Many there were who thought he had spent himself, but the answer was soon forthcoming, when, about the middle of the round, he tore after Kearns, backed him into his own corner, and uppercut him several times. Then, as the soldier was jumping wide, Willard flung out his left. The blow Banded on the chin, and quick as a flash the giant turned and swung his right. This time Kearns was caught fair and square on the point of the chin, and it was all over.

Fight fans should breathe a sigh of relief. Jim Jeffries has decided that he will not tackle Luther McCarty if the Nebraska giant wins the white championship of the world on New Year's Day. Jeff was telling a party of friends in Los Angeles the other day what a bright future was ahead of McCarty, and someone asked him. "If McCarty should become champion, would you ever go back in the ring and fight him?" "Well, I should say not," replied Jeff. "Not for any money." You can say for me that I am done for ever with boxing."

Fighting Dick Hyland went down to defeat before Pal Brown at Calgary on Christmas Day. Hyland was knocked off his feet twice—in the tenth and fourteenth rounds. The first time he got up quickly, but the second he remained down while the referee counted eight. The profits of the bout, amounting to about $540, were given over to charity.

Acknowledged to be a yard and a half better than any system of getting away from the mark which has ever been used, the "crouch," when, properly used, has the advantage over the standing style of enabling a man to shold his mark for a greater period, get a stronger push-away, and get into his running quicker.

Tecumsehs Prepare For Canadien Game

Indians Expect Hard Battle With Kennedy's Crew, But Are

Tecumsehs were out again yesterday norning and none of them looked any the worse for their game Saturday night. Billy is still confident and believes that luck was an important item in their defeat. George Lake of Haileybury turned up at the practice and he looked as if he might be able to hold down centre. Lake is a newspaper man and he played for Haileybury about three years ago. Ed. Longfellow, who was released by the Torontos, was also out to practice and as he has quite a lot of speed, he may be a handy man, as the Indians at present need a lot more. He narrowly missed being seriously injured when Liffiton checked him against the door on the east side of the rink, which gave way under him and he was thrown on the steps. Luckily his head missed the corner, but he landed on his shoulder and received a heavy shock. Nicholson succeeded in stopping one with his eyebrow and it was necessary to put two stitches in it. The Indians are after Fryer of Collingwood and Mulroy of Owen Sound; besides Boyer of Kingston, who was with the Alerts may also join them. luck was an important item in their de

GRAND CIRCUIT TROTTING DATES

Fort Erie and Grand Rapids Are in Tangle That Stewards Must Straighten

Dodson, the man who stands behind the light harness sport in that city. Mr. Dodson says that the Association of Commerce has assured him of sufficient funds to guarantee Grand Circuit racing, and that efforts to secure suitable dates in the Grand Circuit will be made.

Just what the stewards will do and then the Stewartons were to tring to the tring out to be wrong, but when New Edinburgh downed the Stewartons they received another setback, for the orange and black boys were called to walk away with the Interprovincial championship. Anyway, the Burghs were able to score, which is something, after the attempts they made here. Ottawa pros. were touted to win, also.

A scoreboard is to be erected today, as, owing to the numerous goals scored from offiside, the public had a lot of trouble in following the score.

Torontos ought to win at Ottawa Wednesday night, as the Bytown boys did not show very much. Roy McGiffen and Sue McLean got their first chance on Saturday night, and accounted for three out of the five goals scored. Pretty good for spares, the former netting two, while Sue on a lone rush just before time scored the last tally.

The Parole Clause.

The indeterminate sentence and the parole clauses have passed beyond the experimental stage. They have justified themselves, and there is no reason why the saving grace of the parole should not be made to apply to penal institutions as a whole. At present those who do not come under its provisions have little to work for except the commutation in their sentences, and many who have committed crimes similar to those committed by later inmates have seen them come and go, while they are compelled to serve the last day of the time the court has prescribed for them. If, under favorable conditions, a number of these can be released, it seems only right and just that they should be. All should be placed on an equal footing,—Philadelphia Inquiry.
