AN AUBURN MIRACLE.

An Act of Heroism Followed by Dire Results.

Edward Donnelly saves a Life Almost at the Cost of His Own.

It is on record that upon a chilly April day, a few years ago, an eight year old boy fell into the East river at the foot of East Eighth street, New York, and when all efforts to rescue him had failed, Edward Donnelly, at risk of his own life, plunged into the water and, when himself nearly exhausted, saved the boy from drowning.

It was a humane and self-sacrificing deed and received deserved commendation in all the many newspapers that made mention of it.

Edward Donnelly was then a resident of New York City, but his wife was Amanda Grayman, of Auburn, and sister, Mrs. Samuel D. Cory, of No. 71 Morris St., which gave a local interest to the incident.

All this was some time ago, and both it and Mr. Donnelly had passed out of the mind of the writer until a few days ago, when in Saratoga, he was shown a letter to a friend from which he was permitted to make the following extract:

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 29, 92. I am taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have written you of that terrible disease, Locomotor Ataxia. When I commenced taking them, I was wholly unable to walk and nearly blind.

A Graphic Description of a Trip across the Continent in Winter.

By a Frederictonian.

(Written for the Globe.)

MONTREAL, JAN. 18.—

To the New Brunswick leaving for the wild and woolly west by the C. P. Railway, there is very little of interest either for himself or people at home, until he has fully launched himself from Windsor Street Station.

In Montreal, and feels himself finally embarked for the long and tedious trans-continental journey. There is so much that is not easily likely to him that it is barely worth while to make a note of what he sees, and especially in this time of winter time—for at this season of the year, not only is the external world as seen from the window of the car, but also the interior of the car, is so uninteresting that it is almost impossible to obtain even the smallest glimpse of the natural world through the windows.

It is not until the train has proceeded some distance that the view through the windows is so uninteresting that it is almost impossible to obtain even the smallest glimpse of the natural world through the windows.
