Bloomfield and McTigue Draw.

THE IRISHMAN FOUGHT EIGHT
ROUNDS WITH AN INJURED ARM.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—The ten round bout between the two middleweights, Mike McTigue, of Halifax, and Jack Bloomfield, of London, England, here tonight, at the Mount Royal Arena, resulted in a draw in the opinion of both sporting editors of the two Montreal morning papers.

Louis Larivee, of LeCanada, says that Bloomfield was floored in the first round, and was only saved by the gong, but after that he came back and had the edge on McTigue in the second round. Thereafter, the rounds were pretty even. McTigue scored the best blows, but Bloomfield was much the cleverer boxer and made McTigue miss him on many occasions. The latter was relying on a left hook which he could never put over. At the end of the tenth round Bloomfield showed no signs of having been knocked down in the first round. Both finished strong.

William Morrison, of Gazette says: "Fighting eight rounds with an injured arm, Mike McTigue who outpointed Jack Bloomfield in a previous meeting, fought a draw with Bloomfield in the feature bout of the National Sporting Club's entertainment at Mount Royal Arena to-night. The accident occurred in the closing moments of the second round when McTigue swung a right hand blow at Bloomfield's head. The blow was stopped by Bloomfield's left and the sudden contact shattered McTigue's elbow."

"McTigue fought out the remaining rounds, using his left arm punches the greater part of the time, only attempting to cross with the right occasionally. Previous to the accident McTigue had much the better of the bout. In the first round he set too fast a pace for Bloomfield and knocked him down for the count of five. Bloomfield being saved by the gong."

"Bloomfield earned the honors of the second round and as the fight progressed became more confident and forced the fighting although unable to land any telling punches on McTigue. In the remaining rounds there was little advantage to Bloomfield even with McTigue fighting with an injured arm. Bloomfield was unaware of the injury to McTigue's arm and continued to be cautious all through."

In the ten-round bout between Roddie McDonald, of Glace Bay, and J. McLaughlin, of Halifax, middleweights, the referee stopped the bout in the fourth round, awarding the decision to McDonald. The crowd were of opinion that these fighters were not putting up their best efforts at first, and there was considerable booing. At this McDonald waded in to McLaughlin and cut him to pieces. The fight was easily McDonald's, who completely outpointed the Halifax man.

Too Literal.

Lady Helen Munro-Ferguson, wife of the ex-Governor General of the Australian Commonwealth, who is shortly returning to England with her husband, is, of course, a daughter of the late Lord Dufferin, and spent a good part of her early life in India when her father was Viceroy.

Amongst other stories of her experience out there that she tells is one concerning a certain native who kept a florist's shop in Simla.

One day (says Lady Munro-Ferguson) it chanced that a young soldier died near there, and as is usual in such cases his comrades subscribed for a wreath.

A telephone message was sent to the florist in question instructing him as to the size and form of the floral emblem, and he was told to put the inscription, "Rest in Peace," on both sides, and if there was room, "We shall meet in Heaven."

The native carefully repeated the instructions word for word, but when the wreath was delivered on the day of the funeral the comrades of the deceased were horrified to find that the inscription on it read as follows: "Rest in peace on both sides, and if there is room we shall meet in heaven."

When laying linoleum or oilcloth, the boards or flags should have a good covering of sawdust sprinkled evenly over them to prevent them wearing through the line. Do not cover the whole of the floor with sawdust at once, but gradually, as you unroll the oilcloth, so that it does not get uneven as the covering is laid.

This sawdust absorbs any damp in the room, and gives a springy feeling to the feet; moreover, the pattern will not get worn off in patches, as it very often does when only newspapers are used underneath.

Moistened sawdust is very good to sprinkle over linoleums, oilcloths or carpet, before sweeping. It will collect all the dust, and make the patterns show up wonderfully. It must not be left long on the floor covering, but swept up a few minutes before it has time to dry.

When Mother's Advice is Most Needed

A GIRL'S future health and happiness depends to a large extent on conditions during the adolescent period.

At about fourteen years of age important mental and physical changes are taking place, which every girl should understand. Then it is that she needs the care and advice of her mother.

Unfortunately this is about the time when school work and examinations are likely to prove an excessive strain on the nervous system.

Anemia, chlorosis or nervous breakdown in the form of St. Vitus' dance are not uncommon at this age.

There is a failure of the blood to supply the nourishment required by the nervous system. Excessive mental effort consumes the nervous energy required to insure good digestion and the proper functioning of the vital organs.

It is surprising to find how quickly the nervous system responds to the restorative influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. There is no longer any question that this treatment is admirably suited to help girls through this most critical period of their lives.

In almost every community are many cases to prove the exceptional restorative influence of this well-known treatment.

The use of the nerve food stimulates the appetite, improves digestion, and builds up the system in every way.

Miss Rena B. Crossland, Kempt, Queen's Co., N.S., writes: "I feel it a duty, as well as a privilege, to tell of the wonderful benefit I derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In March, 1917, I had anæmia of the brain, and the mental and physical suffering I endured is indescribable. I had treatment from three doctors, and for twelve days was unconscious; while for three months I was fed and cared for like an infant. My mother was so anxious for me to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that she crushed it and baked it in my food. After using two boxes I could feed myself, and after using it for two months, my health improved so rapidly that doctors and friends said my recovery was a miracle.

"I cannot recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food too highly, even to those who seem to be facing death. We keep it in the house now, and I use it occasionally to 'keep fit.' I shall always regret that I did not follow my mother's advice and use it while I was away teaching, whenever I felt nervous or tired. But as I had no serious illness and did not realize the value of it, I neglected heeding mother's advice until it was too late and I had a complete breakdown. But, thanks to Providence and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I have been enjoying my former health and strength for the past two years."
