"Bad Tactics."

SIR EDWARD MORRIS HAD TO INCREASE THE UNDERWRITING COMMISSION FIFTY PER CENT. IN ORDER TO INDUCE THE MARKET TO GUARANTEE THE ISSUE OF THE 1912 RAILWAY LOAN.

"Bad Tactics" is the way the Montreal Financial Times of Saturday last sums up Sir Edward Morris's conduct of the loan he recently negotiated.

This headline appears over a paragraph of financial news cabled from London to the New York Post by its London correspondent. Here it is in part:-

"Some recent borrowers, notably Newfoundland and the city of Edmonton, had to increase the underwriting commission from 1 to 1½ per cent. in order to induce the market to guarantee the issues. Such a policy cannot long continue, as the knowledge that such high terms are offered will restrain the public from subscribing, investors knowing full well that they will be able to buy the securities at a discount later on."

It will be remembered that on Monday last we asked the Premier if he had floated the bonds for the railway loan provided for last session; and if so, why he had been so silent about it. On Tuesday the Premier gave an answer. He said the issue of new bonds had been arranged, and that the price was 93. As this is 4½ points below the issue price of the 1910 loan, a reason for the absence of any cable message of jubilation was at once apparent.

The burden of Sir Edward's song was that he had struck a bad time in London. We immediately asked why it was that he had arranged for the issue at this particular time instead of later on. No answer to this query has been furnished. Now comes the news of extra inducements being given to the underwriters in the way of commission. No wonder the Premier was so glum and silent about his latest adventure in the money market, and had not a word to say until it was forced out of him.

Regatta Notes.

This day three weeks and the races will have come and gone. The Torbay juveniles have had a spin on the Lake, and if they improve any our boys will be up against it.

Work on the new Lion is nearing completion; all the outside wood work is finished.

It is decided that the Highlanders will not enter in the Brigade race. Over thirty crews had a practice on the Lake last evening.

The News, Herald and Chronicle press crews are now getting in trim.

Sagona Here.

The s.s. Sagona, Capt. Parsons, arrived here at 12.30 p.m. to-day. The ship went to Holton, which she reached on the 13th, and had bad weather with N. E. winds and fog all the time going north. She met a heavy field of loose ice from Belle Isle in the Straits down to George's Island, and from that north a close pack of heavy Arctic ice. It is impossible to do any fishing owing to the presence of the floe. At Bolster's Rock traps had from 20 to 70 qts. and if the people could keep their twine in the water they would do good work, as cod is plentiful. From Long Island north there is no sign yet. They got a couple of barrels of fish at Long Island when the ship was there. No sign at Wolf Islands, Indian Tickle or anywhere north of that. Coming south the ship met the Straits fleet of schooners. A S. W. wind was then blowing which Capt. Parsons says will clear the coast. He thinks that by this time the people can keep their twine out. Her passengers were Capt. O'Brien, Messrs. Grant and Loder and 4 steerage.

Attempted Suicide on the Sagona.

Abraham Burgess, a messroom steward on the Sagona, while the ship was at Dead Island, twice attempted suicide by drowning. He was about to leap over the rail when caught by the men, and next morning at 6 he left his room and jumped overboard. He would have drowned but that his uncle jumped after him with a rope about his waist, and swimming to the map, who sank repeatedly, he grasped him and was drawn aboard by stewards Whitty and Hutchings. The man then became violently insane and was landed here in a straight jacket.

S.U.F. Outing.

The annual outing of the S. U. F. was held yesterday afternoon. A special train left town at 2.30 with a party of 300 on board for Kelligrewa. Games were indulged in during the evening and all entered into the fun with great zest. At night a dance was held and terminated at 2.30 a.m., when return to town was made.

By no means is it the only good thing in the store. Everything here is good. But some how people kind o' judge a store by its Tea.

We are willing you should.

The First Contingent.

People in the West End were surprised to-day to see a number of men walk ashore from the dredge Priestman bearing rifles on their shoulders. People present on the wharf wondered if this was the first contingent of the 20,000 fishermen promised by Sir E. P. Morris to man the English fleet of Dreadnoughts. Others would like to know if the new rifles paid duty, and some curious ones said they would interview Mr. W. K. Morrissey on the subject as he should know; others still aver that they had heard that this was to be the nucleus of a bodyguard for the Premier to be designated "Edward's Own."
