily in the great crisis in which he has been placed as to be completely absolved of all charges of bad faith." Speaking of foreign affairs, Lord Salisbury denied that the government had yielded to France in the matter of Siam, Tunis or Madagascar.

Turning to home affairs, he said the government of London was a question which must be solved, and could only be solved by giving to other and small municipal bodies a large part of the duties now performed by the London County Council. He promised that the government would introduce legislation on the subject at the next session of Parliament. "The present system," said his lordship, "is due to the modification of the big game of things, and is too unwieldy. He asked his hearers to look at what had been done across the ocean. "Do you want to be governed like New York?"

Dealing with the results of the recent parliamentary bye-elections, Lord Salisbury attributed the Conservative and Liberal "Unionist" losses to "the indifference in their ranks caused by the disorganization of their adversaries," and he urged "Unionists" not to relax vigilance "as the opposition has all the elements of organization, and only lacks a general."

At the request of Marshal Blanco, the Spanish Government has postponed the autonomy decree for Cuba until Nov. 25.

A Munich dispatch says: Prof. W. H. von Kries, the publicist and historian, is dead.

AUSTRIA VS. TURKEY.

Strained Relations Between the Two Powers-Turkey Must Come to Time at Once.

London, Nov. 17.-It now appears that the statement made in a special dispatch from Vienna that the Turkish Government, in reply to the demands of Baron de Calvez, the Austrian ambassador to the Porte, had agreed to salute the Austrian flag, after dismissing the Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the Porte, for indignities offered to the Austrian flag, was untrue.

Dispatches from Vienna announce that up to midnight Tuesday no intimation had been received of the intention of the Turkish Government to dismiss the offending officials or to salute the flag. If, however, the Austrian flag is not saluted by the Porte by noon Thursday, Baron de Calvez will leave Constantinople, and the Austrian warships will bombard the Merina.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says: "It is now expected that the sultan will, in regard to the moment and then yield, which may appear to him a clever stroke of diplomacy." The sultan, however, has refused to official press to boast of a semi-victory of the Padiashah over the Christian powers. Eventually, however, it is as good as certain that the Austro-Turkish alliance will be a permanent one.

When the landing party from the German cruiser Division occupied Kiao-chau Bay on Sunday last, the German flag was hoisted at Kiao-chau Bay, the nearest port to Yen-Chu-Fu, in the southern province of Shan-Tun, where the German missionaries were recently murdered. Saturday afternoon last it was semi-officially announced from Berlin that the German squadron in China was ordered to anchor in the immediate vicinity of the scene of the recent murder of German missionaries, for which the German naval commander was instructed to obtain immediate satisfaction.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH ON EASTERN AFFAIRS.

Vienna, Nov. 17.-Emperor Francis Joseph, in receiving the Hungarian delegation today, made a speech in which he said: "The situation in the east during the past year has filled us with anxieties, which, thanks to the unanimous action of the great powers, now happily appear to be regulated. It will now tax the concert of the powers to proceed to the settlement of the affairs of Crete, whereby the island, while the sovereign rights of his majesty are safe-guarded, will receive a large measure of autonomy. We joy the best relations with all the powers, and our alliance with Germany and Italy forms, as it has done in the past, the unalterable basis of our policy. To the constant endeavor of my government, and to the guarantees of peace hitherto existing is now added the friendly shaping of our relations with Russia." Continuing, the emperor said: "The repeated meetings I have had of late have convinced me of the agreement of our views, and have laid the foundation for a relation of mutual confidence between our states." After alluding to the satisfaction caused him by the visit of "my friend and ally, the German emperor," Emperor Francis Joseph concluded with the remark: "The safeguarding of the interests of European peace will continue to be the chief mission of my government, and I hope we may look to the future with confidence in this respect."

A TRUCE

In the Contest Between British Engineers and Their Employers.

London, Nov. 17.-At the preliminary meeting of the representatives of the striking engineers and their employers, last conference on Wednesday next, Nov. 24. Each side will have fourteen representatives.

Until then a truce has been agreed upon, on the basis that the employers will suspend the notices not yet carried out, and post no notices locking men out, until further notice. On the other hand, the men agree not to interfere, during the truce, with those engineers who
