

Western Ontario Farmers Here in Thousands at Exhibition

FINE WEATHER BROUGHT RECORD BREAKING CROWD TO THE PARK

Visitors Spread Out Over Every Part of the Grounds and in Every Building—Receipts Will Likely Be Away Ahead of Those of Last Year.

Farmers' Day is another record-breaker. The fair grounds were crowded at noon with visitors, and every car along the line was jammed to the doors carrying sightseers.

Every available car belonging to the London street railway was in commission, and there was not a bit of room in any that went to the grounds.

Inside the buildings were crowded. Everywhere could be seen picnic parties, whole families enjoying a lunch in the park.

The grounds looked like a big picnic, so numerous were the families and neighboring groups enjoying themselves there.

Better Than Last Year. There was a much larger attendance this morning than for the same day last year.

And they did not all go to the grounds early. The big stores held out attractions for the visitors, and a large number did their shopping before going out. All report big business today, and they are reaping the benefits of the exhibition.

It is estimated that there will be over 20,000 people present today. The railways brought in over 12,000, and the city people are turning out in larger numbers than on previous days.

Receipts Increase. At the directors' meeting today everything was reported as running very smoothly. The receipts yesterday were well ahead of the same day of the previous year, showing that there has been no diminution in the interest taken in the big fair.

The judging was completed, too, and there were few complaints. Mr. William McLoud entered a protest on the judging of White Wyandottes, but as there had been a prior protest this communication was filed. The difficulty is being arranged in the meantime.

Otherwise, there were no complaints, and the exhibitors expressed themselves as well satisfied, both with the results and the treatment received.

Those present at the meeting were: Mr. W. J. Reid, president; A. M. Hunt, secretary; William McNeil, R. A. Carrothers, J. W. Jones, T. Hardy Shore, Ald. J. H. Saunders, William Moore, John Pringle, C. E. Trebilcock, W. M. Spencer, Col. J. W. Little, Jas. Murray, Richard Oke, Ald. Fitzgerald, Dr. Geo. A. Routledge, and others.

"Everything is perfectly satisfactory," said President Reid.

"The receipts are well ahead of last year," said Mr. John Pringle, chairman of the tickets committee.

Altogether, there was a most optimistic feeling regarding the success of the fair.

C. P. R. ROUNDHOUSE HERE WILL BE HANDSOME BUILDING

Superintendent MacNeillie Says Orders to Go Ahead With Local Improvements Are Expected by the Officials to Arrive Any Day Now.

Superintendent MacNeillie, of the C. P. R., stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that he expects orders to proceed with the improvements here at any time now.

"The work of building the roundhouse will be commenced first," he said, "and it will be a splendid structure. We need the improvements here as quickly as the work can be accomplished, as business is growing very rapidly, and we are badly handicapped with the existing conditions." Mr. MacNeillie stated that work has been commenced on a new line out of Islington, which will connect with the main line running into Toronto, and give the C. P. R. a much faster and more direct service between Hamilton and Toronto.

"We have a large force of men at work," said MacNeillie, "and expect to have the work completed this fall."

DEFENCE OF THE NAVY BY COMMANDER ROPER

Says That Canadians Should Be Proud of It—Plenty of Dreadnoughts.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—Speaking at the directors' luncheon at the Central Canada Exhibition here this afternoon, Commander Roper, R. C. N. V., chief of staff in the Canadian Naval Department, took occasion to frankly criticize the uninformed and unjustified statements made by opponents of the Government's naval policy. Speaking with the authority of expert knowledge and experience, he pointed out the lack of any true appreciation of naval conditions on the part of those who were making such statements. He declared that the proposed cruisers and destroyers would form a most useful addition to the imperial navy, and were under existing conditions preferable to Dreadnoughts, of which Britain now had plenty. Trained men, scouts and naval dockyards such as Canada was to provide were what Britain needed most.

"The 'tin-pot' navy," he said, "is a term often—much too often—used; it is used by some of those people who are in disagreement with the present programme regarding the navy, and I firmly believe that this disagreement arises chiefly through ignorance or want of thought. To a large number of people the beginning and end of a navy is to be reckoned in Dreadnoughts, and also as regards obtaining a fleet all that has to be done is to say, 'We'll have a navy,' and they expect to find a fleet of Dreadnoughts floating on the St. Lawrence next day. That, of course, is a slight exaggeration, but it is the principle on which they work."

