

PROHIBITION LAW IN PHILADELPHIA

Breakdown May Be Investigated by President Harding.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—A special despatch from Washington to the Globe says:

Investigation of the complete breakdown in the enforcement of prohibition in Philadelphia on Saturday, where 50,000 people assembled at the annual U. S. Military Academy vs. U. S. Naval Academy game, may be expected this week by President Harding. The violation of the law was so flagrant as to be apparent to the most casual observer. It existed at the game itself. Men and some women drank underneath the stadium between the halves and at night some of the larger hotels were filled with drunks. There were so many as to excite the anger of members of congress and cabinet officials.

GOVERNMENT ASKED TO ASSIST SMALL FARMERS

London, Nov.—Chambers of Agriculture are petitioning the government to grant loans to farmers for buying their farms. Many old style landlords who are now taxed twenty shillings in the pound are compelled to sell their land and the Government is expected to assist the small farmers to buy.

CHINESE SENTENCED TO DIE WITHOUT LICENSE

Violently Assailed Prison Warden—Found Guilty of Murder.

St. John, Nfld., Nov. 28.—Wo Fen Game, local Chinese laundryman, was found guilty of murder Saturday by a special jury of the Supreme Court and was sentenced to death at a date to be set by the executive council. On May 25th last, Wo Fen Game ran amok for some reason that has never been fully explained.

He shot up three fellow countrymen in the Murray street laundry where he was himself employed and then hustled across the city to Casey Street where he shot a fourth Chinaman and seriously wounded himself. Three of the Chinamen died Saturday morning before he was taken to court. Wo Fen Game in some manner got possession of a brick with which he violently assaulted Warden Rose of the penitentiary. The Warden was badly cut about the head, and was knocked insensible. He is now in hospital in a somewhat serious condition.

BOUGHT FURS WITHOUT LICENSE

On Monday morning in the police court here a conviction was entered against J. Lervovitz of Mont Joli, Que.

on a charge of buying furs without license as required by the game regulations. The defendant was fined $125.00 for this infraction of the law. Lervovitz, who has been under the surveillance of the officials of the Department of Lands and Mines, following a shipment of some 1,000 muskrat skins from the Province of Quebec to fur dealers in Fredericton last year, was refused a license by the department this year. Last year's shipment was seized on the arrival by department officials and instructions were issued to Warden Joseph Allard, here, to keep a close watch on the movements of furs to and from the province at Campbellton. The result was the seizure of a large quantity of pelts from Lervovitz on Sunday last for the illegal purchase of which the owner paid the above mentioned fine.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 29th, 1922
To the Editor of The Graphic, Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir:—Fearing that the worthy citizens of our town might be misled by the rash and questionable statements of the esteemed Editor of the "Tribune" an humble citizen ventures to protest. Far be it for me to attempt to cope with our scholarly friend as a writer after his long experience in journalism but from conscientious motives I feel bound to defend a system of education which I believe best fitted to develop the majority of our people into useful citizens.

The Editor of the Tribune states in his editorial "that vocational education should mean any education the controlling purpose of which it is to fit for profitable employment, and shall include industrial, agricultural and commercial education and education in the fisheries and home economics." May I ask my learned friend why he considered education along such lines undesirable. His intellectual powers have evidently borne him upwards in the realms where a practical education is no longer needed. He explained "To fit for profitable employment" as enabling the student to earn more money. It is always admitted that a competent laborer is worthy of his hire. Since the object of vocational education is to make a competent people may I ask if the end is not a desirable one. Many of the best positions in our town are filled by people from other countries. Why not train our own people for these positions. He goes on to say the expense incurred

PROHIBITION VIEWS OF ONT. PREMIER

Declares Prohibition Has Come To Stay in Province of Ontario.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Speaking before a mass meeting, held in Massey Hall, last night, by the World League against alcoholism, Premier Drury of Ontario gave it as his carefully considered conviction that prohibition has come to Ontario to stay; that there was no danger of reversion to the legalized sale of liquor in any way, shape or form; that neither government control nor the selling of beer and wine would ever receive the sanction of the Ontario electorate, and that before many years had passed prohibition enforcement officials in the United States would not be harassed by the presence of a partially "wet" Canada on their northern boundary.

ed in the establishment of those classes will run from $5000 to $7000. Two thirds of this is paid by Dominion subsidy, so we shall estimate the amount for which the School Board is responsible as $2000. Where, I training, ask could this money be better expended. If upwards of one hundred people are receiving benefits which have been denied them at an age when our more privileged friends were receiving a liberal education, can we truthfully say that the School Board is not looking to the best interests of the town. Our citizens will know that New education is a system of education which has proved such an advantage to the provinces west of us. He also states "The discussion at the meeting established the fact that on the site of which Mr. M. P. Moore the evening classes were simply a new life." Miss Chalmers also faces. On what authority has Mr. Crockett the right to make such a statement to the older girls from eleven to sixteen, as one who knows the truth I shall the citizens of Campbellton and would clearly speak known to the deny our people the privileges enjoyed public that the classes have been by the pupils sixty years ago.

Regretting that lack of time forbids my further writing. I trust that the value of time, and desire to fit someone who has the real welfare of the homes at heart may expect them. His reference to Director Pinesack serves on this subject. H. G.
