ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Tablet in Memory of Wm. Pagan —James Jack President—Celebration on Nov. 29

Consideration was given at the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society last night at Christadelphian hall, to the proposal to erect a tablet or monument in St. Andrew's church to the memory of Hon.
William Pagan, first president of the society, who was elected to office in 1788.
The idea was suggested by one of the members and was received with general sympathy.

The greater part of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of the matter and several plans were set forth. At the conclusion of the discussion a committee was appointed to deal with the suggestion.

This committee will report back to the society.

The first part of the meeting was taken up with routine business. Reports of the officers were presented showing the activity to be in a flourishing condition. Following is the outline of the report of the treasurer:

Nov. 1, 1911, due to treasurer..... $272.82
Nov. 1, 1912, received during year..... 1,241.62 Paid out during year..... 1,118.46 Due to treasurer..... 222.00

Funds Belonging to Society.

Nov. 1, 1912, due to treasurer..... $222.00
General fund..... 6,178.03 Donation fund..... 5,032.59
Building fund..... 940.87

Total.....$12,274.30

After the reports had been presented, the election of officers took place, resulting in the following:

President, James Jack; 1st vice-president, Alexander Macaulay; 2nd vice-president, Andrew Malcolm; treasurer, John White; historian, Alexander Wilson; secretary, F. W. Fraser; chaplain, Rev. Gordon Dickie; marshals, Charles W. Bell, Errol Innes; committee on charity, Dr.

P. R. Innes, Alexander McMillan, Francis
F. Burpee.

It was decided to observe the Feast of St. Andrew by a Scottish night. Friday, Nov. 29, when an entertainment and dance will be given. Applications for membership were received from eleven candidates, among the number W. Burton Stewart.

A resolution of appreciation of the late George Robertson and of regret at his death moved by J. Roy Campbell and seconded by Judge Forbes was adopted and a copy will be sent to Mrs. Robertson. A committee of Alexander Law, J. Roy Campbell and A. Gordon Leavitt was appointed to prepare resolutions of regret and appreciation of other members deceased during the year. An interesting incident of the meeting was the presentation to the society by R. G. Wallace of a history of the North British Society, of Halifax.

After the election there were several speeches made by the officers. There were also patriotic speeches in which the proposed memorial tablet to William Pagan was introduced. The president, James Jack, also touched on the history of the organization.

Immediately after the meeting, all the members present numbering nearly 50, were entertained at a banquet in Bond's restaurant by James Jack. He presided, and the guests enjoyed smoking and a programme of Scotch music. Interverted between the musical selections were toasts and speeches. Among those who contributed to the programme were: F. McKean, solo; F. C. MacNeill, solo; Rev. L. A. Mac-leay, solo; Messrs. Stewart and Gibson, selections on bagpipes; Archibald Dunn, solo.

Powers, who owns a large farm near Farm-quired in growing them, from the planting of the seed to the harvesting.

An absent-minded man entered the cabinet of a ferry-boat smoking a cigar. "You can't smoke here, sir," said an irascible passenger; "this is the ladies' cabin." The gentleman replied: "I beg your pardon; I ought to have known that this was not the gentlemen's cabin when I saw you here."

KING'S COLLEGE REPORT

Congratulations on Recovery of Bishop Richardson — Bishop Kingdon Memorial—Next Meeting in Fredericton on First Tuesday of November, 1913

The Church of England Synod concluded its business last evening.

In the afternoon the question of a missionary chaplain for the deanery of St.
John was brought before the members.

The synod admitted the need of such an official, and adopted the recommendation that steps in that direction be taken.

His Lordship pointed out that the growth of St. John required some preparation in advance and he recommended that instead of waiting until the time be ripe they should be prepared before hand, and even now it might not be inadvisable to secure a lot at Courtenay Bay, where the missionaries would undoubtedly be needed within the next five years.

The King's College report evoked warm praise of that institution and the report showed the progress that had been made in recent years. The synod called for the hearty co-operation on the part of the clergy and laity in support of the work of the college.

