STAIPED STECKINGS WON THE RAC A Tale of Hosiery and Adventure on the Frontier.

(From the Lewiston Journal.) Once when we were going down in t Indian territory, as we rede out of the vi lage we passed the house where a No Brunswick girl had just come to live in t little prairie village. There had been co siderable joking about the new arrival, an as we passed she came out to hang up her washing on the line. I rode a little red pony—one that I had swapped a shotgun

With the line in pony-one that I had swapped a shotgun for-and when I saw the New Brunswick girl hang up a pair of the longest, biggest striped stockings I had ever seen, I rode right up into the yard and under the clothesline, and seized those stockings and pulled 'em off the line and rode away.

All that trip across the hot plains and over the rustling buffalo grass the boys plagued me about those stockings. I had put them in my trunk and kept them. I don't know what I took them for or why

Well, we got down into the territory and among the Indians. They are great gamblers, you know, and we bet with then everything we had. We raced and wor from them all the money and blankets they possessed. The blankets were United States blankets, but we can use them by cutting out the "U. S." At last we came down to foot-runners, and the Indian brought out their man. He was tall, broad chested and long-limbed. He could go lik the wind, and our best runner was nothing compared with him. Why, he was the bes physical man I ever saw. He looked at ou man, and his thick lip curled in derision.

"He no good-get a man !" The savage was stripped to his skin. looked at our man.

"Jake," I said, "you wait a minute." Then I went and got those stockings When I brought them out they create the biggest kind of a sensation, and th curiosity to touch them was somethin comical. They just wanted to put the hands on them to see what they were. did not let them satisfy their curiosity, bu carried them through the crowd as if the were holy relics. "Jake, put them on and run with them,

"Why, I can't run with those on," h

"Yes, you can. Don't you see that the are mystified?" He put them on, and, though he was large man, they came clear to his hips. W pinned them up and he started with th big Indian. It was plain by the faces ne greasers that they had lost all faith eir man as against the striped stocking e Indian ran a little distance and the behind, with his eyes fixed in terror of flying stockings. He was beate do you know, I sold those stockin Indian for five ponies and a rifle.

There is considerable opposition in South Essex to piping the gas outside of the county, and petitions are in circulation protesting against it. It is claimed that if it is taken across the river the gas fields will soon be depleted. It is understood that the Walkers will bind themselves under a penalty of $100,000 not to pipe the gas out of the counties of Essex and Kent if other companies are denied the privilege.

A Government sought to extradite upon the charge of robbing Charles Gillman, of Mooretown, the river trader, was discharged Saturday by Judge Vance. The judge held that the evidence showed that Johnston was guilty only of larceny, if anything, and not of robbery. The crowd will be tried for bringing in stolen goods in the United States. They are all out on $200 bail each.

MIDDLESEX. During the heavy thunder storm that passed over Belmont Thursday morning the residence of Mrs. Connell, east of the Presbyterian Church there, was struck by lightning, and the southwest corner of the building was badly wrecked. Mrs. Connell's bed was in the corner that was struck, but that lady, having risen only a few minutes before, escaped uninjured but badly fright-

Peter Michaelson, who gives his residence as 115 Atwater street, walked into the pelice station at Detroit on Thursday and gave himself up. He said that he understood he was wanted on some charge, but he did not know what. He was immediately placed under arrest, and charged with highway robbery. On the night of Aug. 3, about 2 a.m., Nichol Black, an old man who lives in Glencoe, Ont., was held up on Brush street, near the Detroit and Milwaukee depot, and robbed of $150. It is alleged that Michaelson is one of the two men who committed this robbery. Michaelson pleaded not guilty, and was held for examination under $500 bail.

PERTH. Mitchell Advocate: Mr. John S. Coppin, his brothers Thomas and Joseph, and a sister at Stratford, Mrs. Johnston, have fallen in for a large sum of money. When their father, who was possessed of considerable money and property, died some years ago in England, he left the interest on the whole of the estate to his second wife, who survived him, and at her death the principal was to be divided equally between the four children above named. The old lady passed away about three weeks ago, and now the division of the estate is to be made.

New Gold Field in Colorado.

Mosca, Col., Aug. 11. - The developments at the new gold field, about fifteen miles east of here, tend to raise rather than to allay the excitement of the past two days. Over 200 claims have been staked out. A town site has been chosen near, and merchants are rushing up buildings and preparing for business. The towns of Mosca and Garrison are nearly depopulated of their able-bodied men, and many are coming from towns farther away. Old prospectors declare the gold ore bodies are simply immense, and that there is more gold in Blanca than silver in Creed.

Miss Bailey The great lung healer is found in the excellent medicine sold as Pickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption. The flash of a thought is more effective HOW WE WALK.

The Muscles Used and the Mechanical Work They Do.

The chief muscles concerned in walking are those in the calf and back of leg, which by pulling up the heel, also pull up the bones of the foot connected with it, and then the whole body, the weight of which is passed on through the bones of the leg. When walking the trunk is thrown forward so that it would fall down prostrate were not the right foot planted in time to support it. The calf muscles are helped in this action by those on the front of the trunk and legs, which contract and pull the body forward, and the trunk slanting forward when the heel is raised by the calf muscles, the whole body will be raised and pushed forward and upward. This advancement of each leg is effected partly by muscular action, the muscles used being (1) those on the front of the thigh, bending it forward on the pelvis; (2) the hamstring muscles, which slightly bend the leg on the thigh; (3) the muscles on the front of the leg, which raise the front of the foot and toes, preventing the latter, in swinging forward, from hitching in the ground. When one foot has reached the ground the action of the other has not ceased.

There is another point in walking. The body is constantly supported and balanced on each leg alternately, and, therefore, on only one at once. Hence there must be some means for throwing the centre of gravity over the line of support formed by the bones of each leg as it supports the weight of the body. This is done in various ways, and hence the differences in the walk of different people. There may be slight rotation at the hip joint, bringing the centre of gravity of the body over the foot of this side. This "rocking" motion of the trunk and thigh is accompanied by a movement of the whole trunk and leg over the foot planted on the ground, and is accompanied by a compensating outward movement at the hip. The body rises and swings alternately from one side to the other as its centre of gravity comes alter nately over one or the other leg, and the curvature of the spinal bones is altered with the varying position of the weight.

Strongest of Living Creatures.

What living creature is possessed of the greatest bodily strength in proportion to its size? was a question asked by a reader of Pearson's Weekly. The answer was as follows: This honor must be divided between the cockchafer, the hive bee and the flea. It is rather difficult to apply a test to prove which particular, insect among the borers, the jumpers and carriers is the strongest, but there is no question that in proportion to their size insects undoubtedly possess the greatest strength among living creatures. The flea can jump a foot high, more than 100 times its own length, it is as if a man jumped as high as the gallery of the monument. The spring of the tiger and the leap of the kangaroo are cockchafer is strong enough to lift 24.3 65 to 71 Front St. West, Toronto, Ont. times its own weight, a small hive bee 23.5 times the weight of itself. Judged by this standard, there is nothing comparable to it among other insects or among the larger animals, and it may be safely asserted that these three insects divide the honors be tween them, for though boring insects pierce the hardest wood, it is by the wonderful adaptation of their boring instrument rather than by abnormal strength.

of garments washed in a year. Then you'll see how many back-breaking rubs Pearline saves you. Don't do the washing yourself? You still need Pearline. Every one of these rubs is wearing the things washed. They suffer, if you don't. Millions now use Pearline. Think of the useless and harmful rubs that have been saved to the women of America. Beware of imitations. 364 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.
