The name of the former soldier tig virgen. Longinus, Santa Marra is also written over the figure representing the Blessed Virgin. The arch acologists were able at once to determine the date of the paintings. In olden times, a round n mbus or halo about the head of a painting indicated not only that the person was holy, but also that the person was dead, while a square nimbus indicated that the person was it alive. In this church, two figures with square balos have names inscribed, namely Pone Zacharias and Pope Paul I, so that the painting or some of them, were executed addf forent times between the years 741 and 767.
