STOCKING AND CUPBOARD EMPTY MAKE COLD CHRISTMAS CHEER

World Good Fellows Are Helping to Bring Happiness Into Many Homes Where Sant a Claus Forgets to Call—Send Your Name in at Once.

Did it strike you when you left your comfortable home yesterday morning and felt the temperature of 8 above zero, or 24 degrees of frost, how bitter it must be for a child to have to go out on a morning like that poorly clad and almost empty-stomached to school?

There are thousands of children in this city who are in this position, today, and if this weather continues there will be a large number more. What kind of a Christmas is in store for these kiddles who, thru no fault of their own, will wake up on Dec. 25 to find not only empty stocking, Young but empty stove and empty cupboard? Let us see that there are but few of these cases in Toronto. Become a World Good Fellow, and see that at least one child is well cared for this

Send in your name at once, for the time is fast drawing in. "Peace on Earth—Good Will to Men" might be interpreted in the wentieth-century Christmas giving to mean:

More Letters and Packages Sent Out Than Ever Before.

MONDAY IS LAST DAY

Christmas Mail for Britain Cannot Be Sent After That Day.

The heaviest Christmas mail for the old country that has ever left this city went out from Toronto last night and will be carried by the C. P. R. liner Empress of Ireland, which leaves St.

It is not yet too late to send mail from here that will arrive in the old country for Christmas delivery. The last consignment of British mail from Canada is to be carried by the Royal Line steamship Royal George, which leaves St. John for Bristol on Tues-day. The Toronto mail for this steam-closes at 11 a.m. Monday. Monday morning will positively be e last date on which parcels for aristmas delivery in Britain may be sailed in Toronto. New Record Made.

Postmaster Rogers stated to The World last night that this year had already established a record for the arrount of Christmas mail leaving Toronto for the old country. This applied both to letters and package mail. Despite the money tightness, the latter was far ahead of last Christmas. The postoffice department here were much better able to handle the mail than other years, owing to the fact that the building secured on Lombard street was being used. A large staff street was being used. A large staff, who are working solely on old country mail, have been stationed in the new Lombard street annex.

The postmaster also stated that a far larger staff of men for handing the Christmas mails had been secured by the postoffice this year than ever before.

TAMPICO BATTLE MAY TURN SCALE

Official Washington Keenly Interested in Outcome of Rebel Attack.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 .- (Canadian Press.)—The fighting at Tampico, a Mexican seaport of strategic import ance was recognized by administration officials here as likely to have a considerable effect on the immediate progress of the revolution. The possession of a port where munitions of war could be landed safely from abroad, as well as the revenues that would be acquired thru the collection of customs receipts there, would greatly aid the constitutionalist cause in the clean onstitutionalist cause, in the view of the officials.

Reports of the fighting received here meagre, but those received at the navy department showed that the constitutionalists were making an aggressive attack. Secretary Bryan conferred during the day with Secretary Daniels over despatches from Rear-Admiral Fletther, and both seemed confident that Americans and other foreigners would not be endangered.