After referring to some of the more reckless of the newspaper criticisms of Canada's naval policy, Commander Roper explained the practical utility of the new vessels. "A fleet," said he, "is composed of various classes of ships—namely, battleships, cruisers, torpedo craft, fleet auxiliaries. Briefly, let me say that battleships are the vessels which should bear the brunt of the fighting, and it is an admiralty duty to place his battleships where they will in due course meet those of the enemy. Now, he cannot do this without information, and it is the cruiser's duty to obtain and transmit this intelligence. In other words, battleships without cruisers are like blind men without a guide."

CROWN TAKES ACTION OVER FATAL MISTAKE

Druggist Who Caused Death of Girl Prosecuted Under the Criminal Code.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, Sept. 14.—Acting upon the advice of the attorney-general's department, Crown Attorney Seager has commenced proceedings against Druggist Armstrong, under the criminal code in connection with the death of Margaret Murray last August. Miss Murray, whose home was in Detroit, while on a visit here, bought a quantity of Rochelle salts and was given tartar emetic by mistake, causing her death. Magistrates Baillie and Roberts reserved judgment. The girl's father is suing the druggist in civil court.

ADULT SUCCEUMS TO INFANTILE PARALYSIS

London Lady Expires From the Malady After a Brief Illness.

Infantile paralysis found its first victim in this city this morning, when Mrs. Julia Christopher, wife of Mr. Richard Christopher, a C. P. R. engineer, residing at 540 Adelaide street, succumbed to an attack of but three days' duration.

An epidemic of this complaint broke out in Hamilton, and Toronto a short time ago, and cases in different parts of Canada and the States were reported, but this is the first serious case in London.

A small child on Quebec street is also said to be suffering from an attack.

Mrs. Christopher was in her 38th year, and is survived by her husband, her mother and four sons and two daughters, Harold, Thomas, Richard, Peter, and Madeline and Margaret. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 to St. Mary's Church, where requiem high mass will be sung at 9 o'clock.

NORWICH MAN GOT INTO FIGHT ON MARKET

Mixed Things Up With David Mason and Both Were Gathered in by the Police.

Frank Winters, a burly-looking man, who said he came from Norwich, got into a fight with David Mason on the market this morning a few minutes before police court opened and was gathered in just in time to appear.

Winters had apparently been feeling very good, and as he and Mason stood up side by side in the cage, he proceeded to address Mayor Beattie with a gravity that convulsed everyone in the courtroom.

"No hard feelings," he explained. "None at all. I never knew this man, but I had been having a little of the forbidden juice, you know, and we got into a little fight. It is all over now, and we are good friends. You should let us go. What do you think yourself?"

"That you are not sober yet, and that a rest in jail until tomorrow morning will do you a lot of good," said the court, greatly to Winters' surprise.

But just had a telephone message from my wife a little while ago, and I have a lot of business to look after, and I can't look after it in jail," said Winters.

With Mason, he was led away, still protesting that his wife had telephoned him only a little while before.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

NEW WESTERN FAIR GROUNDS LIKELY TO BE SECURED FOR 1911

Present Site Is Too Small—Military Camp and Fair Grounds Are Likely To Be Consolidated—Dominion Government May Join the Scheme.

The rumors that the Western Fair would change its abode are again revived, and it is now stated that the matter hinges on the surplus for the present year.

The fair board have approximately $14,000 in cash in the bank now, and it is thought by many that if they had a nestegg of say $20,000 cash, they could go ahead and purchase new grounds, and make ready for a big expansion of the Western.

"There is no doubt that the present grounds are inadequate," said one director to The Advertiser today. "To many of us it would be better to purchase new land and erect suitable buildings and a good track. We will have to expend a considerable amount of money on buildings and also on the track next year, and if we took our surplus, added to it the amount we would have to spend on these improvements and sell part of our present property, we could more than erect a modern plant for this purpose."

At Next Meeting.

"I am sure something will be said along these lines at the next annual meeting, and I am quite convinced that there will be some definite action taken."

It is quite probable also that the Dominion Government will be asked to assist in providing more room for the annual camp in the city.

Some of the leading citizens think it would be a proper scheme to have the new fair grounds and the drill grounds together. There would be plenty of room for both, and in that way the finest plot of ground for fair purposes in Ontario could be secured.

