He would also take this opportunity of sincerely thanking his friends for the liberal patronage with which they have favoured him for these last few years; and at the same time inform them that he intends to be conducting his business on an entirely different principle from formerly. All goods will now be marked at the LOWEST CASH PRICE, and credit Customers will therefore buy their good at Cash Prices, but will also have to pay interest of one per cent. per month upon their purchases as long as they leave them unpaid.
This he feels constrained to do by far the best mode that could be adopted, as it obviates the necessity of having two Prices, and consequently avoids all difficulty which may arise from one Customer being charged more than another, for both Cash and Credit Customers receiving their Goods at the same Price, only that the Credit Customer pays interest for his accommodation.

In accordance with this determination of carrying on his business in this method, he has RE-MARKED the whole of his former Stock, in order that the old may be as cheap as the new, and he now confidently invites the public to call and see the public before making purchases elsewhere.

All kinds of merchantable produce will be taken in payment at market prices.
