ADMIRAL LORD COLLINGWOOD born 1750. First saw service in the American war and fought on shore at the Battle of Bunker Hill (1775). In the "Royal Sovereign" he was second in command to Nelson at Trafalgar and assumed command on the latter's death.

JOHN SIMS REEVES born 1818. English tenor vocalist with a voice of rare richness and volume. From 1841-42 he sang in tenor parts at Drury Lane, and subsequently went to Paris and Milan to pursue a course of study. After his return in 1857 he soon acquired an almost unrivalled reputation as a tenor vocalist and continued to sing until shortly before his death, being then 82.

MARQUIS WELLESLEY died 1842, aged 84. He was the elder brother of the Duke of Wellington and distinguished himself as Governor-General of India in which he conceived schemes which ended in the breaking up of the Maratha power and the expulsion of the French from India.

P. W. FABER died 1863, aged 49. The hymn-writer and oratorian who was educated for the English Church but under the influence of Cardinal Newman went over to the Church of Rome. His hymns are remarkable for their lofty spirituality and beauty of form.

GEORGE CRUIKSHANK born 1792. English caricaturist, chiefly remembered by his squibs against George IV and the Comic Almanack, the predecessor of Punch. He illustrated many of Dickens' books but it was as a moralist that he is known in most of his later work.

BOSSUET born 1627. An eminent French Bishop and theologian, whose sermons are of striking eloquence, and whose historical and controversial works are of high literary merit.

BATTLE OF BUSHACO 1810. An engagement between the French and Wellington in which the latter was forced to retreat, which he carried out in such a masterly way that the English troops reached Torres Vedras undefeated and in good order.

Pray, Pray Ye, and Wait.

(The Patriot's View.)

With events blowing whither no foresight can tell,
The counsel is wise:
Pray, pray ye, and wait,
In no rignard, under no fetish spell,
But heart unto heart,
With God at the gate!

The Belgians, stout-hearted, have led us the way,
Their pluck has led in it no trace of dismay;
With the world affire, they have stubborn withstood
The Kaiser and his blood-battered for blood—
With their homes sacrificed the nations to save,
They have dared to hold back the storm's tidal wave—
God's hand on events,
As pray we and wait.

And what is there then for us self-adviced?
The counsel is wise:
Pray, pray ye, and wait,
Till the path not yet trodden becomes undisguised,
As pray we and wait we.

Britannia still holds her sway on the seas:
Her flag emboldens freedom on every breeze;
Fair France is soul-quickened to conquer or die,
Tricolor in hand, as the Germans drive night;
The Russians halt westward a horde, 'gainst a horde,
Prepared to unseal the Kaiser's drawn sword—
God's hand on events,
As pray we and wait.

What further then is there we home-birds should do?
The counsel is wise:
Pray, pray ye, and wait!
Is the campaigning ours to guide through and through,
While experience glows,
With God at the gate?

Our Kitchener stands a revealed providence:
More than once he has turned down envy's pretence:
And his it now to ward off surprise.
In spite of all babbling and poison-mixed lies:
He knows what is what, and a trained battle-brunt,
With "Bois" at his elbow, and French at the front,
God's hand on events,
While pray we and wait.

—J. M. Harper.

Air: "Dolly Grey."
It will soon be an'noir,
Newfoundland,
For we're going to the war,
Newfoundland,
With the Frenchmen and the Bear
And Tommy Atkins we'll be there,
Oh, won't old Billy swear,
Newfoundland,
Thought he'd wade through Belgium's
streams,
Newfoundland,
And blow France to smithereens,
Newfoundland,
He thought England would stand by
And let France and Belgium die
He sure didn't know John Bull,
Newfoundland.

Chorus:
Good-bye dear old Terra Nova,
Good-bye dear old Newfoundland,
When we get to the front we'll tell
the Kaiser,
To prepare for his last stand;
For our boys in khaki are sailing
To a rendezvous across the sea
So now Kaiser William don't get nervous
When you see them on your lee.

Hark ye to the bugle call,
Newfoundland,
She'll have our best, our all,
Newfoundland,
To the front we'll hasten oh,
To fight the Mother Country's foe,
We'll make German claret flow,
Newfoundland,
Won't his nightiness be sore,
Newfoundland,
When we knock at his front door,
Newfoundland,
The would-be ruler of the moon
Will wish he'd kept a spare halloo
When he sees our boys so soon,
Newfoundland.
