Deacon Henry Stiles read the address and little Miss Kathleen Prescott made the presentation, to which Mrs. Copp very feelingly replied. Miss Crocker, of Riverside, sang a few choice selections, Miss McIntyre, of St. John, acting as accompanist.

After the music came refreshments and the evening, which had been very pleasantly spent, came to an end by singing God Be With You Till We Meet Again. The address follows: Dear Friends,—On the eve of your departure from us, we have gathered here to tender you our good wishes and express to you our good will.

On this occasion we say to you, formally, that which is in all our hearts, that we sincerely regret that you are to remove from us. The only reconciliation to your removal is the thought that you are called there by the call of duty to your husband and father, which call must always be obeyed when it comes from those we love.

Great demands will be made upon you, and we are assured, by the place to which you are going, and we know, from experience, those demands will be fully met when they are for the good of the common weal.

We have found you both to be willing workers. Your sympathies were always easily aroused for any worthy cause. We have always felt that we could depend upon you for all that you were able to do to whatsoever work for God or humanity loomed up before us.

The choir will miss two enthusiastic members, members that were always ready to sacrifice their own ease and comfort that the service of song might be more acceptable. The church will miss two consistent and devoted members.

We express to you both our sincere thanks for all the help you have rendered to our church and community, but more especially do we wish to thank you, Mrs. Copp, on account of your faithful service to the choir, as leader, which has been given gratuitously for many years. We have greatly appreciated your presence and deeply regret your departure.

We extend to you both, and to the rest of your family, our hearty good wishes for the future, and will, at any time, gladly welcome your return. We are glad to know that, although you are leaving New Brunswick, you are not at the close of the evening, and after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Keilior continued health and happiness, the company dispersed.

ARAB HORDES ATTACK FRENCH, WHO INFLECT TERRIFIC LOSS. Ten Thousand Tribesmen Charge Repeatedly Only to Be Mowed Down by Artillery.

Lalla Maghnia, Algeria, Nov. 25—Ten thousand of the fiercest Beni Nassen tribesmen swooped down on the French camps yesterday and were beaten off with a loss of 1200 killed. The fighting continued for a long time, and was conducted on the part of the tribesmen apparently with total disregard for their lives.

At one time the French infantry were in pieces, and the Arabs were in possession of the camp. The French loss was eight killed. The Arabs were not discouraged by this severe repulse, but reformed their forces, and in addition directed their efforts to the capture of the camp.

During the pursuit of the enemy, the Arabs in ambush, cutting them to pieces. Lilla, who was riding in front, fell riddled with bullets, but the troopers rallied and then themselves upon the Arabs in ambush, cutting them to pieces. The French forces followed up their advantage, and scouring the country, killed many of the tribesmen who remained in the mountain slopes where the remainder of the tribesmen had taken refuge.

S.); and Daisy Linden from Bridgewater (N. S.)—Boston Globe, Monday.

MOTHER AND SON BROUGHT HOME FOR BURIAL. Mrs. George Crocker With Bodies of Husband, Who Was Drowned in the West, and Her Mother-in-Law Arrives at Newcastle.

Newcastle, Nov. 25—in several of the churches yesterday the sermons contained vigorous remarks on temperance questions indicating pretty plainly that the Scott Act could be better enforced here if the people took more interest in its being carried out. A charge of third offence against a local dealer in being illegally selling on technical grounds has already been adjudged three times.

Miss Florence Russell is very ill with her mother. Mrs. George Crocker, accompanied by her brother Clifford MacKay, of Harcourt, and her brother-in-law, Randolph Crocker, arrived today from Denver, bringing the bodies of her husband and mother-in-law, who died so tragically in Colorado a few days ago. A special train was sent to meet the party and their burials took place tomorrow.

Rev. J. S. Gregg, of Baie Verte, former pastor of Millerton, will assist at the services. Mrs. George Crocker, accompanied by her brother Clifford MacKay, of Harcourt, and her brother-in-law, Randolph Crocker, arrived today from Denver, bringing the bodies of her husband and mother-in-law, who died so tragically in Colorado a few days ago.

In the house with the unfortunate boy lives his grandmother, Mrs. Griffiths, and his two brothers, William and Frederick, both older, and at work. The father, Abraham, is in Boston, and the mother has been dead for several years.

According to the family, George has been a regular attendant at the Leinster street school and they scout as ridiculous the idea that he should be stealing coal. The family are not in the condition that coal need be obtained in that way and they feel sure that some other boy has given the school board the information.

