TRI-COLOR GRIDDERS TAKE CHAMPIONSHIP

Fourth Straight Intercollegiate Title Captured by Batstone and Company.

VARSITY NOT IN IT

Toronto, Nov. 1.-Harry Baistone and his tri-color crew did a lot of things during their short visit to the Varsity stadium on Saturday afternoon, and while practically everything they did was to the dismay of the greater majority of the huge crowd of 18,000 who came to cheer Varsity in their first home game in the intercollegiate rugby series the champion Queens aggregation made the Varsity supporters admit without a dissenting voice that the visitors were much the better team.

Queens seldom made mistakes, while on the other hand the efforts of the Blue and White were continually marred by errors, and they were costly. By winning 17 to 0 Queens won thei fourth straight intercollegiate title, the lengthened their winning streak which commenced in 1922, to twenty-four games, they put Varsity on even terms in the standing with McGill, each team having two defeats in as many starts, they gave the local collegians one of the worst defeats they have ever sufthey gave the local collegians one of the worst defeats they have ever suffered in recent years, at home or abroad, and they demonstrated that they are a real team.

In the last three previous games between the two teams the tri-color has triumphed, but in each one of them they have been helped to victory by one costly fumble by a Varsity back, and as a result there has always been roomfor a controversy as to which was the better team. But on Saturday, while they secured two touchdowns, one of which was converted, by Varsity fumbles behind their own goal line, Queens deserved to win by the margin they did. Seldom did the blue and white flatter the confidence reposed in them by their supporters. They lacked snap, made in excusable fumbles, hit the line like slow freight trains going up a grade and did everything to exact reverse of what was expected of an aggregation which in practice had given promise of being the best team that had represented the Queens Park institution for some years.

Playing against the champions the Varsity was away off while Queens players were at the top of their form, strong in every department of the game.

Argos Weaken in Last Half and Are Put Out of Running.

STANDING. Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Nov. 1 .- With Argos holding a 3 to 0 lead at the end of the third quarter, largely through Joe Breen's brilliant playing, Montreal's Breen's brilliant playing, Montreal's 'Big Four' rugby squad came back strong in the last session to score a rouge and a try to take a 6 to 3 victory in a scheduled fixture at the Montreal A. A. A. grounds on Saturday.

The break came about five minutes after the start in the last quarter, with Montreal behind by two points and ir possession on Argos' 40-yard line. Weir Wright had been injected into play at quarter for Montreal, and the Winged Wheelers were fighting hard. On the first down Wright sent Jeff Russell through just to the right of center, and the speedy back picked his opening to a nicety, and before the Argo secondary defence could close in Russell was away with a clear field to the Argo catching backs, who were on their five-yard line.

Instead of trying for the open field Russell made straight for the awaiting tacklers. As he neared them, they closed in and both made a dive at the same time, but just as he was about to be stopped the flying ball-carrier made a neat pass to Earl Whittall, who had closely followed him down the field. Whittall dashed the remaining distance and crossed the line for a try and the deciding points in the game. 'Big Four' rugby squad came back

Short-Passing Game of Visitors Put Locals Off Stride.

GOALIE BANISHED

Taylor-Forbes, of Guelph, paid the C. N. R.'s a visit on Saturday, and took away a valuable point after an interesting game, neither side scoring. The visitors played a hard, short-passing game, which put the locals off their usual game, and the work of the halves on both teams was the outstanding feature. The locals, however, were the more dangerous side when near goal, but both goaltenders were always ready, and repelled and shots sent at them. The first half saw the locals do most of the attacking, and Taylor on their right sent in several good shots that almost scored, but the interval arrived with the score sheet blank.

The second half was a repitition of the first, the defence on both sides being very prominent, and considering the fact that the visitors only had ten men during the last half, owing to the goal-tender being sent off, they did well in holding the local team to a draw, and a hard-fought game ended.
