Ireland.

London, Nov. 7.—It is rumored that negotiations are afoot for the release of the "suspects," on condition that they will stand aloof and let the Land Act have a fair trial. It is said some of the "suspects" are inclined to keep their hands off for a reasonable time, but will not bind themselves to anything. It is stated that the real test of the Land Act must be made on monster estates in the west and southwest of Ireland, where famine occurs in bad seasons, and where there are thousands of tenants paying £1 to £3 yearly, to whom 25 per cent. off their rents would be little or no benefit, yet upon whose holdings the landlords have spent thousands on improvements.

Paris, November 7.—Egan and Biggar, on Saturday, had an audience with the Papal Nuncio in Paris, to whom they explained the objects of the Land League movement and the nature of the strike against rents.

Athlone, Nov. 7.—A large meeting of tenants upon the estate of Sir John Ekinis unanimously resolved to demand abatement of rents. In the event of refusal they will apply to the Land Court. There are upwards of 5,000 tenants on the estate.

Andrew Marshall Porter, Queen's Counsel, will succeed Johnson as Solicitor-General for Ireland.

London, Nov. 7.—Parnell was interviewed by two prominent members of the Home Rule League on Saturday. He said the recent judgments at Belfast agreed with his estimates that the rents in Ulster should be reduced to a third of their value. He believed the reductions in the south of Ireland would not be as large, and consequently would not satisfy the tenants. Any general reduction of rents to Griffith's valuation would, because of the extent to which the land is mortgaged, deprive landlords of means of living or of compensation. This would demonstrate the soundness of the views enunciated by the League. Parnell admitted the possibility of settling directly with the landlords.

London, Nov. 8.—James Tait, formerly Secretary of the Mulligan branch of the Land League, discharged from Kilmaham jail Friday, was rearrested today, it is supposed because of violent speeches. There is much excitement.

Dublin, Nov. 8.—The Home Rule League today adopted the manifesto to the Irish people which was telegraphed today.

Limerick, Nov. 9.—The Land Sub-Commission in the case of Enwright, 3 tenants, reduced three acres of land, reduced the rent from nineteen pounds to nine.

Sir Maurice O'Connell, nephew of the liberator, has, except in two cases, arrived at agreements with his tenants, involving a considerable reduction in rents.

The Freeman's Journal welcomes the revival of the Home Rule organization. It believes that the question of Home Rule is now the great and only one remaining.

The Home Rule meeting D. Sullivan, brother of A. M. Sullivan, moved that the manifesto be circulated throughout Europe, America and Australia. A detective watched those who attended the meeting.

Dublin, Nov. 9.—The first arrangement between the landlord and tenant under the Land Act occurred in the Browne estate, belonging to an ex-M.P. The tenants agree to take fifteen-year leases at a reduction of from £3 to 10s. Several tenants have consequently withdrawn the notices sent to the Land Commission.

The number of applications made to the Land Commission is 17,671. The Limerick corporation has passed a resolution to confer the freedom of the city upon Dillon.

Dublin, Nov. 11.—Reports from all parts of the county of Cork disclose a most extraordinary eagerness on the part of farmers to go before the Land Court. In some districts large sums are being subscribed towards the formation of a mutual protection fund.

London, Nov. 11.—The large reductions of rent by the sub-Commissioners, under the Land Act, are causing an outcry on the part of the landlords, and a demand for Government compensation.

Russia.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—A diplomat just from St. Petersburg gives a very gloomy description of the situation in Russia. Affairs are growing more critical every day. Riots are feared in consequence of the increasing demand for provisions. The Nihilists are distributing circulars charging the Czar with being the cause of all the trouble, and declaring that he is sending all the gold of Russia to Denmark. The truth is that part of the 60,000,000 roubles found in the Imperial Land Court, was forwarded to Denmark at the close of the recent marriage. High Russian officials are advising landlords to leave the country for the city, if they do not wish to be assassinated. Great anxiety prevails at Catechin.

London, Nov. 9.—Daniel Grand, Liberal member of Parliament, speaking at a large meeting, declared, amid much cheering, that the growing thought in England was towards the Republic. He was content with the present political condition of affairs. "The land should be for the people, in accordance with the constitution."

London, Nov. 10.—Mr. Gladstone, in his speech last night, declared that the law would be enforced with firmness and decision in Ireland.

Liverpool, Nov. 11.—The captain of the steamer Germania was fined £10 for bringing into the dock coals of cartridge shipped at New York, in spite of the prohibition, and not indicated on the bill of lading.

