Brantfordites Are Called Home

settled in Moore Township, Lambton. As a young man he was engaged in the general store business in Goderich and afterwards in Stratford. Then he acted as Deputy Sheriff to his brother-in-law, Sheriff Modewell, and in 1873 came to Brantford, having been appointed to the bursarship of the recently established Institute for the Blind. Faithfully and well he served the Province in this position. He was one of the oldest employees of the Ontario Government, and ranked as one of the Province's most capable officials.

Mr. Hossie was one of the most prominent adherents of the Presbyterian church in Brantford. For many years he was elder under the pastorate of the late Dr. Cochran at Zion church. He took a very active part in the establishment of St. Andrew's Mission, and when the mission became a church he left Zion and joined St. Andrew's, of which he was elder from its inception as a congregation. He took great pride in seeing St. Andrew's grow from a struggling mission to a prosperous church.

In Sunday school work, he was particularly active. In fact, it can be stated without exaggeration, that the prosperous condition of the Sunday schools in Brantford city and Brant county to-day, is very largely owing to his pioneer efforts. He it was who introduced the International Sunday School lessons in the schools throughout this section of Western Ontario.

As president of the Brant County Sabbath School Association, he was simply indefatigable, visiting all the schools in his jurisdiction from time to time. He was also an enthusiastic and prominent member of the Provincial Sabbath School Association, holding important offices in that well known organization. Mr. Hossie was one of the charter members of the order of Canadian Home Circles, and occupied the office of treasurer. As a loyal son of the hearth, he always took a keen interest in his native land, and of the St. Andrew's Society.

The deceased was three times married, his third wife only predeceasing him last March. He leaves to mourn the loss of a fondly affectionate father, three daughters and one son, viz: Mrs. James Sheriff, Caeserville, Saskatchewan; Mrs. Garrett, Brantford; Miss Hossie, Brantford; and Mr. W. Hossie, Winnipeg. The latter happened to be passing through Brantford last evening from the West, and arrived just in time to be present at the bedside of his father. The funeral will take place to Goderich on the departure of the 10 o'clock G. T. R. train Wednesday morning.

In politics, Mr. Hossie was one of the old school Liberals, and numbered among his staunchest friends the late Premier Sir Oliver Mowat and the late Premier, the Hon. A. S. Hardy.

He was a sterling citizen in every sense of the word. Courteous and kindly in all his actions—a loving father, a loyal friend, a conscientious and upright Government official, his loss will be distinctly felt, apart from the bereft home circle, both in the church and state. To the bereaved family the sincerest sympathy of friends throughout the city and province will go out, in which sentiment The Courier begs leave to join.

"After life's fitful fever he sleeps well."

Tribute from Mr. Gardiner.

At the Institute for the Blind this morning, Mr. Gardiner, the Principal, addressed the pupils and informed them of the great loss they all had sustained by the lamented demise of Mr. Hossie. He paid an affectionate tribute to their late bursar, who for so many years had fulfilled so capably the duties of his office, and who had so endeared himself to the staff and pupils alike. The flag at the Institute is half masted to-day in memory of the late bursar.

The death occurred at 1:30 Sunday morning of Mrs. Oxtoby, an old and greatly esteemed resident. She was 78 years of age, and had only been ill for three days. Heart failure was the cause of her demise.

The deceased came to Canada from Scotland when a girl, and her husband up until the time of his death, many years ago, was a conductor on the railway running between this city and Buffalo. She was an adherent of Grace church, a devoted mother and kind friend. She leaves five children to mourn her loss—Mrs. Ross, Stillwater, Minn.; Mrs. Fralick, Syracuse, N.Y.; Mrs. Beney, Brantford; Sgt. Major Oxtoby, Brantford; and Frank, Oxtoby, Syracuse. Margaret Oxtoby, in an unostentatious way, was constantly doing acts of kindness, and her generous deeds and thoughtfulness rightly endeared her to the hearts of very many.

With the City Police

When the case of Jim Tasker a Bulgarian, charged with a serious offence was called at the police court this morning, the defendant did not appear, he having been allowed out on bail, and a warrant was immediately issued for his re-arrest.

Andrew Kseminski was charged with the theft of $127 from Peter Geros. The plaintiff claimed that he went to Kseminski's home and was invited to drink, after which he had a sleep. When he awoke a purse in which the money was located, was missing. Kseminski denied that he had seen it at all. The plaintiff went after the police, and when he came back with an officer the accused told him that his money was under a mat under the bed. Geros was positive that he had not placed it there, and accused Kseminski of the theft.

Kseminski claimed that he took charge of Geros roll because the plaintiff was drunk and he was simply keeping it until he would sober up again.

Magistrate Livingston told the accused that he did not believe his story and therefore found him guilty. His Worship took into consideration the fact that Kseminski had never before been in court and upon payment of costs $9.85 suspended sentence.

A charge of keeping liquor for sale was dismissed as there was no evidence that Kseminski had taken any money for drink given to his friends.

An Auto Case.

John Spedding was charged with driving his automobile in a careless manner on Dalhousie street, thereby doing damage to a car belonging to Mr. J. R. Layton of Paris, to the amount of $36.00. A plea of not guilty was entered.

