A DIPLOMAT.
(New York Press.)

Martin Schuman, of New York, possesses qualities that characterize eminent diplomats and successful financiers. The members of his family had long pleaded with him to undergo an operation for appendicitis, but he invariably refused on the ground of expense. Finally they consented to sign a written document releasing him from all obligations for Christmas presents, and he observed the holiday by having his internal superfluity surgically eliminated, the estimated cost of the holiday gifts exceeding the fee of the operation.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, saving about $2 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1-2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in in a 16 oz. bottle and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. The plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have one backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimonial will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or displacement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Skating

Another Outsider.

In addition to Bob Logan and Russell Wheeler, of Montreal, another outside skater who will compete in the skating championships at the Victoria rink Friday night is Leadbetter, the western Nova Scotia champion. All entries should be sent to the Victoria rink.

Bowling

A Record Breaker.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 13—What is said to be a world's tournament bowling record was made tonight by George Vandertunk and Henry Martin, of St. Paul, in the two-men event of the International bowling tournament, scoring 1,308. This is four pins higher than the record made by the "Kandy Kids" of Chicago at the Detroit tournament of the American bowling congress last year.

The Ring

McFarland's Last Year.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 13—Packey McFarland, a contender for Ad Wolgast's seat on the lightweight pugilistic throne, is one who does not care to be admitted into the order of "has beens."

According to the statement of McFarland, 1911 will be his last year in the Queensbury business regardless of whether he rises to the highest or is cast away by some unknown.

"I have seen too many cases of fighters who were good in their time, but overplayed the limit and consequently drifted into vice or anything whereby they might earn a few dollars. I intend to get out of the game while I have my youth and strength and am in good standing with the public and engage in some kind of legitimate business," said McFarland.

Hockey

They Like it in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 13—Ottawa is the greatest hockey town in the world, if the attendance figures of Teddy Rey, the manager of the arena, can be taken as a criterion, the local ice palace breaking all Canadian records for hockey matches in the senior games that have been played here this winter. Only five games in the National Hockey Association have been played to date, but the turnstiles show that more than 32,000 paid admissions have been taken in at the Laurier avenue rink, with three more games yet to be played.

After Stanley Cup.

Ottawa, Feb 13—The Prince Albert hockey club which claims the Saskatchewan championship, has telegraphed to William Foran, a challenge for the Stanley cup. No decision has as yet been reached, but if they comply with the condition, the challenge will be accepted. This is the only challenge so far.

Wrestling

Hack Defeats Cutler.

Chicago, Feb. 13—George Hackenschmidt tonight got the first fall from Charles Cutler of Chicago, with a toe and body hold in one hour, three minutes and four seconds, and the second fall with a toe lock in ten minutes, twenty seconds. Americus and Fred Beell wrestled one hour without a fall and the match was called a draw.

Aquatic

The American Season.

The American Rowing Association will hold its annual regatta, popularly known as the American Henley, at Philadelphia on Saturday, May 27, when several second 'varsity and freshmen combinations, as well as many of the boat clubs, will know their early relative standing, thus giving a line as to what may be expected of them later.

On that date a rowing season such as the country has not before seen will start in, for three days later, on Memorial Day, will come not only the historic Harlem Regatta, but also the race between the first 'varsity crews of Cornell and Harvard at Ithaca and between the second 'varsity crews of Cornell and University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, followed up in a little over three weeks by the Intercollegiate Regatta at Poughkeepsie and the Harvard-Yale races at New London.

On July 4 Philadelphia will have the time-honored People's Regatta, which always draws many entries of quality. Annapolis and Princeton during this period will have rowed their match races on their home waters, the Severn River and Carnegie Lake respectively, with the other leading 'varsity crews.

Then early in August the Canadian Henley will be pulled off, with the big national championships right at its heels, probably at Saratoga, and finally the Middle States and New England regattas will wind up the season on Labor Day.