At the present time some citizens are working on this scheme, and by Christmas it is expected that something definite will be done.

East London does not want the fair grounds, which kill a big portion of the district for 51 weeks of the year. What they want is a neat park.

12,000 VISITORS BROUGHT IN TO FAIR OVER THE RAILWAYS

Grand Trunk Officials Estimate That About 9,000 People Came to London Over Their Lines—Traction Company Did a Splendid Business Today.

Railroad officials report that today's crowds easily outnumbered those of Wednesday last year, and a conservative estimate of those brought in on all lines is 12,000.

The visitors began arriving early this morning and right up to 1:33 this afternoon when the Grand Trunk train from Stratford came in with a large crowd, they swarmed through the streets, all with one objective point in view—the Western Fair.

Grand Trunk officials estimate that they carried fully 9,000 people.

One of the largest crowds that ever came into the city on a single train came in on the accommodation from the east, and fully 1,100 persons gathered from the territory between London and Brantford were on it. The majority of them went straight to the exhibition grounds from the East London station.

Came in Drove. Another large crowd came in on the Stratford train, and quite a number of visitors were on the through expresses. The Huron and Bruce train brought a big crowd, and the accommodations on the Windsor branch brought in many from that section, and an equally large crowd came in from the Sarnia branch.

The Southwestern Traction Company cars did a splendid business, and estimate the number of passengers they brought in at 2,000. They expect another large crowd tomorrow and also on Friday.

The C. P. R. east and west bound trains all brought in visitors, and C. P. R. officials say they carried 1,500 people for the fair.

Extra Coaches. The Pere Marquette and Michigan Central trains from the south all carried extra coaches, which were well filled.

The one hundred and twenty-five members of Riverside Lodge of Odd-fellows, who are in the city, all took in the fair, and were conspicuous by their badges.

The street railway people state that they are well satisfied with the business they have done since the fair opened, and that the crowds are in excess of those carried last year.

PASTOR EXPIRES FROM STROKE IN PULPIT

Jasper Wilson, Well-Known in Ontario, Succumbs to Paralysis.

[G. N. W. Dispatch.] Leamington, Sept. 14.—Rev. Jasper Wilson, M. A., of Hespeler, Ont., who while in the pulpit preaching the morning sermon at the anniversary services in the Methodist Church last Sunday, was stricken with paralysis, died this morning at 2 o'clock, without ever having regained consciousness.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, who was in his sixtieth year, was a man very highly respected and loved by all who knew him. He was educated in Simcoe High School and Victoria College, from which latter institution he secured the degree of master of arts. Rev. Mr. Wilson has held many prominent positions in the church, and was at one time president of the London Conference. He was a member of the general board of missions for many years, and at the time of his death he was a member of the board of regents and senate of Victoria.

Rev. Mr. Wilson was born in Woodhouse Township, county of Norfolk, in 1851, ordained in 1879, and in the same year married Miss Maggie Cruise, of the township of Walsingham, also in the county of Norfolk. A man of very high standing in the church and socially, he will be greatly missed by his associate church workers. Rev. Mr. Wilson since his ordination has travelled the following circuits: Bosanquet, Brigden, Camlachie, Watford, Exeter, Kingsville, Stratford, Goderich, Ridgeway, Leamington and Hespeler. He was one of the most, if not the most, popular ministers who ever occupied a pulpit in Leamington.

The remains will be taken to Walsingham, Ont., for interment Saturday.

PROF. NILES DEAD. Harmon Niles, professor of geology at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and a widely-known scientist, is dead here at the age of 72 years. He was a member of several scientific bodies and had contributed much to scientific literature.

A MUTILATED BODY. Boston, Sept. 14.—Portions of a mutilated human body were found floating today in the East River. They were wrapped in paper and were floating off 89th street.

A silk handkerchief, with the initial J. and strips of a blue and white shirt in the package were the only clues. The sex was not at once determined.

ACTRESS' BODY WAS CUT UP BY SKILLED HAND SAYS EXPERT

At Resumption of the Crippen Murder Trial Professor Pepper Testifies Mutilated Remains Were Those of a Woman—Accused Appears Cool and Collected But Girl Is On Edge of Collapse.