London, Nov. 11.—Lord Portarlington publishes a statement pointing out that on old hereditary estates rents have not been raised for a number of years, and that the sub-Commissioners reduce these rents anything like twenty-five per cent., and Gladstone's relative compensation will come to foot with irresistible force.

There was in Rome a poor boy, who, on account of a malady, was placed in one of the public hospitals. There he was educated from his earliest years, and the story of his life is so interesting, that his health was sufficiently restored to one of the better colleges in Rome. Mr. May Bradford, sister of Jefferson Davis, who died at New Hope, Ky. on the 22nd ult., of general debility, aged 81 years, has been interested in the cemetery of Gettysburg [Trappist] Abbey, where no living woman is allowed to enter, except the wife of a ruler of a nation. These secular persons are interred there: Baron de Hodeinat, a Belgian, who lived in the Abbey for several years before his death, and Mrs. N. Miles, a lady who like Mrs. Bradford was a great benefactress of the monastery. Mrs. Bradford was well known throughout the South, and the news of her demise will be received with the deepest regret. May they rest in peace!

Father A. J. Ryan, the poet-priest, celebrated throughout the South and elsewhere the English language is spoken and understood, has preached his farewell sermon at St. Mary's Cathedral, Mobile, Ala., today, where he has spent the greater part of his life and labors, and now years ago he sailed for Europe, bidding adieu not only to his own flock, but the people of the South, in whose heart he has so long held a warm place. Father Ryan has labored zealously in the cause of humanity and religion, and his eloquent sermons have often been heard in behalf of the poor of charity, Catholic, Protestant and Confederate. In taking his departure from their midst the people of Mobile tendered to the eloquent divine and his family a substantial and appropriate testimonial of their esteem for him.—Vicksburg Herald.

At Nouvelle Suisse Corbie, Department of the Somme, France, the townspeople wishing to have a large crucifix erected in the new cemetery, they asked leave of the corporation, and only two opposed the project. The two opposing members of the corporation insulted the crucifix, its passage to the cemetery. They said it would be better to erect the figure of an ape, and asked if one of these men would be willing to carry the figure of a barrel, and crossing Tanager Bridge the horse stumbled, the wine dealer lost his balance and fell under the wheels, and his jaw was crushed in the very manner he had wished it to happen to our Lord's venerable man, the second opposing member lost his beloved daughter by some inexplicable disease.

MAGIC'S WONDERS.

"While in London, England, a short time ago," said the professor, "our Oxford-street waiter was made the victim of a practical joke. One morning as this tonsorial artist sat reading his newspaper, he was startled by seeing a young man in a very excited manner, who throwing himself into his chair, demanded a shave instantly. The barber, who was a really fellow, at once set about obeying the commands of this excited and hurried guest. With a rapidity that surprised himself, he shaved the right side of his customer's face, and then immediately turned to the left. That side he also shaved with alacrity and dispatch, but, judge of his surprise when his customer demanded to know in tones anything but pleased why he did not shave the right side. The poor bewildered barber was almost certain that that the side in question was covered with jet-black hair. Again he shaved it, but while he did so, to his surprise and horror, the hair was growing on the other side. Thus it continued for an hour. While he shaved one side, he could actually see the hair growing on the other side. Terrified beyond expression, he stood motionless; hereupon the young man leaped from the chair, and snatching the razor, drew it across his throat, and fell to the floor covered with blood. The barber flew into the street hallooing "Murder!" at the top of his voice. A crowd soon gathered, and, with the affrighted barber, beheld the supposed corpse quietly arranging his hair before the mirror—turning very pleasantly, he paid the barber and departed. I gave the poor barber five shillings to hear how I gave a friend of mine the "snakes" asked the Professor. On receiving an answer in the negative, he said: "A friend of mine, who was a great drunkard and an actor, and that is saying a great deal, was one morning seen by me entering a drinking-saloon when he was almost on the verge of delirium-tremens, and knowing his horror of 'snakes,' as mania-copis is vulgarly called, I resolved to save him. I entered just as he was raising a glass of whiskey to his lips, and raising my hand I snatched the glass from his hand, crying at the same time: 'Hold, Sir, until I take this fly out.' Pretending to take the fly out, I held up a serpent. Cried out, 'My God! that is a snake.' 'Not at all,' said I; 'it is a simple housefly. You are covered with them,' saying which I approached, and from his sleeves, and hair, etc., I proceeded to pull snakes, protesting all the time that they were flies. 'They are snakes!' cried C. again. 'My God