BEAUTIFUL MUSIC FOR CORONATION

There is promise of some exceptionally fine music at the coronation of King George, and, from what cables tell it will in every way be equal to that chosen for the coronation of King Edward.

Already a draft of the suggested form of musical service prepared by Sir Frederick Bridge, the organist of Westminster Abbey, has been submitted to His Majesty by the Archbishop of Canterbury, who, by prescriptive right, is responsible for the details of the religious portion of the ceremony.

It will, of course, be impossible to overload the service, which is naturally long, on account of the solemn ritual associated from time immemorial with the English coronation of kings; but it can be stated that there is every possibility of some beautiful original items being included in the service.

Sir Frederick will, it is understood, include another of his own works, which will be specially prepared. He was responsible at the last coronation for the anthem :: Kings shall see, and Princes also shall worship," which was entitled the "Homage Anthem," and was sung by the enlarged choir at the point when his late Majesty was receiving the homage of members of the royal family, the bishops, &c.

It is proposed, also, that the work of other representative English musicians who are now living shall be given. Concerning these final arrangements particulars cannot be stated until His Majesty has approved of the outline suggestions made.

One thing is certain, however, and that is that the Westminster Abbey choir will be augmented by 400 voices from the choirs of St. Paul's Cathedral, the Chapels Royal of St. James' and Savoy, and several provincial cathedrals. The orchestra will consist of about eighty performers, with, of course, the trumpeters, using their silver trumpets.

An Ancient Hymn

A part of the service, it is expected, will be similar to that arranged for the crowning of the late king. For instance, as a processional for the Abbey clergy at the commencement of the last service Watts' well known hymn, "O God, our help in ages past" was sung. The works of two living organists, Sir Walter Parratt and Sir George Martin, were selected. Just after the crowning of the king and before the Bible was presented the former composer's anthem, "Be strong and of good courage," was sung. Later on Stainer's "Sanctus," which had been arranged by Sir George Martin, was rendered. As the royal procession left the seat of coronation the organist played, but, owing to the tumultuous applause that greeted the king as his procession passed down the abbey, few of the spectators could appreciate the beautiful music.

An absurd statement is going the round just now that both Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra and other royal ladies have exact imitations of their most valuable jewels which they wear on many occasions. Since one is assured that it is a matter of the utmost difficulty to tell the real and imitation jewels when they are placed side by side, it is suggested in contradicting the unfounded story that their Majesties have no need to retain the real stones at all.

As a matter of fact there is not the slightest foundation for the statement, since neither of the Queens possesses an imitation jewel of any kind. In each of the royal palaces there are burglar and fire proof strong rooms fitted up for the reception of the Queen's jewelry, and only very few of those about the court are even aware of the position of these rooms. In the case of Queen Mary's safes, these can be opened only in her presence, and the keys to them never leave her. Queen Alxandra, on the other hand, intrusts the care of her jewels to the Honorable Charlotte Knollys, who alone possesses the key that will open them.

Holyrood Plans

A statement that King George and Queen Mary will hold a drawing room at Holyrood Palace some time this year has caused a deal of commotion in Edinburgh, where a similar function was held by King Edward in May 1905, the year after his coronation. That a drawing room will take place in Holyrood in the future is certain, but whether this year or next is not definitely arranged.

Holyrood has not been used as a royal residence for close on forty years, with the exception of a flying visit his late Majesty paid there in 1905. Queen Victoria stopped at Holyrood on several occasions, but the last time she slept in the ancient palace, the history of which is as stirring and romantic as that of any old building in the three kingdoms, was in 1872.

Until King Edward and Queen Alexandra held a drawing room at Holyrood close on eight years ago, no such function had taken place there since 1822, when the "First Gentleman in Europe" received his Scottish subjects attired in full Highland costume and wearing a wig so overpoweringly scented with patchouli as to cause the high born Scottish dames some inconvenience.

Could Not Walk Ten Yards Without Resting.

