The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp.

The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient oil lamp and the indispensable Rayo Lamp. There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes.

Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere. Ask your dealer for Rayo lamp; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of

"DUFFY" LEWIS IS MARRIED.

Alameda, Cal., Nov. 3. — George L. ("Duffy") Lewis, left fielder for the Boston Red Sox, and Miss Eleanor Ruth Keane, of Boston, were married in San Rafael and departed today on their honeymoon.

Army men recently returned from the Philippines brought a new musical instrument which is proving a delightful acquisition for the drawing-room. It is called a mandola, and is larger and contains more notes than the ordinary mandolin. Mrs. Reber, daughter of General Miles, introduced the first mandola in Washington.

DOMESTIC HELP IS VERY SCARCE

The Girls Prefer to Work in Factories and Stores Nowadays.

WAIL FROM THE LADIES

More Women in London Are Doing Their Own Housework Today Than Ever Before.

London, in common with many other Canadian cities, is rapidly approaching a crisis in the scarcity of domestic help. It is impossible to secure servants for household work, and at this season of the year there is no avenue of escape from doing her own housework open to the housekeeper who finds herself without servants. In the spring, when the Salvation Army and other societies and guilds are constantly bringing girls to Canada from the British Isles, conditions at least do not become unbearable. The increasing number of women of industrial and commercial work which are constantly opening to women is attracting the Canadian working girl more and more away from household work, and at this particular season and year all the local factories where girls are employed have employment for far more than they can obtain.

Seriously Embarrassed. Some of the local cafes and hotels are seriously embarrassed by an utter inability to secure as many waitresses as they require. So long as the working girl can find more congenial work, and more independent and certain hours of work, she will not turn her attention to domestic work.

Many girls imagine that they are treated with more deference and on nearer terms of equality by their employers in office, mercantile and manufacturing establishments than they would be by their mistresses were they employed in private residences. No more girls will be brought out by the Salvation Army before next spring, according to Major McGillivray of the local army immigration office, and London housewives are at their wit's ends to discover what they are to do in the meantime.

A Ready Solution. In cities like Vancouver and Victoria a ready solution lies in the employment of Chinese, Japanese and Hindu men for domestic work. At present, however, the Chinese and Japanese in Canada are so few that they command high wages, and either become cooks or chefs in most cases, or else drift in business on their own account.

Probably more London ladies are doing their own housework today than ever before.

MORMON PILGRIMS AT SACRED SPOT

Inspect Hill From Which Smith Dug the Golden Plates.

Lyons, N. Y., Nov. 3.—A party of 300 Latter Day Saints, from Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived at Palmyra yesterday morning in an special train over the West Shore Railroad and held special religious services on Mormon Hill. The pilgrims were led by Joseph Smith, Jr., and the tour was especially arranged by G. Albert Smith, a grandson of Joseph Smith. The weather was inclement when the party arrived, but every automobile, hack and vehicle in Palmyra was in line to take the pilgrims out to Mormon Hill. At the special religious service the Salt Lake City chorale choir of 200 voices sang several selections. Returning from the sacred mount, the pilgrims dug the golden plates from which the Book of Mormon was written, the party viewed the Chapman farm, the boyhood home of Smith. This farm was recently purchased by the Mormons, and is said a memorial building shortly to be erected there. After inspecting points of interest, the pilgrims were taken to Grange Hall, where they received by Pliny T. Sexton, president of the First National Bank, who brought out for inspection the original sheets of the Mormon Bible, in the handwriting of Joseph Smith. These sheets were purchased years ago by Banker Sexton from Major Gilbert, who set up into type the first Mormon Bible for Joseph Smith.

These sheets are priceless in the eyes of the Latter Day Saints. Even to this day, when questions of doctrine come up, the disputants have recourse to the original text. In the handwriting of the founder and lawgiver of the sect, Banker Sexton keeps these precious sheets in the bank vaults. He refused a fabulous sum of money for them.

The visitors were close-mouthed and would have nothing to say about contemplated buildings on the Chapman farm. It is understood, however, that the Mormon Church is negotiating for the purchase of Mormon Hill, which is owned by the Sampson family, and plans a temple on the property.

THE SAME OLD KAISER

Makes Tactless Criticism of Religion of Islam.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Kaiser has again brought himself into conflict with a section of his subjects by an indiscreet utterance while conversing with Bishop Munch, head of the German Catholic missions in East Africa. The Kaiser said that the menaced spread of Islam's religion was endangering the German colonies, and that energetic missionary work should be done to counteract the evil. He added that he was pleased that the missionaries were teaching the Mohammedans that it was necessary to teach them religion, but it was not necessary to turn them into canting pietists.

Withelm's condemnation of Islamism was printed in the leading Catholic newspapers, and has drawn severe criticism from other papers, which declare that it is a short-sighted blunder likely to undo at one stroke all the laborious work of the German diplomats in recent years trying to gain the confidence of the Ottoman Empire, which work some time ago caused the Kaiser to be hailed as "the protector of Islam."

The incident is commented on particularly tactless, in view of the war between Italy and Turkey.

This is for the reason that popular sympathy in Germany is strongly on the side of Turkey. It is not surprising, therefore, that a semi-official denial was issued tonight asserting that the Kaiser had not said that the Mohammedans were likely to endanger the German colonies, but that when the seal of the Mohammedan was mentioned in conversation, the Emperor expressed his conviction that the German missions would not fail to carry out their work with equal energy and in concert with the missionaries of Islam.

