Fables On Health

GUARD AGAINST IT!

THE trouble with a lot of parents is that they try so hard to protect their children from some of the hardships they themselves went through that the kids never really get initiated into life.

This was what the family doctor pointed out to Mr. Mann of Anytown one day when they were talking about children and parents.

There is a great tendency upon the part of parents who have had a hard time of it in youth to throw too much of a fence about their offspring. So carefully guarded are many of these children that they have no opportunity to engage in the ordinary play so necessary to youth. This is a grave mistake and one that will result more or less seriously.

The parents were, in all probability, reared on plain foods. But not for their youngsters! The second generation finds his platter surrounded with the great varieties of food made possible by present day shipping conditions.

And yet many wonder why the children do not grow up to be as sturdy as the parents. The answer is simple: too much indulgence! Guard against this!

There are 50,000 Smiths, 40,000 Johnsons and 28,000 Browns recorded in Uncle Sam's finger print department at Washington. The prints were taken from men enlisting in the army.

THE TRAVELER CLOCK.

"What clock shall we fix next?" asked Nick.

Tick Tock looked in his little book and ran his finger down the pages. Then he stopped when he came to a certain name, and read it carefully.

"The little traveler clock is out of order," said the fairy. "The Fairy Queen says it needs a good cleaning—that's all. Come on. I know where it lives. It lives in a little leather case in the trunk of a man who travels all over the world. He has no real home, but stays in a hotel in the city."

So off to the city went the three adventures and down a wide street. Although it was night, the street was as bright as day, because of the street lights and the gay shop windows.

"Here's the hotel," said Tick Tock, pointing. "The traveler clock is on the tenth floor up, third window to the right."

"How do you know?" asked Nancy, doubtfully.

"Humph! How do I know anything? Do fairies ever make mistakes? I even says in my book that Mister Trotter is a sound sleeper, so that's sure too! Mister Trotter is the traveler who owns the traveler clock."

"Of course it would be a traveler clock when a traveler owns it and it travels all the time," said Nick.

"Much you know!" sniffed Tick Tock contemptuously. "Why a traveler could own a hundred clocks and take them with him every single place he went to, but still they wouldn't be called traveler clocks. A traveler clock is a clock made specially for traveling. There are two kinds. One kind is made of glass all over except a brass top. It fits down into a thick leather case, but can be lifted out and set on the mantel. The other kind is round like a watch. It is of leather, too, and can be sort of propped up when it isn't folded flat. This clock we are going to see, is the first kind. All glass and brass and as square as domino sugar."

Blue-jay is the delightful way to end a corn. A tiny cushion, cool as velvet, fits over the corn—relieving the pressure. The pain stops at once. Soon the corn goes. Blue-jay leaves nothing to guess-work. You do not have to decide how much or how little to put on. Back downy plaster is a complete standardized treatment, with just the right amount of the magic medication to end the corn.

The dainty woman does not KEEP Corns

Almost every woman spends hours every week in the care of her face—cold-creaming it, cleansing it, massaging it, to guard against the tiniest blemish. . . . But that doesn't prove her daintiness. It may merely indicate pride and vanity. . . . The real proof of perfect daintiness is the care a woman takes of the things that are not seen. . . . A blemish on her foot is as objectionable to her as one on her face. The moment a corn appears, she applies a Blue-jay. At once the pain goes, in 48 hours the corn goes too.

Scratches—even tiny ones—catch the dirt and make the brass, nickel or copper wear harder to clean next time. Bon Ami absorbs all the grime and tarnish, and polishes to a glistening luster without the slightest scratching.

Just sprinkle the fine powder or rub the Bon Ami Cake on a damp cloth. (Never use the cake direct.) Then apply the soft lather. When the lather dries, a few rubs with a clean, dry cloth will instantly bring back the mirror-like sheen.

Bon Ami cleans and polishes dozens of things about the house with the same wonderful ease. Note the list above. And Bon Ami never reddens or roughens your hands.
