

Lord Rothermere Looks For Other Sources For Paper Supplies.

Moosajaw Police Implicated in Extensive Burglary Scheme--British Government Have Recognition of Mexico Under Consideration--McAdoo's Candidacy Strongly Supported.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO.

LONDON, Feb. 18. The question of recognition of the Mexican Government by Great Britain was raised by several members of the House of Commons this afternoon. Premier MacDonald replied that recognition of Mexico had raised complicated issues which could be very well dealt with in questions and answers. The Government would not lose any time in deciding one way or another.

MOOSEJAW UNDER ARREST FOR ROBBERY.

MOOSEJAW, Feb. 18. Seven city police constables are under arrest and held in cells at the police station, and two others are under suspension, all implicated by confessions made by four of them of a series of thefts from numerous Moosejaw stores extending over a period of about a year. Truck loads of loot have been recovered from the homes of the men. The robberies have been conducted systematically since April 1923.

MOTHERMERE SEEKING NEW PULP FIELDS.

LONDON, Feb. 18. Lord Rothermere, prominent English newspaper proprietor, brother of the late Lord Northcliffe, will, during his proposed visit to Canada and the United States, make investigation in pulp and paper industries with a view of assuring further supplies for his British interests whose consumption of newsprint is enormous. He expects to sail about the end of February. His plans do not include a visit to the Northcliffe pulp and paper plant at Grand Falls, Newfoundland.

MINERS APPEAL TO BRITISH UNIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 18. The appeal of the Nova Scotia miners, who went on strike Jan. 15th, to the British Federation of Miners, for assistance in connection with their plans to resume operations, will be considered by the Federation's Executive on Thursday.

ALMOST ALL MINES WORKING.

SYDNEY, Feb. 18. All mines in Cape Breton, South, are working to-day, except No. 15 at New Waterford, which may start up tomorrow. At Sydney Mines, Jubilee workings and other pits in the North are expected to resume operations tomorrow. Stellarton miners are all out but may return to work at any time, according to advices received here. Pending instructions from John Lewis, Silby Barrett is taking no action against these mainland locals.

DENBY ASSERTS INNOCENCE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. After repeatedly declaring he would quit the Cabinet under the fire of those who have criticized his part in the oil leasing programme, Secretary Denby notified President Coolidge this morning that he was ready to step out. Not only is Secretary

Denby a party to the oil leases, having affixed his signature, along with that of Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, but he repeatedly has defended his part in the proceedings; and has declared publicly since the present controversy arose that he believed the contracts legal and would be willing to pursue the same course again.

MCADOO ACCLAIMED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. Wm. Gilbre McAdoo will remain in the Democratic Presidential Nomination race, if he abides by the decision of his supporters from forty-four states here to-day. Unanimous approval of his candidacy was voted before the meeting recessed this afternoon.

BAVARIAN DICTATOR RESIGNS.

MUNICH, Feb. 18. Dr. Van Kahr, Bavarian Military Dictator, has resigned. General Von Lesow, Commander of the Bavarian Reichswehr, has also tendered his resignation.

WAGE SCALE FOR THREE YEARS.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 18. Renewal of the Bituminous Miners' wage scale for a term of three years was approved unanimously by a sub-committee of miners and operators of the central competitive field here late to-day.

Marie Prevost is Brilliant as Gay Super-Flapper

FILMPLAY OF "BEAUTIFUL AND DAMNED" FULL OF GLITTER AND COLOR.

Marie Prevost's latest picture "The Beautiful and Damned," played before a delighted audience yesterday at the Nickel Theatre, where this Warner Brothers' production opened. As Gloria Gilbert the flapper who flaps herself into the hearts of a dozen men Miss Prevost is excellent. The former bathing beauty's delicious sense of humor is in evidence through out the situations of this rollicking picture of gilded youth, riches and ruin.

All who came in expectation of something out-of-the-way were not disappointed, for this is a screen adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's best seller of the same name which intrigued thousands of readers and which, as a picture, is crammed with humor, tense drama, and strong situations—a sparkling fast-moving story that has lost not one whit of its brilliance in the screen version.

As Anthony Patch, the boy-husband, Kenneth Harlan was admirable in the lead opposite Marie Prevost. Briefly, the story deals with Gloria Gilbert, the loveliest flapper in New York—a 1922 model. Men woo her and fall; at last she surrenders to young Anthony Patch, whose mission in life seems to be to wait 'till his wealthy philanthropist grandfather dies and leaves him his millions.

Sunshine to Cure all Diseases

Sir Herbert Barker, the famous manipulative surgeon, has set out on a novel quest. As the great physician, Dr. Sun, seldom visits us in winter, Sir Herbert is seeking him in the West Indies, for which islands he sailed on the Coronado. His object is to test the curative powers of sunlight. "Two years ago," said Sir Herbert to a representative of the Sunday News, "I spent some months in Madeira, that sun-drenched island in the Atlantic. "Every day, and all day while the sun lasted, I was exposed to its rays, either on the foreshore or in the water. My body was tanned a deep brown. All signs of lassitude were gone. I could run, walk and swim a mile without fatigue. "For some time I have been in negotiation for one of the Desert Islands, which lie off Madeira. Here, on the barren rocks, soaked in sun the year out, I thought of trying my scheme. But, before that comes off, I am going to see what I can learn in the West Indies. "Sir Herbert believes that sunlight, if we could expose our bodies to it, would banish disease. Asked how he suggested it might be brought into our daily lives, and when the sun is absent, light itself, Sir Herbert said: "My ideal city would be one of very broad streets flanked by houses in which the present proportion of glass and brick would be reversed. The walls and roofs would be of glass. The sunlight, or the pure daylight, would drench the city. "The dwellers in this imaginary city would be a vital, healthy folk. They would breathe the pure air in place of the clothing we tolerate they would have garments permeable by the light, so that every part of the body received, at least, the filtered rays of the sun. "Disease, I firmly believe, has its stronghold in darkness. Not the clean, healthy darkness of night, but the darkness of narrow streets, unlighted homes, underground rooms. Banish darkness and you banish disease."

