OFF THE SCORE BOARDS

Oldham saved the Tigers from another beating, when he shut the Browns out, 5 to 0. Sister brought his total hits up to 100, when he got three yesterday.

The Phillies took the National cellar by storm yesterday, when they lost to the Reds. Neale again got into trouble, this time with the spectators. The score was 5 to 3.

Adam's weakening in the fifth gave the Dodgers the necessary five runs to put the Pirates out of the game by a 6-to-2 score.

Three Cub pitchers failed to stop the Giants making a break from the lower rung of the National League, the New Yorkers taking the last game of the series, 3 to 1.

Three errors by the Braves, coupled with slow work gave the Cardinals a 7-to-4 victory in the last game of the series.

Akron took the Orioles into camp by silencing a five-run rally in the fifth inning. The game was called in the sixth, with the score 5 to 4.

The Marines made a clean sweep of the series by defeating the Bisons, 4 to 2. It was the sixth straight win for Reading, and put Buffalo into third place.

Toronto squared away its debts yesterday by walking into second place, and in only four points behind Baltimore for the honor. The reason was the unlucky stepping stone, being on the short end of a 6-to-1 tally.

Rochester split the series with the Skeeters by dropping yesterday's game, 2 to 1.

BALL TEAM GUESTS OF

LOEW'S MANAGEMENT

The ball club occupied a box at Loew's last night, guests of the management, and in recognition of their splendid work while away on the recent trip, and more especially their 20-inning victory at Hamilton.

ARROWS WIN.

Wellington Street Methodist Church boys were defeated by the South London Arrows in a basketball game of basketball on Thursday night. Wright, who did the hurling for the winners, allowed only two men to reach first base. The final score was 9 to 6.

BELTS BLAMED FOR MANY HUMAN ILLS

Cincinnati, June 24.—That the universal American habit of suspending the trousers by means of a belt is doing much damage, was asserted by Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, of Cincinnati, former president of the American Medical Association, at the university commencement here today.

"The number of men, and young men, too, who are either semi-invalids or real invalids as a result of disturbances of the stomach and intestines is already alarming and every physician knows that such cases are rapidly increasing," asserted Dr. Reed. "Not many years ago," he continued, "the same fact applied to women and was justly attributed to the constriction of the waist by the corset as then worn. But the attire of women in all particulars, especially in this particular, is now much more hygienic than that of men. The unconstricted waist today imparts to women not only a grace and suppleness but a degree of health that may well be the envy of the so-called sterner sex. The trouble is with the tightly worn belt. The natural result of squeezing the abdomen at waist line is to force the stomach, intestines, liver and other organs downward out of place. When this is done, indigestion, constipation and biliousness result. In their train come headache, nervousness, mental depression and inefficiency. In over 1,000 consecutive cases of epilepsy careful X-ray examination has showed the existence of such displacements. It is not asserted that all belt wearers have these troubles, or that belt wearing is the only cause of them, but it is claimed that the habit tends both to cause them when they do not exist and to aggravate them when they already exist."

ST. THOMAS MAY LOSE ST. ANDREW'S MARKET IF SITE IS NOT USED

Property Deeded For Market Place Now a Dumping Ground.

RECKLESS DRIVING

London Chauffeur To Face Several Charges Following Joy Ride.

ST. THOMAS, June 24.—Old St. Andrew's market is still the layout place for remnants of old buildings and the resurrected brick from Talbot street. A request will go to the council at its next meeting to have the market officially closed so that the grounds may be re-invested in trustees who would have the area cleaned up and made into a park.

A refusal to pass the moiety of interest which the corporation holds now will, the promoters say, bring about the vesting of the property in the personal representatives of the late J. O. Kaine, who held it in trust for those contributing to the founding of the market place. Failing to use the grounds for market purposes, which has now taken place, the corporation loses its right to use or occupy the lands.

OTHER CHARGES AGAINST STORIE.
The London chauffeur, George Storie, who pleaded guilty and was fined $47 this morning for a serious contravention of the O. T. A., may now be prosecuted by Inspector Ross for being intoxicated in a public place. Storie will also be summoned before City Magistrate Maxwell for the destruction of a wire fence in Pinaford Park and driving recklessly among the crowd on the baseball diamond. There were three companions with Storie and they all appeared satisfied with the scenery, although at times in danger of killing themselves or maiming somebody else.

BROKE HIS LEG.

FRED KING FINED.
Fred King of Aylmer, a county constable, was fined $20 and costs today on a charge of assaulting James Beasly on April 22, 1920. The fight took place over the interference of Beasly with King's dog, which Beasly ordered out of the warehouse of the Farmers' Co-operative Society, Aylmer. An exchange of blows and compliments followed.

The interment will be in the Lake Road Cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Superintendent Clark has erected a number of signboards in the park warning folks to keep on the middle of the road, when driving on the floral-decked avenues.

SAYS PEARLS GROW AND BREED YOUNG

Governor of Borneo Tells of Increase in Numbers.

Chicago, June 24.—Sir Ernest Birch, former governor of Borneo, has started England by a statement that pearls are alive and breed and increase in size and number.

"I found a bag of seed pearls, all about the size of a pin-head in Borneo in 1891," said Sir Ernest. "I did not value them much, and packed them away. Five years later Lady Birch happened upon them, and was surprised to find that they had grown in size and number. She had the larger ones set in a locket and the smaller ones in a bag and found enough large pearls to make two strands of necklaces of 250 pearls. Again we tied up the pearls in the bag with grains of rice for food. Four more years elapsed, and the pearls were found again to have increased in size and number. We selected 32 to set around in a miniature and 16 were added to another necklace, and then there were still 5,000 small pearls left, which I have again put away to multiply and grow in size."

P. R. de Sousa came out later in a statement bolstering Sir Ernest's story. "I had Malay boys as my playmates in the Straits Settlements," he said, "and we used to breed seed pearls in match boxes, in which we placed rice and cotton wool. These breeding pearls do not belong to the oyster species, but come from a different source altogether, although I do not know what that source is."

Dr. Frederick Kunz, one of the foremost authorities on pearls in the United States, says it is impossible for pearls to breed or increase in size after once taken from the shell. "Such legends have been in the Orient for centuries," said Dr. Kunz. "But investigation has always proved them false. Baroque pearls are made up of a number of smaller pearls and sometimes some of these smaller pearls become detached from the composite group, and lead credulous persons to believe that the pearls have increased in number. Pearls are among the most expensive and valuable gems, but the world will have to continue to depend upon the oyster for their supply."

WATCH GOOD COMPASS TO FIND WAY IN WOODS

Port Arthur, June 24.—What would you do to find your way if you were lost in a forest without a compass? F. C. Armstrong, sportsman and representative of the Canadian National Railway at Cochrane, Ont., in the heart of the summer tourist camping and fishing country, asked the question. How would you tell north from south, east from west? Remember that in the summer months the sun does not rise in the east or set in the west. How, then, would you orientate yourself? It's easy if you know how. "Lay your watch flat, face upward," said Armstrong. "Point the hour hand at the sun. The south will be at a point half way between the hour hand and the figure 12 as the hands turn in the morning, and backward in the afternoon."

So if you go after muskellunge this summer in the Rainy River or Lake of the Woods region, be certain to take your watch with you.
