

The Wall Paper styles for next season are quite changed again. The 1903 manufacturers' samples, which we were fortunate enough to secure at a low rate on the dollar, bring out many entirely new shades and striking designs, some pretty Oriental patterns being much admired.

We are, by the way, having splendid success with this special sale of samples, many customers are buying now for spring use. There is one thing certain, we have never had as good values in the different grades as we have now. It's nearly as cheap as the "Fire Sale" paper we sold in the spring.

N. B.—We positively will not reserve any of the above paper unless paid for.

Copenhagen.
Miss L. Sinclair, who has been spending a few weeks under the parental roof, has returned to Detroit.

Revs. McAlister and Fansher, of Aylmer, addressed the Sunday school last Sunday afternoon. Both addresses were very much appreciated by the children as well as the grown people.

Mrs. J. Laidlaw and family, of St. Thomas, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Saunders.

Mrs. P. Simpson and D. Ensley are spending a few days at Richmond.

Mrs. I. Welter, of Middlemarch, is visiting in this place.

Mt. Salem.
W. Garner and family moved on their farm last week.

E. D. Scott and wife, of Muncey, have been spending the past week at J. Clarke's.

There will be no service here next week on account of quarterly services at Jaffa.

Sabbath school will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Marshall is having a brick cellar put under her house.

Cool Garden Spots.
A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions.

The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the elder duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Those who have traveled in arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not bloom during the brief northern summer.

The Skin.
Bathing to many persons is a term embodying an expenditure of time and considerable trouble. It is probably because they do not cleanse the skin until it gives visible signs of its needs. Now, the skin is everlastingly throwing off impurities which you cannot always see with the naked eye, but which will be readily found in the appearance of the bath water even when one bathes each day. When you can wear a white collar a few hours without marring its spotlessness where it comes in contact with the skin, you may have some excuse for thinking that you are perfectly clean and not before. The neatest person I ever saw could not boast of such an achievement, for the thing is well nigh impossible. Nature has provided the pores for drainage purposes, and in health they work without ceasing.