WEAK HEART WAS THE CAUSE.

Mrs. Robinson Collette, Rogersville, N.B., writes: "I am now enjoying the best of health after having used your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled with a weak heart and was afraid to draw a long breath for the pain it would cause me. I could not sleep at night, and it was impossible for me to walk ten yards without resting myself. I cannot speak too highly of your Heart and Nerve Pills, for they are the greatest pill I have ever used and I can recommend them to all sufferers."

Thousands of people go about their daily work on the verge of death and yet do not know it.

Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart for the simple reason that one thinks it will right itself, but there is where the mistake is made. It is only when a violent shock comes that the weakness of the heart becomes apparent.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, lacking energy or physical breakdown, the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a quick and permanent cure.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

NICKEL.

The array of animated photographic productions which marked the inaugural of the Criticism Contest yesterday at the Nickel was of such a character that those who made mental and pencil notes of the features were a bit puzzled to know which picture was really best. The almost classical production of the Biograph Co. entitled His Trust Fulfilled, a sequel to His Trust of last week's bill, seemed a favorite, but Edison's delicious comedy, A Family of Vegetarians, was so unusually funny and smart that the novelty of it caught many a fancy. Some sober-minded folks might have decided upon the Salving of the World's Greatest Sailing Ship Pruessen, which was wrecked in a gale on the cliffs of Dover, and possibly sporting enthusiasts might have judged the bout between Lang and Curren at the Olympia, London, a good subject for criticism. There was a roaring comedy—a burlesque in fact—under the caption Calino as a Bull-Fighter, with enough laughing material to excite the admiration of others. The whole bill had distinctively good features throughout and with Miss Humphrey and Mr. Buzzelle in vocal novelties and the orchestra, the programme was most entertaining throughout. Wednesday, it is announced, there will be another whole bill of fine pictures.

MORNING LUCALS

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Church Guild took place last night. The music committee had charge of the programme which was very much enjoyed. Those taking part were Hew Walker, Miss Maggie Lindsay, Miss Nelson, E. R. Reed, D. R. Jack and Joseph Murdoch. Refreshments were served at the close.

While coasting in Watson street last evening a party on a double-runner were upset. Mrs. Bray of West End and a young man named Black were injured slightly. Dr. Ellis attended them.

A very successful concert was given last night by Miss Louise Knight in the school room of Centenary Methodist church, and though the audience was small, it was enthusiastic and loudly applauded the work of the performers. Miss Knight was assisted by J. A. Kelly, and Robert Seely, each of whom was heard to advantage. D. A. Fox was accompanist.

A horse owned by Walter Campbell took fright yesterday afternoon in Fairville, and bolted. It ran to Indiantown before being checked. No damage was done.

A bold young man at noon yesterday gained an entrance to the cellar of Beatty & Johnston's store in Main street, and was helping himself to the coal, when Mr. Beatty appeared. The owner of the store locked the would-be-thief in the cellar, but when he returned after looking for a policeman, the captive had departed.

The ferry steamer Western Extension broke down yesterday afternoon and the tugboat Neptune was used for several hours to handle traffic. At 10 o'clock last night the Ludlow was put in commission, and she will be at work for a few days. There was strong evidence in the congestion of traffic, in favor of the construction of a bridge.

At the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon the action of the Nova Scotia authorities in allowing two small-pox patients to come here from near Westville, N. S., was critisized. It was decided to write the Nova Scotia Board of health asking them to be more cautious. Col. Armstrong, T. M. Burns, and Dr. Pratt were appointed to meet the provincial board today.

W. C. Cross has returned from Montreal where he attended a meeting of representatives of the Baptist missionary movement in Canada. It was very successful. It was decided to appoint a superintendent and secretary for the dominion. The superintendent will travel through the country holding meetings and generally looking over the work.

Mr. Lillis will be president of the new company, which will carry out the three-year contract made by the former owners with Manager Jack Ryan.