In 1910 the number of students enrolled was 42, in 1911, 49, and this fall we begin our year's work with 86 on the college register. In 1910 we had accommodation for 26 students and one professor in residence. The addition of the president's house to the college buildings in 1911 enabled us to accommodate 32 students and two professors, but the evident interest in King's became so apparent that the board of governors at their annual meeting in May decided, on my urgent request, to add a new wing to cost $10,000 and to give accommodation for seventeen students and one professor, and also to have three up-to-date lecture rooms. This building is now complete and is fully occupied. Dr.
Hunt and seventeen students are living in the first, with lecture rooms and laboratories. The basement affords an admirable room 36 feet by 32 feet and eight and a half feet high, well lighted and ventilated, for a workshop and, through the generosity of a friend of the university in Toronto, it is to be fully equipped with necessary machinery and power.

The college has, under its improved condition, room for 52 men and two professors in residence, and it will be gratifying to you to know that every room in college is occupied.

Convocation Hall is being put into first-class condition at a cost of about $1,200.
By means of this expenditure the building will be made available for public gatherings and the valuable library of King's College will be much more accessible to the students for reference and research work.
Before it was referred to the committee the college fund received considerable attention, as there was some doubt as to the propriety of the Synod using the fund in the disposition of the funds which had been received at one time and another from the different parishes. The opinion of the committee seemed to be that a reference should be made to the contributors, indirectly or directly, before any disposition was made of the funds.

The congratulations of the synod were made to His Lordship on the rapid recovery from his recent illness. While Bishop Richardson still bears traces of his illness, he did not appear to feel and ill effects as a result of his arduous duties during the sitting of the synod. This was most pleasing to his great number of friends.

It was moved by Rev. G. A. Kuhring and seconded by Rev. R. A. Armstrong that in the opinion of the synod a city missionary should be appointed whose duties shall be to look after, and take services, and visit the residents in the city hospital, Home for Incurables, Home for Aged Ladies, Seamen's Institute, the prison and other institutions that may need his services. Also to perform any duties that may fall within the scope of his position and whereas the work of the city missionary will be very largely required to attend the members of the church whose residence is outside of the city in the opinion of the synod, it be resolved that the stipend of the city missionary be paid by the board of missions if found at all possible.
The motion was adopted after discussion.

The usual votes of thanks to railways, steamboats, press, church people of St.
John, rector, wardens, vestrymen of Trinity church, and all those who had shown hospitality to the visiting clergymen were moved and carried with applause.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Robertson received the hearty thanks of the delegates for the reception given in their home last night. The motion was carried with loud applause.

The secretary and assistant secretary were voted the usual salary of $1,000 and $300 respectively.

The choicest cocoa beans from the tropics are used for Lowney's Cocoa. We could buy beans at much lower prices. They would make a very fair cocoa—but not Lowney's.

The beans are thoroughly cleaned.
After cleaning comes the roasting.
Cocoa beans from different localities are roasted in separate roasters. The roasting is carefully timed to bring out the full richness of the flavor.

The beans then go through a cracker and fanner to remove the shells. The product of this process is called "Cocoa Nibs."

Next comes the blend. The rich flavor of Lowney's Cocoa is largely attributable to skill and experience in blending cocoa beans from different localities.

The blended cocoa nibs are then ground into a semi-liquid.

Cocoa beans have a natural excess of cocoa butter. The excess butter is removed by a hydraulic process.

The cocoa, now dry, is ground again to a fine powder and sifted through silk to insure the proper fineness. The sifted powder is then packed in tins.

Each package, with the Lowney label, contains a blend of the world's choicest cocoa beans, thoroughly cleaned, skillfully roasted, relieved of excess cocoa butter and ground to a fine powder, which, in boiling, yields its full, rich flavor. It gives a beverage which, as we say, "shows you how cocoa ought to taste."

Our Montreal factory is in keeping with the cocoa it produces—a model for the cocoa business.

Sold at grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

OVERWORK AND MENTAL STRAIN important because it enriches the blood,
