IN

UPPER CANADA.

UPPER Canada contains many millions of acres of fertile unoccupied land, with a climate suited to all agricultural pursuits. It possesses the same manners, nearly the same laws, and the same constitution, as England; and, speaking comparatively, it has not yet developed to the mother-country even a small portion of its resources.

The first of the following sketches proposes to place in independence an almost unlimited number of the people, now subsisting by parochial relief; and to employ productively, for a few years only, the capital expended in the
