C. P. R. MEN ARE HIGHLY PLEASED

Local Employees Are Given Large Increases by the Railway Company.

SOME BG CONCESSIONS

Men Will Be Paid After 18 Hours' Detention—Dead Line of 2,600 Miles for Month's Run Is Agreed To.

The local representatives of the C. P. R. men who have been in Montreal negotiating with the company in regard to an increase in wages are highly pleased today and have nothing but praise for the big railway and its officials.

The employees were treated handsomely and the men appreciate the fact.

Many important matters were settled and bones of contention removed. The agreement signed cannot be broken without either side giving 30 days' notice.

One of the concessions secured by the men is that through freight men are guaranteed that if they do not run 2,600 miles in a month, the company will pay the mileage on that amount as a dead line. For example, if the crew made only 2,400 miles in a month, the company will pay the men for 2,600 miles.

Retroactive Increases.

Equally important is the agreement signed in regard to detention. If a London crew is detained at a foreign terminal more than eighteen hours, the company will pay the men at the rate of ten miles an hour for each additional hour. It is said that in some instances other companies pay only for detention after the crew has been detained thirty hours.

The increases granted are retroactive, going into effect the 1st of last May. As the salaries have been paid the company agree to pay a percentage on the salaries of May and June as follows:

Passenger trainmen, 10 per cent.
Through freight and mixed service, 17 per cent.
Way freight service, 13 per cent.
Yardmen, 25 per cent.

Thus the men will have quite an additional sum of money coming to them next pay day.

Following is the new C. P. R. schedule:

	Board's Award.	Final Settlement.
Through freight service—	Per mile.	Per mile.
Conductor	$3 55	$3 63
Brakeman	2 37	2 42

A BRUTAL MURDER

Three Southern Farmers Accused of Slaying White Girl.

[Associated Press.]

Louisville, Miss., July 23. — Three young farmers are under arrest following the murder of Miss Jennie Sharp, a daughter of a prominent planter.

Miss Sharp left her home late yesterday to go to Dural Hill, in this county, for the day's mail. At nightfall the young woman, not having returned, searching parties were formed, and after an all-night hunt her body was found in a small ravine, with her throat cut, head battered, and evidences of revolting mistreatment apparent. Circumstantial evidence led to the arrest late yesterday of Swinton Fermenter, and despite his protests of innocence he was taken to Louisville and imprisoned. The two other farmers, named Cummings and Burkfield, were captured last night and lodged in jail with Fermenter.

The demand for a lynching became so insistent that it was deemed advisable to remove the men to another jail for safekeeping. A special train was procured and the start was made before midnight for an unknown destination.

A GALLANT RESCUE IN TERRIFIC GALE

How a British Ship Saved a Helpless Austrian Steamer.

London, July 24. — The rescue of the Austrian steamer Trieste by the British steamer Lowther Range, commanded by a North Shields man, Captain Matthews, and owned by the Neptune Line, of Newcastle, is the subject of most appreciative comment in the Vienna press.

The Neues Wiener Tagblatt says: "The name of Lowther Range will not be forgotten in Austria-Hungary. It stands on the proudest page of history, where those are inscribed who risked their own existence in order to save their fellow-men from danger, those for whom all cultivated nations should institute a special sign of honor, those to whom the Nobel prize ought to be given."

The Neue Freie Press says: "Twelve long, anxious days we had been in the dark about the fate of the Trieste, when, along with the joyful news of the safe arrival of the India merchantman, came the report that she owed her escape to the help of an English ship. The saving of the Trieste by the Lowther Range will have to be registered in the history of Austrian shipping. To tow a great vessel in a high, storm-beaten sea, a ship that, almost a helpless wreck, drops from house-high wave mountains into foaming wave depths; to do this amidst the raging of the elements means neither more nor less than to play with one's own fate. One wrong manoeuvre and both vessels collide, and their wrecks are covered by the high waves. Six days lasted the battle, a battle of nerve-exhausting strength, during which an officer of the British ship met with his death.

"The English sailors have secured for themselves a lasting monument in the memory of all seafaring nations. The captain of the English steamer and his brave men will ever remain in our friendly memory."

NEW C. P. R. STEAMERS

Great Increase of Traffic on the Atlantic Lines.

Montreal, July 24. — The Empress of Britain and the Empress of Ireland are showing such an extraordinary increase of traffic, both passenger and freight, this season that the officials of the C. P. R. are said to be forcing ahead the negotiations which were entered into a short time ago for placing two new steamers on their transatlantic service, which will be larger and faster than the Empress boats. The latter would then, it is said, be transferred to the Pacific service.

At the same time all other Canadian steamship lines report a largely increased business, as compared with last year, and exports from Canada, which have been on the quiet side recently, are reported to be improving.

At a recent meeting of the directors of the White Star Dominion Line the Laurentic and Megantic were pointed to as having more than justified themselves on the St. Lawrence route, and other additions to this service are contemplated.

Firemen on vessels in port today say their organization in England, at the head of which is Mr. Joseph Havelock Wilson, M. P., general secretary of the National Seamen's Union, are preparing for a strike in the event of the demands placed before the shipping companies not being acceded to, which will cripple the Atlantic trade for a time, and which will affect ships running to Montreal.

GERMAN ARMAMENTS

Enormous Production of the Famous Krupp Arsenal.

London, July 24.—Particulars of the increased production of Krupp's enormous arsenal at Essen during the past year, and of the work accomplished by other branches of the Krupp company, are supplied by a Berlin correspondent.

They are a significant indication of the German Government's activity in constructing guns for warships and armaments generally.

According to the report of the Essen Chamber of Commerce the firm's employees numbered 63,450 on April 1, 1908, and 68,905 on May 1, 1910.

During 1909 it used 1,349,000 tons of coal, 771,000 tons of coke, and 20,000 tons of briquettes. The central electric generating station produced 39,460,000 kilowatts of electric energy, as compared with 25,541,000 kilowatts in the previous year, and the gas works produced 18,487,000 cubic feet of lighting gas.

In addition, 31,500 shots and 137,000 kegs of powder were fired during 1909 on the three proof-butts attached to the works. In the previous year the figures were 30,000 shots and 90,000 kegs.

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED

Were Crushed to Death at Beaverton While Riding on Tender.

Toronto, July 25.—John McDevitt, aged 55, formerly of West Toronto, and John Hunter, 217 Don Mills road, both employees of the Canadian Northern Railway, were killed Saturday night at Beaverton.

They were riding on the tender of an engine that was backing to take an excursion train back to the city. Engineer William Morrison apparently lost control for the engine hit the train with great force, and both men were crushed to a pulp.
