LIGHTNING CAUSES MORE FOREST FIRES IN WESTERN STATES

Hundreds of Acres of Valuable Timber Consumed by Flames.

THOUSANDS FIGHTING FIRE

High Wind Overcomes Temporary Advantage Gained in Same Areas.

San Francisco, July 24.—Much of the Pacific northwest was under a pall of smoke from grass forest fires burning today in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Lightning was responsible for a number of new blazes reported, and high wind in many places overcame the temporary advantage, brought about by the slight rainfall which accompanied the thunderstorms, to the thousands of fire fighters who have been for weeks waging an almost ceaseless struggle against the flames.

In Western Montana and Northern Idaho, according to forest officials, there San Francisco, July 24.—Much of the Pacific northwest was under a pall of Idaho, according to forest officials, there have been 612 fires since June 10. About 2,500 men are employed in fighting the fires in that territory. A change in the wind last night brought temporare in the wind last hight brought temporary safety to the little town of St. Regis, Montanal which, for several days, had been threatened by fires on three sides. The most serious fire, to the north of St. Regis, covered an area of thirty miles in circumference.

Three crews of 300 men each, were fighting a fire along a fifteen-mile from in the Blackfeet forest, adjoining Glacier National on the west. It had covered 15,000 acres, and the only hope of extinguishing it was said to be in a heavy rainfall.

MANDATED AREAS TO GET PREFERENCE IN TRADE WITH BRITAIN

Hon. Austen Chamberlain Carries Point in Debate On Finance Bill.

London, July 24.—Hon, Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, concluded the debate on the third reading of the finance bill, Wedgewood Benn ing of the mance hill, weagewood bein moved its rejection on the ground that it initiated a system of colonial preference. J. J. Wilson also objected to the extension of a preference to mandated territories. Mr. Chamberlain, in reply, territories. Mr. Chamberlain, in reply declared that it was not proposed tha declared that it was not proposed that we take for ourselves in a mandated country an advantage which was not open to any other members of the league of nations, but in respect to the mandatories' relationships we would give them in our markets something we did not give to all the world outside. (Cheers.) We contemplated favoring import into this country of goods from mandated territories. We were not securing any selfish advantage for ourselves in the markets of mandated territory and were not doing for the produce of the mandated country anything which any other nation might not do in its own market if it so pleased. If this budget was referred to in the future with any word of praise or commendation it would be because for the first time it established the principle of imperial preference by legislative act.

Mr. Benn's motion was rejected on a vote of 215 to 48. ote of 215 to 48.

London. July 24.—The pumping situation in the Yorkshire mines to day was pronounced satisfactory, with the exception of one important mine. Two hundred sailors are now manning the mine pumps without interference. Sir Eric Geddes, minister without portfolio, who is on the spot representing the Government, has received satisfactory replies from the lord mayors of Leeds and other municipalities, whom he and other municipalities, whom he and other municipalities, whom he asked yesterday to see that the supply of coal was economized. The supply at Leeds is virtually exhausted, and the outlook for householders is serious. All mines in the North Staffordshire district, which were idle yesterday because of the strike, resumed operations today.

London, July 24.—The executive of miners' federation met Premier Lloyd George and other members of the government this morning in an ef-lort to settle the dispute in the York-shire coaffields. Tre premier was at-tended by Sir Auckland Geddes, minister Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, minister of labor, and officials of the coal labor department of the board of trade.

Before entering the conference one of the representatives of the miners said:

King Is Anxious To Bestow High Honor On Lloyd George

British Premier May Receive Knighthood of the Garter.

London, July 24.-King George is eager to bestow an honor on Premier Lloyd George in recognition of his services in the war, and at the peace conference, and the form the honor is to take is being discussed in court circles. says the Mirror. Premier Lloyd George would not accept a peerage, the newspaper asserts, while Knighthood of the Garter, which is the highest honor in the sovereign's gift, is practically confined to peers, although an exception fined to peers, although an exception was made in the case of Sir Edward Grey in 1912. The Mirror suggests that if the Grey precedent is followed, some special honor may be created:

THIEVING SHOWS INCREASE SINCE PEACE IN BRITAIN

London, July 23.—Thieving has increased immeasurably throughout England since the end of hostilities, and has taken on many novel forms. Recently, two large oil paintings were stolen from the wall of a country house in Sevenoaks, a Kent village. The owners had invited a distinguished party to vited a distinguished party to view the pictures, but when they entered the temporary gallery there were no pictures. One picture was a half length portrait of Queen Elizabeth painted in 1690, and the other of a man filling his pipe, also a large canvas.

Detroit, July 24.—There is reason in all things, and a limit, even in the brevity of a gown at the neck. So thought Miss Lulu Bennett, who was in Justice Theodore J. Richter's court yesterday to appear against Louis Stoller, a tailor at 360 Hastings Street.

Detroit, July 24.—There is reason in the peace conference.

A Vienna dispatch under date of July 21 said that the Vienna newspapers reported the downfall of Bela Kun and the taking over of power by a triumvirate composed of Varga, former minister of social protection, Moses Alpary and Tiber Szmaluy.

When Lulu received her gown from Stoller and had tried it on she decided that it extended too far south. She took it back and asked that Louis alter it to the extent at least of a quarter of an inch more dress extending in a northerly direction.

Louis, said Miss Bennett, declined to do so, and she sued him. The court awarded her judgment of $25.

"The idea of me wearing that," said Miss Bennett in court. "Why it made me look as if I were in a bathing suit."
