"Patronize Home Industries"

Is a phrase that has been worked to death of late, but the advice is good—patronizing home industries has been the secret of Seattle's success, and by patronizing home industries a self-contained and prosperous community like Victoria and its tributary territory should fear no business rival.

THE GODS HELP THOSE WHO HELP THEMSELVES.

It is well enough to call on high heaven to witness that locally made goods SHOULD be patronized—if you have confidence in your own production and are really reaching out for new trade, tell the people so and let them know what you have to sell. Cease generalizing and get down to particulars. Read the following as a commentary on the attempt to "boost" Victoria-made goods:

A Letter to the Editor. MORE LIGHT WANTED.

Sir-With regard to the recent agitation for the "boosting" of home manufactures, the experience mentioned below may be timely:

As a recent arrival in this city, and in the course of house furnishing, I had occasion to purchase a range, and after a visit to several of the local dealers, selected a range made by an Eastern firm, which has since proved quite satisfactory. Several months later, and in connection with the display of home products, made by local merchants, on Victoria Day, I WAGE EARNER.