A Scorching Sermon. Among the scores of clergymen who spoke on the subject yesterday was the Rev. D. W. T. Thompson, pastor of the Park avenue Methodist church, who conducted his sermon to the effect of denouncing all mention of Christ from the public schools, denouncing the action of the board of education as a cowardly surrender of sacred things to a small part of the community.

The Judaistic tendency is rampant in the world of learning," said Dr. Thompson, "and it is a question whether there will be a place left for those of gentle stock. The last manifestation of it we find in our public schools. I do not know how you feel about it, but I could not have been more hurt had my dear old mother been struck in the face."

"Now it has come to a pass where we must take a stand, for this is the most daring stroke in modern times against our Christ and our religion. It is our duty to resist it. In the cabin of the Mayflower, as they read the Bible, they laid down an infant nation; yet from beneath the folds of the flag of that nation a bold man struck out national life in the form of a republic. The last manifestation of it we find in our public schools. I do not know how you feel about it, but I could not have been more hurt had my dear old mother been struck in the face."

Found by Grandmother. "I went out for a few minutes," she said, "about 9 o'clock and left George writing in his book at the table in the kitchen. He had been to school in the morning but, there being no school today, he did not go. I went in to see if he had done his homework, and he had not. GOOD AND BAD REPORTS FROM INDUSTRIAL CENTRES

Continued Curtailment Among New England Plants—Others Show Indications of Going Full Blast.

Boston, Nov. 25—Manufacturers in New England look for an improvement in their lines of business during December, but for the present many concerns are running on short time. The Hooksett Textile mill of Hooksett (N. H.), was shut down today for five weeks. They employ 200 hands.

The Union Woolen Mills, of Burlington (Vt.), will close next Friday for an indefinite period. The Excelsior Textile Mill, of Farmington, has closed its weaving room and two other departments for two weeks.

In Orange (Mass.), the factory of the New Home Sewing Machine Company, employing 600, will shut down tomorrow for a week. The Orange Shirt factory was closed today for an indefinite period.

The Brantford (N. H.) mill, owned by Kenne (N. H.), went on a four day week schedule of 8 hours daily today. The National Novelty Company, of Keene, will run five days per week for the present.

In the metal trades, the Mason Machine Works, of Taunton, will be in operation on Wednesday until next week. Sixty employees were laid off indefinitely today. The Davis & Furber Machine works, of North Andover, will also close Wednesday for the week.

The Morgan Spring Company and Health Machine Company, both of Greenfield, Worcester, and the Lincolnton Taylor and Wilson Co.'s shoe factories of Rochester (N. H.), announce short time.

St. Johnsbury (Vt.), where the Kenne E. & P. Fairbanks Scale Company, employing 1,300 men, which adopted a five hour schedule two weeks ago, today went back to an eight hour basis.

Information is received from Buffalo that the Snow Steam Pump Works has ordered its forces back on full time. The general manager of that plant, Elwood C. Lufkin, says that the whole industrial and financial situation has been improved so greatly during the last week that the company has been obliged to restore the full schedule of working hours to keep up with its business. About 1,000 men are concerned in the order.

The National Tube Works, at Syracuse, resumed operations today after a two weeks' shut-down. President George Westinghouse denied today that the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company's plant at Pittsburg would be closed down Dec. 1, as reported.

Troy, Nov. 25—The outlook for a busy year in the knit goods industry in Cohoes, N. Y., is bright. The largest centre of that work in the country, is becoming brighter daily and it is expected that all the mills in that city will be running on the full by Jan. 1.

Cleveland, Nov. 25—Deposits in cash in all of the banks in this city were greater today than for any single day during the past three weeks, according to prominent bankers.

Concert at Mt. Allison. Sackville, N. B., Nov. 23—A concert of great brilliance and high classical character was given last evening in Beethoven Hall, Mount Allison Ladies' College. The piano soloist was Mr. H. Horsfall, director of the Conservatory of Music; and the solo violinist Miss Ayer, director of the violin department of this conservatory. The evening was devoted exclusively to works by Beethoven, all the numbers of the following programme being compositions of that great master: "What are you doing there, Jennie?" shouted her father. "I'm just saying good night to George." Well, as it takes you so long to answer me, I'll say it for you. Good-night, George. He replied so quickly that he forgot to reply.