TWELVE WHITE WOMEN BRIDES OF ORIENTALS

Chinese and Japanese Apparently Find It Easy in Oregon and Washington.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 3.—Twelve white women have been married to members of the Mongolian race during the past ten months. Last week one was married to a Chinaman and one to a Japanese. Both brides were widows, one having a 6-year-old son with her, and being older than the Chinaman she married. The Chinaman himself was half white, his mother having been a white woman. He could not recall her maiden name.

Willie Lee, 28 years old, married Mrs. Ruby M. Columan, said to be 31 years old, both of Portland, Mrs. Lee seemed to be the financial agent of her husband and carried the family purse in a large wallet.

Fred M. Oka, 28 years old, formerly of San Francisco, married Mrs. Edna Browning, a widow, with no children. She is the daughter of J. P. Voyles, of Atlanta, Ga. Oka, well dressed in American clothes, said he keeps a rooming house in Portland.

When they entered the office of the justice of the peace they sat down side by side and neither looked at the other for five minutes, while the justice was filling out papers. He studied the devisor of the license, while she looked far away out of the window.

Mrs. Browning is a comely woman, 25 years old, with a clear complexion and light hair. She was well dressed. When the two stood up and clasped hands, Oka was silent and looked straight ahead. Mrs. Browning did not answer the questions asked, Mrs. Browning merely laughed her assent.

When asked if she would object to having her picture taken, she replied spiritedly, in a rich southern accent, in liquid voice:

"Nothing doing! If you bring a picture machine around here, then will be a fight, I tell you. No pictures for me."

The ceremony over and the fee paid, the bride and her witnesses returned to Portland in the automobile in which they had come.

THE LONDON BOBBIE IS THE BEST OF ALL

Chief Kohler, of Cleveland, Says They Are Finest Looking Men On Any Force.

London, Nov. 3.—Fred Kohler, the golden rule chief of police of Cleveland, Ohio, has just returned from a trip to Europe and leaves for home tomorrow. He visited Paris, Berlin, Vienna and other large continental cities, and his British literary emporium Liverpool, Edinburgh, Belfast, Dublin, Cork and Cardiff.

"Having studied all I could that concerns police administration," he said, "I firmly believe London has the best uniformed policemen in the world, but the training of America is far better than any I came in contact with."

The best detective is born and not made, and the American detective has greater natural aptitude for the work. He is shrewder, "cuter" and quicker to act than his kind in England or on the continent. The police in England and on the continent, however, are helped in their work by the absence of all political influence of which the police in the States, Politics and the police in England are as widely divided as the poles.

"The London police handle the people better than in any other city in the world. The policeman can regulate traffic with ease, the hand of the law can clear a crowd without trouble because the English people are taught to obey the police and the police are supported by the public."

"In the matter of detailed police work and system I should say that Berlin is the nearest to perfection. The moment you enter Berlin you are struck by the cleanliness of the atmosphere, and the appearance of the

Arriving from Monday

On Monday, Mrs. Edwards (who is really a famous trade-mark) arrives in Canada. She is bringing Edwards' desiccated Soup all the way from Ireland.

Edwards' Soup is a thick, nourishing, strengthening soup, prepared from specially selected beef, and the finest vegetables that Irish soil can produce.

It comes to you all ready for the saucepan. It saves time, trouble and expense. It costs so little that everyone can afford it. It will make your dinners far more varied and far easier to prepare.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUP

Look out for a Special Offer in the papers—very soon.

Edwards' Soup is also an excellent addition to your own soups or made dishes. It imparts strength, nourishment, flavour and colour. It improves the skill of those who make and the appetites of those who eat.

streets, and the same sort of thing is found in the police system. "I confess I was agreeably surprised by the neatness and cleanliness of the police in Ireland and the behavior of the Irish crowds during the time of the strike. But in London you have the 'swiftest' looking policemen in the world, and why? Because the authorities can pick and choose the best men from all parts of the British Isles. In Cleveland all residents may become policemen. I heartily approve of the English system, as there is always the danger of the local man being under local influence."

"Our policemen are much harder worked than European police. We have a very large foreign element representing many nationalities and that makes the trouble. "They tell me that in Europe arrest means disgrace in the eyes of the community. In thousands of cases the victims could be dealt with without branding them as criminals. It is a doctrine that must force itself upon people. We ought to help people instead of injuring them and by putting them in jail or fining them on trumps, every charges you are not helping them. It has paid to help them in Cleveland and it will pay in other cities."

BOY WENT HUNGRY TO FEED FAMILY

Their Plight Revealed When He Falls Starving.

New York, Nov. 3.—A pale, sunken-cheeked boy staggered through Great Jones street and in front of No. 3 collapsed in the gutter. He was suffering from starvation.

Food was given him and he said he was Louis Bernstein, 17, of No. 17 East Fourth street. He asked that his mother be sent for.

A few minutes later Mrs. Bernstein, poorly clad and tired looking, pushed her way to the boy. She was advised to send him to the hospital, but she said she preferred taking him home. A collection was taken up by the crowd and $5 given Mrs. Bernstein.

On the way home the boy's condition became so serious that Mrs. Bernstein took him to Bellevue Hospital. There are eight children in the family, the eldest of whom is Louis. The seven who were at home were found in three dark, squalid rooms on the fifth floor of the East Fourth street tenement. Dora, 12, said:

"We lived at No. 154 Second street until yesterday. Then we were displaced. My father was taken sick three months ago and is in St. Joseph's Hospital in the Bronx. Mother has been running a news stand at Bleecker and Lafayette streets and Louis had a job somewhere. What he made and mother made was not enough to feed us and pay rent, but Louis did the best he could."

"Are you children hungry?" the child was asked.

"Well, we haven't had anything to eat today," she replied.

Just then the mother came in with food purchased with some of the money given her by the crowd.