Mr. Layton declared that he was going east on Dalhousie street, when Mr. Spedding shot around the Market St. corner, turning west on Dalhousie street. The defendant, the witness said, was not on his right side, and did not turn the corner according to regulations.

Several witnesses were called by the plaintiff, each corroborating Mr. Layton's evidence.

Mr. Spedding did not have his witnesses present and he asked for an adjournment until to-morrow morning. This was granted.

Wm. Goff and Chas. Prime were charged with trespassing on the G. T. R. property. A plea of guilty was entered, both boys admitting that they were riding "blind" baggage from Chatham to Syracuse, N.Y. They stated that they ran out of money in Chatham and had to get out and look for work. Sergeant Wallace stated that the youngsters gave him a merry chase before he landed them and the accused seemed to enjoy the officer's chase, and they smiled all over their faces as the sergeant told of the chase. Magistrate Livingston thought that the youngsters were simply travelling in hard luck, and allowed them to go, thinking that they might be able to get work.

Baseball Responsible

Wm. Simpson is an ardent supporter of a ball fan himself, and John McGinley is just as ardent a supporter of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics. On Saturday night, after a championship had been decided, both fans met on Darling St., and a lively argument ensued, finally leading to a fistic encounter. One of the interested spectators happened to be His Worship Mayor Hartman, but just as the contestants got nicely started, a constable happened along and ended the fun. This morning both men appeared to be good natured, and smilingly told the court that they became too enthusiastic.

Magistrate Finestone, being somewhat of a ball fan himself, understood the situation thoroughly. I was rooting for New York to win myself," he said to the New York fan. As both men had never been in court before he suspended sentence, telling the accused men to leave baseball alone now for another year.

Laid at Rest

Mrs. S. Glazier.

Notwithstanding the rain on Saturday afternoon, a very large crowd besides the S. A. band, with colors draped, songsters with white sashes, and many members of the S. A. gathered at the home of the deceased, at 27 Sarah street. After a brief service, led by Mrs. Brigadier Adby of Hamilton, assisted by Ensign Trickey and Rev. Mr. McClintock of this city, the large procession formed up and proceeded to the S. A. Citadel at the funeral strains of the band. The pall bearers were all sisters, and in their white sashes made an impressive sight. The names are as follows: Songster Sgt. Mrs. B. Smith, Songster Sec'y, Mrs. Milloy, Songsters Miss R. Field, Mrs. J. Allen, Miss E. Burdett and Miss N. Uden. The service proper was held at the Citadel when a vocal selection "Home beautiful Home," was sung by the songsters, also a duet, "Be Waiting and Watching," by Ensign and Mrs. Trickey, Bandmaster Sparks of Paris and Mrs. Smith each spoke of the devoted life of the departed one, until a few weeks ago, presided at the piano. At the memorial service Sunday night, the band played the "Dead March in Saul," and a special choir of children in white sang impressively "Above the waves of earthly strife." The address was given by Mrs. Adby to a crowd that completely filled the Citadel to the doors. Much sympathy is expressed for the husband, a bandsman, the mother, two sisters and the three little ones left to mourn. The tributes included Pillow, husband and family; harp, mother, sisters and aunt; Salvation Army Songsters; lyre, Salvation Army Young Peoples Workers; sprays, Mr and Mrs J. W. Milburn, Mr and Mrs R. Cooper, carpenters at Hospital, Mr and Mrs Holman, Mrs Richards and Miss Whiting, Mr and Mrs E. J. Wilbe, Mr and Mrs Allen.

Women's Institute

The October meeting of the Moyles-Tranquility Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. E. D. Clump on Wednesday, the 8th. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. J. Hurley (who was officially attending the St. George Institute) Mrs. Barnie very ably filled the chair. The minutes of last meeting were heard and business transacted by the sec-treas, Mrs. G. T. Wood. A very interesting program followed, roll call was responded to by quotations on the value of cheerfulness in our every day life, followed by a most delightful paper on the value of cheerfulness by Mrs. E. Sowden, which was much appreciated by all the ladies present. Mrs. Sayles gave a most instructive demonstration in shirtwaist making, which deeply interested all. Exchange of patterns, and many of the ladies brought their fancy work, as fall sewing was one of the subjects on the program.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The meeting closed with "God Save the King."

Will Be There.

(Hamilton Herald.)

Soon the Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists of Canada may be using the same hymnal—a preliminary step to union, perhaps. The good old hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" is sure to be in the new book.

Latest News Of Steamer Disaster

seven o'clock in the evening made a perilous trip to the Grosset Kurfirst in a small boat with three others from the Voltorno. The little craft was drifting when she was picked up by one of the life-boats from the Grosset Kurfirst. The total number of those saved is believed to be 52.

Tremendous Force.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—Evidence that the explosion which started the fire upon the Uranium Steamer Voltorno was of tremendous force is to be found in a statement received by wireless here via Cape Race from one of the rescue vessels, the Grosset Kurfirst, and which says that forty men were killed by it. This statement also contains the information that Captain Best of the Voltorno is wounded, though no details of his injury or how he came by it are given. The message which was despatched from the Grosset Kurfirst on Sunday morning reads as follows:

Four Colturno boats were smashed; two boats with one hundred souls missing; forty men were killed by explosion; most of women and children on the Seydlitz. Captain of the Voltorno on Kronland wounded.
