

STONERIDGE AND HIS ACCUSERS

Hon. John's Fate Still in Abeyance—Wangle Over Night School Report.

A lively discussion took place at the meeting of the School Board last evening while the night school report was being considered. It was recommended that Mr. D. Marshall's room in the Givens-street school be closed and that the two rooms be united under his charge, while Mr. G. E. Ball, the assistant, be transferred to a new night school to be opened in Parkdale. The committee of the whole recommended that Mr. Marshall be asked for the year and says. Only he and Mr. Somers voted against the report. The report stated that an additional class for male students be opened in Bolton-street school, and Mr. F. C. Whitlock be appointed teacher. This met with opposition from Mr. Hastings on the ground that the students are to be accommodated in the night school, where Mr. Marshall, half in earnest, charged him with pulling the wires for votes. The report was accepted.

Mr. John T. Stoneridge was read by the secretary, in which the writer requested to be allowed to withdraw his resignation as caretaker of the Parliament-street school. He asked this as he had tendered his resignation under the best of understanding, when several charges were preferred against him.

During the discussion which followed it was decided that the Sites and Buildings Committee at its last meeting had done the business, though there was no quorum, members being reported present who had been absent. Mr. Hastings took the ground that the report of the committee was illegal and therefore that Mr. Stoneridge was still caretaker of the school.

The successful committee in the late night school examinations were present and received their prizes. In the Parliament-street school, for general proficiency—Arthur Smith, Albert Payne, Harry Foulke. For conduct, punctuality and attendance—William Matthews, Emma Warnock, Jenny Coe. In the Elizabeth-street school, for general proficiency—Arthur Henry, Norris Phillips, William Smith, Jenny McCall. For conduct, punctuality and attendance—Bessie Griffin, Mary Adams, Minnie White. The following special prizes were presented by Mr. F. Somers: To William Shortt, Arthur McCreesh, Harry Foulke, in the Parliament-street school, for general proficiency; George Foulke, Harry Foulke, William Phillips, for conduct, punctuality and attendance; Harry Foulke, Nellie Lake, William Hall. The following prizes were awarded at the combined examinations of the night schools—Silver medal presented by Mr. Noel Marshall to William Matthews, Parliament-street school; Arthur Smith, Elizabeth-street school; George T. Peppi, Parliament-street school; Arthur Smith, Parliament-street school.

The City Council in answer to the board's request to provide funds for building a school east of the Woodbine estate, the board to rent rooms till next year's estimate was made up.

Two hundred and fifty ratemakers of North Toronto petitioned the board to re-nounce Miss Gill as caretaker of the school in case Mr. Markie resigned the position.

Mr. Bora gave notice that he would present a motion at the next meeting requesting the City Council to pass a resolution passed a law whereby free school books be supplied to the pupils of public schools, to ascertain the wants of the ratemakers' means of the ballot.

Mr. Roden will move at next meeting that the Sites and Buildings Committee be requested to prepare plans and specifications for a 15-room school in the Woodbine estate. The resignation of Miss A. O'Grady, assistant kindergarten in Victoria-street school, was accepted.

Miss M. D. Dent was appointed assistant teacher in Victoria-street school.

Miss A. Foulke, teacher in Huron-street school, was transferred to the new temporary school in Rosedale.

Miss L. A. Kerr, now in the employ of the board, was given a permanent situation in Huron-street school.

The crowning triumph of the City Commission-