Better Health for Women

Any woman who will stop and consider the result of a questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Cobourg, Ont., will in all fairness admit the value of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Fifty thousand replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 women stated they had been benefited or restored to health by its use. This means better health for women in America. It will surely pay any woman who suffers from any ailment or weakness peculiar to her sex to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

You Can't Get Loyalty For the Asking

What about this question of loyalty? Can you buy it? No one has succeeded thus far. Can you force it? Force of any kind is dangerous unless under control, and no one has patented any device to control human force. Can you beg it? No one has acquired any great amount of anything by begging. "Well," you say, in desperation, "how can you obtain it?" The answer is, EARN IT. How can we earn loyalty? What are the rules of the game? Here they are:

- (1) Never promise anything you cannot give, or will not.
- (2) Treat every one alike.
- (3) Remember that every man thinks just as much of his wife, his kiddies, his opinions, and his job as you do.
- (4) Don't boast that you pay the market price for wages if you are a partner to any scheme that tends to fix the price of labor.
- (5) Don't go around swearing to break anything, whether it be unions or what not. Be a builder! Either build or leave alone. If you must tear down, stand ready to build something better on the same site.
- (6) Refuse to let any one try to argue you into anything about the disloyalty of labor by pure hot air. Apply the acid test—"What are the facts?"
- (7) Remember you receive back just what you send forth. Give out curses, wallops, and hard-shell tactics, and you may expect to receive the same things in return.
- (8) Recognize the fact that all real work is honorable, and that every man once had high and lofty aspirations, but in many cases somebody or something greased the ways and he slid down.—Robert Julius Anderson, in Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

THE RADIO AS MEDICINE.

I wonder if the half an hour. He has literally taken a new lease on life. He talks about the soldier's bonus, and the tax reduction, and the stock market and the grand opera with the greatest ease; and he is really far better informed than I am on current events. Because, of course, he does nothing but sit all day and drink in the world's news. He even wanted us to take him to the poultry show next week. Dad, whom we haven't been able to coax into the automobile in two years."

It Helps The T. B. Patient.

Along the same lines, I heard the superintendent of a tuberculosis sanatorium say that radio sets should be part of the equipment of every such institution. One of the greatest difficulties the physicians meet with in these cases is the utter hopelessness of the patient. Lacking contacts with the outside world, and with nothing to stimulate his interest, or take his mind off himself, he feels doomed and lacks the courage to put up that determined fight for life which is half the battle. With the radio, contact with the outside world is re-established, and the whole morale of the institution pulled up. The patients are cheered and interested and haven't just sat with folded hands waiting quietly for the "summons home." He was "ready to go at any time."

A New Lease Of Life.

But all that is changed now. His children gave him a radio set for Christmas. One day last week our friend went to see her father, as is her weekly custom. Usually, he looks forward eagerly to these visits and feels neglected if for any reason they are omitted. "I wish you could have seen him," laughed his daughter, "I came in the door with a cheery greeting as usual, and there sat father with the receivers glued to his ears (you know many deaf people hear perfectly over the radio) and instead of answering, he just held up a silencing knob and I had to sit and twirl my thumbs, while he listened in on a concert that lasted

The Dentist And The Radio.

The most up-to-the-minute device I have yet seen, is the use a clever dentist makes of a little crystal set he has installed in his office. His practice is confined to children, and youngsters who used to shrink from the dentist's chair now climb up unbidden, slip the phones over their ears, "open wide," and settle back for an hour of listening in, oblivious to the operations of the dentist.

Minstrel Entertainment at the Crescent

TO-NIGHT'S SHOW IS ONE OF UNUSUAL INTEREST.

Just the very show everybody has been waiting for, is to be seen at the Crescent to-night. It is a real, old time Minstrel Show, consisting of all the ingredients of enjoyable entertainment. The programme is in two parts as follows:—Mr. Paddy Smith, the conversationalist will be heard in jokes and skits. The first edition and men, Edward Peters and James Murphy will delight patrons with something out of the ordinary in "black-face" characteristics. See the Apostles of Merriment, Dan Delmar and Chas. Wiseman and you'll laugh as you've never laughed before. Hear the Best Brummeis of Melody, Messrs. Redmond, Michaels, Neville and Day in all the old-favourite Darcy songs. Their number will warm your heart to remembrance of the days of Old Virginia. The Grand Finale of Part One will be a number entitled "In Dear Old Newfoundland" words and music of which are by our old friend Dan Delmar. This will be rendered by the full company.

The Southern Concert

WAS A WHOLE OF A SHOW AT STAR MOVIE LAST NIGHT.

There have been many musical concerts held in this city from time to time, but, without doubt, that given last night by the colored artists Messrs. Foster, Hawkes and Zabrickie stands in a class to itself. It was just a feast of music from beginning to end, the different numbers being rendered in a way as only such talented people are capable of doing. Mr. Hawkes' singing of "Every Man My Loves her Child," was probably his best yet, whilst Mr. Zabrickie was very much at home and fearless in his "My Old Kentucky Home." Mr. Foster—whose appearance is the signal for applause—sang "Old Black Joe," and during this, the audience sat amazed, a pin could be heard drop, but at the completion of it there was an outburst of deafening applause. There is no getting away from fact.