[Associated Press Cable.] London, Sept. 14.—Testifying at the resumption today of the Crippen murder trial, Prof. Augustus J. Pepper, the pathologist of the University of London, said that his examination had convinced him that the human parts found in the cellar of the Hilldrop Crescent home were severed by a hand skilled in surgery, and directed by a mind that possessed a real knowledge of anatomy.

Crippen Quite Cool. The evidence of the medical experts has been awaited with eagerness, and the famous little court room in Bow street was crowded to its capacity. The prisoners in the dock presented contrasting appearances. Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who is charged as the principal in the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, was seemingly as cool and collected as ever. He did not miss a word of the testimony, and eagerly whispered to his solicitor, Arthur Newton, whenever he detected a point in his favor.

On the other hand, Miss Leneve was wan, and plainly in mental distress. The police authorities had anticipated that the day would be a trying one for her, and accordingly she was attended for the first time in court by a wardress, who sat close to her throughout the proceedings.

The Bones Gone. Professor Pepper was the first witness called by the prosecution. At considerable length he described the examination which he had made of the parts, and set forth his conclusions.

Witness said that he had identified pieces of flesh as belonging to various parts of the body, except the head, hands, forearms, feet and legs below the knees. He could say that the members found were undoubtedly from a female body. No bones were discovered nor was there any trace of the genital organs.

The whole viscera was present intact, and the only wound was a cut in the upper part of the windpipe. Other parts were left undisturbed by the one who did the cutting, and the way in which the parts had been handled showed a knowledge of surgery.

Professor Pepper said that the hair discovered included a short strand of fair texture wrapped up in a handkerchief of the kind commonly used by men. The witness identified particularly a piece of flesh six by seven inches in size as coming from the abdominal wall and which bore a scar which, in his opinion, was undoubtedly left by a wound from an operation.

Under cross-examination, Professor Pepper admitted that he had been unable to establish the sex anatomically. This was considered of great importance to the defence, as it had been generally believed that although certain organs had been purposely removed to hide the identity of the victim that evidence would be introduced to establish the fact that the body was that of a woman.

The witness explained that he meant he could not identify the sex anatomically. He was closely questioned by Newton, who tried to make out that what appeared as a scar might be merely an overlapping of the skin.

"That suggestion is fantastic," retorted the professor.

WALTER TUNE HAS A PRETTY BILL TO PAY

Glencoe Man Finds Celebrating in London a Little Costly.

Walter Tune, the young barber who came down from Glencoe last week to celebrate, and in the course of his festivities, managed to cut himself through a big plate glass window, and cut himself up badly, was told this morning, when he appeared before Mayor Beattie at the police court, that as he was celebrating, he had to pay a bill of $15 for attendance at Victoria Hospital, and $6 to the physician who attended him, he might go. Tune said he would settle up at once, and the matter was arranged between him and Police Court Clerk Moule.

"INSURGENT" STORM SWEEPS WASHINGTON

Old Guard of Republican Party Routed For Nominations.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 14.—In the "insurgent" storm that swept over the State of Washington yesterday, the "Old Guard" of the Republican party lost everything. Miles Poindexter, of Spokane, an insurgent leader in the present House, was nominated for United States senator by 40,000 plurality, carrying every county in the state, defeating his leading opponent, Judge Thomas Burke, of Seattle, in Burke's own precinct, and carrying Pierce County, the home of the other regular candidate, James M. Ashton.

Two and probably three of the insurgents were nominated for Congress. In the first congressional district there were four insurgent candidates. In King County, William E. Humphrey, "Stand Patter" Republican, was defeated by Thomas P. R. Valle. In the second, or Tacoma district, Congressman W. W. McCredie, owner of the Portland Baseball Club, and a "Stand Patter," was beaten by Stanton Warburton, insurgent, a Tacoma lawyer. In the third, or Spokane district, Wm. LaFollette, of Pullman, insurgent, a cousin of the Wisconsin senator, was nominated.

PREMIER TO REST. Ottawa, Sept. 14.—It is probable that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will leave Ottawa at the end of the week to spend a few days at Arthursville. Earl Grey is expected to spend most of the remainder of this month in the city of Quebec.

TODAY'S PROBS. The East—Light to moderate winds; fine and comparatively cool.

Lake Superior—Moderate westerly to southwesterly winds; fine; stationary or a little higher temperature.

All West—Fine and moderately warm.
