

Cochrane Street Sunday School

HONOR. REV. DR. BOND.

Cochrane Street Methodist Centennial Sunday School held its Anniversary Services in the Church yesterday under most favorable auspices, the weather being ideal, a fair attendance of parents, and a full school force. The Rev. D. B. Hemmison, B.A., conducted the morning worship, and before taking up his sermon said that probably this would be the last opportunity his many friends of Cochrane Street would have of hearing him. Mr. Hemmison spoke of the pleasure it gave him for the past seven years of addressing the congregation at different intervals, and appreciated very much the courtesy and the very kind way he had been received. The sermon based on the text, "Ye are the Temple of God" was a very homely one, but a clear house. Reference was made to the sleeping room, living room, and best room of one's life. The young people were especially exhorted to look out for things that have no right in the life, to seek the beautiful and best things, and to always have God's Spirit, which gives a pure life as well as a pure heart.

Rev. Dr. Bond presided over the afternoon gathering, which had an exceptionally bright programme. The various exercises by the tiny tots of the beginners, and the Primary Departments, were well taken. Secretary Miller reported on the work of the school for the past year. The recitation by Miss Barnes was a masterpiece. Mr. Hatcher's solo was heard to good advantage, as was also Miss McKay's rendition of "O that ye had hearkened." Mr. Watson, of the Grenfell International Mission, gave the address, which was brim full of interest to the scholars, closing his appeal by holding up three ideals, "giving the best," "quest of the best," and "doing one's best." At this juncture of the programme, Rev. Dr. Bond was presented with a nicely illuminated address, the work of Mr. Reg. Hatcher, which was read by Mr. J. J. Miller, Secretary of the School; Miss Brenda Marshall presented a handsome bouquet of flowers, and Master Ted Dwyer a suitably engraved purse of gold.

ADDRESS.

June 12th, 1921.
The Rev. G. J. Bond, L.L.D.,
City.

Dear Dr. Bond—On this the Anniversary day of Cochrane Street Methodist Centennial Sunday School, with which you have been connected for the past five years, we ask your acceptance on behalf of the teachers and scholars of the accompanying purse and bouquet of flowers. Your interest in the young people has been shown by your regular attendance at the school sessions from Sunday to Sunday, and your frequent talks, not only from the school platform, but also from the pulpit. You have always sought to stimulate, encourage and help us in making our school one of the very best and you have ever been anxious that the lives of the boys and girls should copy the life of Him who is our Saviour.

We regret having to bid you farewell, but we know that in your new sphere of labor you will have the sympathy and assistance of all your young people. This will brighten your life and help in your work.

We pray that the richest blessing of our Father may be yours in the coming years.

On behalf of the Officers and Teachers:

ARTHUR C. PETERS, Supt.
WM. J. MILLER, Secy.
ANNIE G. GILES.
TED. DROVER.
NORM. BURE.
BRENDA MARSHALL.
R. A. YOUNG.
OLGA CROSBIE.

Rev. Dr. Bond, who was entirely new to the young people, at the evening service, taking as his text, "I must be about my Father's business." The preacher beautifully portrayed the boy Jesus at the age of 12 years, going with His parents up to the Feast of the Passover, and then was afterwards found amongst the doctors and other great men, modestly asking questions and receiving answers. The sermon closed with a heart-searching appeal for better and nobler lives for the young people of this day and generation. Miss McKay's beautiful rich voice was again heard to splendor.

did advantage in the rendition of "He shall feed His flock," which was very highly commented on by members of the congregation, who had heard the soloist for the first time. The Organist, Mr. Arthur Mews, must be congratulated on his work of training the scholars. The singing was hearty, and must have entailed an immense amount of work and practice.

The Labor Situation.

UNEMPLOYED BEING REGISTERED.

According to an arrangement made on Saturday, between the Prime Minister, Sir Richard A. Squires, and the Committee of the Unemployed, a Labor Bureau was opened in the Millie Building this morning. The work of registering the names of these unemployed is in charge of Major Butler, D.S.O., M.C. A large number of men were at the office to have their names recorded, and there was no let up for meal hour. The names, age, last occupation, and the principal of the Committee male enquires in this connection and was told that in the event of the Government not being able to place men at their previous work, or find suitable employment for them, the clerical men will be empowered to give relief according to conditions. The men who had their names recorded to-day were not given any work, but they were promised that within 48 hours something would be done.

Wedding Bells.

WOODFORD-ROSS.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's Church on Thursday afternoon, June 9th, when Mr. William Woodford, son of Mrs. and the late John Woodford, Postal Telegram Operator this city, and Miss Jessie Ross, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ross, Inverness, Scotland, were united in the bonds of matrimony.

The bride was attired in a white satin dress, with veil and wreath of orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of carnations. She was attended by Miss Mary Peaney, who wore a dress of sage blue silk with hat to match. The groom was supported by Mr. Thomas Christopher, and Mr. Cyril Lush. The groom's present to the bride was a white-summer fur; to the bridesmaid, a gold pendant; and to the best man a gold tie-pin.

