TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly be Kept Rich and Pure.

If you suffer from any form of indigestion, your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, and fuel for energy and defence against its enemies, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence, when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when ingestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion the blood should be kept rich and red, and this can best be done by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are a blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic and through their use your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite will improve and your food will do you good. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Barriefield, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was in a terribly run down condition. I had indigestion of a severe nature, and sharp pains of agony all through me. My stomach was so weak that it was difficult to retain food, and often after eating I would have vomiting spells. I was under medical treatment, but as I did not improve my nerves were in a terrible condition and I was always in much misery. One day I read of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. The result can be summed up by saying that after using the pills for some weeks I was completely cured, could eat a hearty meal and was again enjoying life. If I feel run down at any time I take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and always get benefit from them." You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHE WOULD BE A MASON

The funniest story I ever heard. The funniest thing that ever occurred. Is the story of Mrs. Mehitable Byrde, Who wanted to be a Mason.

Her husband, Tom Byrde, was a Mason true, As good a Mason as any of you; He is tiler of Lodge Cerulean Blue, And tyles and delivers the summons due, And she wanted to be a Mason too— This ridiculous Mrs. Byrde.

She followed him 'round, this inquisitive wife, And nagged and teased him half out of his life;

So to terminate this unhallowed strife He consented at last to admit her. And first to disguise her, from bonnet to shoon,

This ridiculous lady agreed to put on His breech—ah! forgive me, I meant pantoon; And miraculously did they fit her.

The lodge was at work on the Master's degree;

The light was ablaze on the letter G; High soared the pillars J and B; The officers sat like Solomon wise;

The brimstone burned amid horrid cries; The goat roamed wildly through the room; The candidate begged them to let him go home,

And the devil himself stood up in the east As proud as an alderman at a feast, When in came Mrs. Byrde.

Oh, horrible sounds! Oh, horrible sight! Can it be that Masons take delight In spending thus the hours of night?

Ah! could their wives and daughters know The unutterable things they say and do Their feminine hearts would burst with woe—

But this is not all my story. For those Masons joined in a hideous ring, The candidate howled like anything, And thus in tones of death they sing (The candidate's name was Morley):

"Blood to drink and bones to crack, Skulls to smash and lives to take, Hearts to crush and souls to burn— Give old Morley another turn,

And make him all grim and gory." Trembling with horror stood Mrs. Byrde, Unable to speak a single word;

She staggered and fell in the nearest chair On the left of the junior warden there, And scarcely noticed, so loud the groans, That the chair was made of human bones.

Of human bones! on grinning skulls That ghastly throne of horror rolls— Those skulls, the skulls that Morgan bore! Those bones, the bones that Morgan wore!

His scalp across the top was flung, His teeth around the arms were strung— Never in all romance was known Such usage made of human bone.

That brimstone gleamed in lurid flame, Just like a place we will not name. Good angels, that inquiring came From blissful courts, looked on with shame

And fearful melancholy. Again they danced, but twice as bad, They jump with sin like demons mad! The tune is "Hunky Dory!"

"Blood to drink and bones to crack, Skulls to smash and lives to take." Then came a pause, a pair of paws Reached through the floor up sliding doors.

And grabbed the unhappy candidate! How can I without tears relate The lost and ruined Morley's fate? She saw him sink in a fiery hole, And heard him scream, "My soul! my soul!"

While roars of fiendish laughter roll And drown the yells for mercy!

That ridiculous woman could stand no more— She fainted and fell on the checkered floor;

'Midst all the diabolical roar. What then, you ask me, did befall Mehitable Byrde? Why, nothing at all— She had dreamed she'd been in the Mason's Hall.
