DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

ASK THOSE WHO USE IT.

Wrigley spent $3,000,000 a year to tell the public theirs is the gum to chew.

Ford spends $6,000,000 to tell his Ford story.

The electric light and power industry spends more than $1,000,000 flashing the kilowatt hourly message.

Campbells are coming across with $1,500,000 to say they sell succulent soup.

Electric railway companies ring up about $2,500,000 for advertising trolley rides.

Colgate assert to the tune of some $1,155,000, that their shaving soap, etc., produces the smile that won't erase.

Proctor & Gamble are still convincing the abolitionist that Ivory soap to make that conviction stick.

Gas companies talk more than $2,000,000 worth through advertising channels.

One of Victor's most telling talking machines is its advertising which costs $1,142,000.

Telephone companies have busy advertising lines with an estimated toll of $1,500,000. Along each line sounds the voice with a smile.

Does advertising pay? The answer is to be found in America's business, commercial and industrial trend.

INTERESTING PHENOMENA AT RATTILING BEACH, DIGBY.

Sounds Like Distance Orchestra Emitted From Play of Water on Stones of Varying Size—Matter Referred to Smithsonian Institute by Correspondent.

To the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute,

Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:—I have read with interest a clipping about "Singing Sands" which is before you to solve. As you will see from my letter head I can tell you of a similar case.

Rattiling Beach inside the Digby Gut faces east, having a clear stretch of water for twenty miles up the basin to Annapolis.

The beach gets its name from the many small and large rocks formed by continuous action of the tide (25 feet). They form a succession of different layers, the smaller ones above average high water mark, the medium or larger stones below. These latter are flat and rounded on the edges.

I have lived here for close on to twenty years, nine of the latter continuously, great storms have come and gone. It is a frequent occurrence that in great storms when the tide recedes, the stones are brought into action and the sounds produced resemble an orchestra at a distance.

Many times at night, when I lay awake, my mind and thought following the sound which is imposing, I could almost imagine the parts of a Wagner opera.

While I have never heard of SINGING SANDS, it might be possible that they contain some rocks and gravel. A house will moan and creak in storms or emit snapping noises when great cold waves come. A little imagination always helps. I am thinking if people in New York were not too busy making and losing money but could sit quiet and think as I do here, they would not alone hear moaning but the fierce calls of a big zoo.

CARIBOU MORE PLENTIFUL.

N. B. Guides Support Protective Hunting Methods.

Frederick—Caribou are coming back to New Brunswick says the chief game warden of the province. This is regarded as a testimony to the protective methods employed by guides, who are more and more coming to be regarded an ex-officio wardens, and who are well aware that the best means of protecting their livelihood is to see that hunting of big game is not carried to excess.

A further indication of the development of hunting in the province is given in the figures of moose and deer shot in 1924. Five hundred more moose and 1,500 more deer were killed in 1924 than in 1923, the record being 1,511 moose and 3,895 deer in 1924. These figures are remarkable for the fact that last year was not as good a hunting season as 1923.

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

Little children quickly get out of sorts but by prompt treatment they can just as quickly be set right again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach and bowels; that is why a good clearing out is the first thing the doctor prescribes. Mothers, why not let Baby's Own Tablets keep your children well, unlike that ill-smelling, rank tasting castor oil so dreaded by most children, the Tablets are pleasant to take and their action, though thorough, is gentle and causes no discomfort to either the baby or the growing child. Baby's Own Tablets are a never failing remedy for relieving constipation and indigestion; thus they break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms and make the teething period painless. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

POST IS SARCASTIC.

Washington Paper Kidenles Customs Suggestions.

Washington—The Washington Post edited by Colonel George Harvey, former Ambassador to London, indulges in sarcasm at the trouble which has been stirred up by the ruling of United States customs appraisers as to marking every item in bundles of shingles, laths and so forth imported from Canada. Referring to the job ahead of shippers and inspectors in Boston if every article on the steamer Wimmer has to be tagged the Post says this work promises to be tedious. It calls the finding a nuisance and asks what will happen if the ruling is applied to a shipment of a few millions of pins.

"If this decision of the appraisers stands," says the Post, "there will be a lot of pinhead work for a lot of people."

OBITUARY.

Frank L. Moore.

L. Annapolis—The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, March 22, of Frank L. Moore, the beloved and oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore, with interment in Fair View cemetery. Though not twelve years of age until August 25th, he was preparing to enter high school next year. On March 6th he contracted scarlet fever and though everything was done that medical attention and loving care could do, it was impossible to combat the disease. Rev. Harry Rackham conducted the funeral service. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing family in their bereavement.

TO PRESERVE TREES

ON SALMON RIVERS

Provincial Measure Before House Specifies Zone Three Chains Wide.

Quebec—Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of lands and forests, has brought down a measure to the effect that: "The Lieutenant-governor in council may, whenever it shall be deemed advisable, reserve on the recommendation of the minister of lands and forests, a zone of three chains in width, on each side of any salmon river which is or may be under lease from the province within which no tree shall be cut without a special permit from the minister of lands and forests. This reserve shall apply only to that part of the main rivers where the salmon run and shall not apply to the tributaries thereof."

On the Crown lands not yet leased no trees shall be cut in a zone of three chains in width, along and on each side of streams and around lakes, even if such lands are afterwards leased or conveyed by any title whatsoever, without a special permit granted by the minister of lands and forests, upon the conditions he may see fit to impose.

"Lumbermen may, however, establish, in such protection zone, roads, camps and landings, which are customary in their lumbering operations. "In the case of lands submerged through the erection of dams, the zone of three chains shall start from the border of the ground where the trees have perished as a result of the submergence."

"At places where the rise in the ground is very pronounced, the Lieutenant-governor in council on the recommendation of the minister of lands and forests, may at his discretion, increase the width of the protecting zone to maintain a sufficient density of the forest situated on such a delicacy to meet the requirements of these provisions."