Rev. Dr. Kitchin performed the marriage ceremony, after which the happy couple repaired to the home of the groom's mother where a reception was held. The health of the bride and groom was excellently toasted by Mr. Christopher, to which the groom splendidly responded.

After the reception the newly wedded couple, with immediate friends, motored to Waterford Bridge, where the train was taken for Foxtrap, where the honeymoon is being spent. Mr. and Mrs. Woodford were the recipients of many presents, including some very valuable ones from Scotland, which testified to the esteem and popularity of both. Their many friends wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

House of Assembly.

MONDAY, June 13.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Hon. The Minister of Justice—To ask leave to introduce a Bill entitled: "An Act for the Quieting of Titles."

Hon. The Prime Minister—To move that a Committee of the House be appointed to consider the question of the future operation of the Railway.

Hon. The Prime Minister—To move the Suspension of the Rules respecting all matters now before the House or to come before it.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister why it is that no progress has been made with the building of the new freight sheds in St. John's authorized under the Loan Bill of last year and the early erection of which was promised at that time, and why does not the Government proceed at present with this public work the necessity of which was then claimed to be very great, seeing that just now there is widespread distress among the working people of this city as a result of unemployment, and the starting of this work would do much to lessen the extent of such unemployment.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in his capacity of Chairman of the Railway Commission, to lay on the table of the House a statement signed by the Government Engineer, showing the progress made up to May 28th on the completion of the freight cars under construction for the Railroad setting out (a) the number of cars actually completed and ready for use, (b) the stages of completion of the remainder, and (c) the dates on which any or all will likely be delivered as ready for use.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in his capacity as Chairman of the Railway Commission, to lay on the table of the House a statement signed by the Government Engineer giving an estimate of the additional Revenue received by the Railway Company during the current fiscal year through the increase of one cent per mile on first class passenger rates put into effect when the Commission assumed the control of the Railroad a year ago.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in his capacity of Chairman of the Railway Commission, if the Government Engineer has made during 1920 the tour of inspection of the Railroad, provided under the Railway contract, and if so to lay on the table of the House a copy of the same, and if not, why not? Also to furnish a special report from the Government Engineer showing what improvements, if any, were made in the railroad track, bridges, etc., between January 1st and June 30, 1920, by the Railway Company, and since the first of July 1920 by the Railway Commission.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to lay on the table of the House a statement showing what sales, if any, had been made up to the end of last month of Labrador fish purchased on behalf of the Government at Nova Scotia, and amount paid for the said fish, specifying its actual cost and also the amount for expenses and the amount received for it when sold, showing the loss thereon and also the loss per qt. and to state where the remainder of this fish is and when, if ever, he expects to sell it.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to lay on the table of the House an estimate of the losses sustained by the fishermen and the business people of this country through the operations of his fish regulation policy since the present Government took office in November 1919 and if he intends to propose any measures to recoup these people even in part for these losses?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister if it is the intention of the Government to introduce any legislation at the present session as promised by him in his manifesto and if not, why not?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries if it is correct that the dredge is not to be opened this year, but that her officers and crew are to be paid full wages and if so it is intended to apply the same principle to all other branches of his Department?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister if Mr. J. M. Devine holds his appointment in New York as Trade Commissioner under a written agreement, and if so to lay on the table of the House a copy of the same, and if not to state the substance of the oral contract under which he is serving as Trade Commissioner.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Minister of Shipping (a) how much salt has been sold from the cargo of the "Henrik Lund" and what quantity remains; (b) how much of the salt has been sold for cash and how much on credit; (c) why has sales have been made on credit and to table a list of the parties receiving same; and (d) to say in any event if the F.P.U. or any of its associated companies has been given any of this salt on credit and if so, why?

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister when the people of this country may expect him to put into effect the promise he made in his manifesto in November 1919 to reduce taxation and lessen the cost of living in this country and to lay on the table of the House a statement showing the percentage of increase in the cost of living which the new taxes as told by the Budget now before the House would involve to the great mass of the people of this country from now on.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the Prime Minister to what extent, if any, is the Government involved in the proposed development of the copper mines at Tilt Cove and Little Bay as mentioned in Mr. Coaker's circular of April 22nd, to the members of the F.P.U. as published in the Evening Telegram of Friday last and what justification, if any, is there for Mr. Coaker's statement that from 2,000 to 3,000 men are likely to be employed in these mines and how does he reach the conclusion that the outlook for copper properties in this country is a favorable one at the present time when the fact is that all over the world copper mines are being shut down because of low prices of product and the small demand for it, and also to lay on the table copies of any documents in relation to the proposed developments of these properties which the Government may have in its possession.

Sir M. P. Cashin—To ask Hon. the

A Generous Action.

The unemployed at a meeting held in the F.P.U. Hall on Saturday, made a presentation of a bag of silver, amounting to $87.00 to Mr. G. V. B. Ayre, their Solicitor, in appreciation of his services. The donation represents 10 cents each from the men who had been employed on the relief work. Mr. Ayre, however, rendered his services freely, and purpose passing the amount over to the Child Welfare Fund, an act of generosity and thoughtfulness which will be received as it so well merits the thanks and appreciation not only of the men, but of the public generally.
