Irish Best Administrators.

Montreal, Aug. 2.—An interesting story comes from Ottawa supplementing the many rumors afloat the coming appointment of an archbishop of that diocese.

It appears that the Irish-Canadian element sent a document to Rome declaring amongst other reasons why one of that nationality should be appointed, that the French-Canadian while good and faithful missionaries, were failing in administrative capacity, and as administrative talent would be required in a very high degree in the capital, an Irish-Canadian should be the successor of the late Mgr. Duhamel.

STRICKEN BLIND BY LIGHTNING

A Peculiar Accident to James Malin of London Ontario.

London, Aug. 2.—The many friends of Mr. James Malin, of 281 Thames street, will regret to learn that while in Windsor recently he was stricken practically blind by a flash of lightning. He is at present at his home, and it is impossible to say yet whether or not the sight will be saved.

Mr. Malin had trouble for some time with his eyes, but thought nothing much of the matter except that they pained him.

During the heavy thunderstorm which passed over Windsor on Thursday night Mr. Malin was watching the lightning when suddenly there was a blinding flash and he found himself unable to see.

He has been practically blind since, and although Dr. Stevenson, who is attending Mr. Malin, believes that he will recover his sight in time, he cannot say for certain.

Mr. Malin is one of the best known horse trainers in the country, and was intending to race some horses at the Windsor races.

His toes were badly crushed, and he was carried into the office of Dr. Hawkins and then taken to Grace hospital in the police ambulance.

ARREST ITALIAN AS ACCESSORY

The Police Busy on Killing of Chinaman at Haileybury.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 1.—To-day the coroner's jury at Haileybury, after hearing a few witnesses, brought in a verdict of murder against the Italian, Samuel Spinello, charged with killing Geo. Wing, a young Chinese waiter. There were murmurs of lynching through Haileybury, as the prisoner was led through the streets.

On Friday night when the police went to look for the companions of the murderer, they found all their shades empty and they are only beginning to return to them now. The prisoner, it is alleged, was concerned in the Nova Scotia highway robbery case about a year ago, but there was no evidence against him, as his companions were evidently afraid of his reputation as a bad man. After diligently searching the police have located another of the six Italians who were with Spinello at the time of the murder. They found Joseph Martello, hiding in a shack at North Cobalt, and he will be held as an accessory to the crime.

The most interesting evidence of the inquest was that of G. Yoo, the brother of the dead man, who saw the murder. Spinello, he said, could not pay for his supper, and when Geo. Wing demanded it, he struck him dead and the whole mass of Italians surged to the door.

The murderer says little, but he formally pleads drunkenness as extenuation. He says he was quite drunk, and when he awoke this morning firmly believed it first that he was in his own room.

PLAYED WITH MATCHES

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD TORONTO GIRL TERRIBLY BURNED.

Toronto, Aug. 2.—With all the upper part of her body terribly burned, Nellie Hill, the seven-year-old daughter of Thomas Hill, of 102 DeGrass street, is lying in the Hospital for Sick Children. She is in a critical condition, and late last night the surgeons at the hospital were not hopeful of her surviving until morning.

The little girl set fire to her clothing yesterday afternoon while playing on the doorstep of her home. Some of the male members of the family had been smoking on the step shortly before and had left a number of matches lying about. The child ignited one of them and a moment later her dress was in flames. Her screams brought help, but before the flames were extinguished the little victim was terribly burned about the arms, back, chest and thigh. Her face was also severely burned. Dr. P. J. Brown, of Queen street east, who was called in, dressed the injuries, and had the child taken in the police ambulance to the hospital.

SHIPS IN GAIT DRESS ENGAGE IN PARADE IN THE SOLENT.

Coves, Eng., Aug. 2.—The last of the great naval pageants, which for the past few months have played such a prominent part in the campaign waged around the question of Great Britain's sea power, took place Saturday afternoon in the Solent, where eighteen miles of warships were reviewed by King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

Anchored in three main columns, with smaller craft in flanking lines, the fleet presented a magnificent spectacle, and the scene was strikingly picturesque, as the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, bearing the Admiralty, and escorted by the Admiral's flagships, and the White Star Line steamer Adriatic, on which members of the House of Lords and the Commons had gathered, passed down the lanes of ships.

The surrounding waters were crowded with steamers and craft of all kinds, which were thronged with spectators. The gaiety of the scene was greatly heightened by the permission given the officers to entertain their friends. Every warship was dispensing hospitality with liberal liberality, and the preponderance of women in summer garments gave the quarter-deck the appearance of garden parties in miniature.

Last night the Indomitable, the Invincible and the Indefatigable—three battleships of the Dreadnought class—sailed to meet the Russian Imperial yacht Standart and escort Emperor Nicholas and the Russian Imperial family to Coves. This will be the first official visit of the Russian monarch to Great Britain. The coming of Emperor Nicholas to-day is regarded as sealing the triple entente between Russia, France and Great Britain, and indicating that the period of estrangement and suspicion between Great Britain and Russia is now ended.

Officially, the visit will be aloft, although it is expected that the Russian monarch will land privately at Coves Tuesday and pay visits, King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the Prince of Wales will sail at 10.45 on the Victoria and Albert, who will board the King's yacht for luncheon, and the subsequent review of the British fleet.

MEXICO AGAIN SHAKEN.

Mexico City, Aug. 2.—Mexico City was again severely shaken by an earthquake Saturday. A shock more severe than any yet experienced rocked the city for one minute and 40 seconds at 12.43 p.m.

No great damage was done, though innumerable public and other buildings were cracked. The national palace suffered considerably.

Reports from Governor Damania Flores, of the State of Guerrero, declared that in Acapulco, the largest and strongest buildings were razed by the force of Saturday's tremors, and there has been heavy property loss throughout that section.

At Acapulco the custom house with its warehouse, the military barracks and a number of other prominent buildings were absolutely destroyed, while the municipal palace suffered serious damage.

THE POWER PROBLEM

INDICATIONS POINT TO LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL TONIGHT.

Indications point to a long session of the council this evening. The Aldermen are still grappling with the power problem and a long-drawn-out discussion is expected at tonight's meeting. During last week two informal conferences were held between the council and members of the Electric Light Co., but little of anything has as yet been made public as to what transpired at these meetings. However, it is understood that a further recommendation will be made to the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to be submitted this evening.

It is altogether probable that new points have cropped up which will create much discussion and it seems to be the general impression that the meeting will be one of more than usual interest.

"July," continued Mr. Smith, "was certainly a record-breaker. Apart from the fact that not a single death was registered no cases of contagious diseases were reported."

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea. I tried every means possible to effect a cure, with-out avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philadelphia, Va. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer.
