FARM LANDS

Irrigated Lands

SPECIAL NOTICE

ATTENTION is directed to the fact that the Land Department of the Union Trust Company, Limited, of Toronto, has been appointed exclusive agent in Ontario, Manitoba and the Maritime Provinces for the sale of the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company's lands, a separate advertisement of which appears on page 666 of this issue of the Farming World, under the heading "Too Much Water."

The production of crops by irrigation in semi-arid districts is one of the most successful methods of crop raising. The farmer on an irrigated farm has an immeasurable advantage over his brother on non-irrigated land. By irrigation bountiful and diversified crops are insured Every Year. Farming is thus relieved of the risk and uncertainty of unseasonable weather—there can be no bad seasons.

With one thorough irrigation the native pasture will, in most years, sustain twice as many head of stock per acre as without the artificial application of water.

A careful study of its merits and advantages will convince any practical agriculturist that farming by means of irrigation is the most attractive proposition ever put before the farmers of this or any country.
