Parish Notes

The PARISH MAGAZINE like everything else has taken a holiday this summer, and like everything else is starting again on its work of record and reminder. Its existence has been much cheered lately by the discovery that it is self-supporting and able to contribute a trifle to the support of the Church it represents. Its existence is justified!

Special preachers during the summer have been the Rev. C. H. Coles, late of the Diocese of Jamaica, and the Revs. Edward Cayley, Dr. Tucker, H. T. F. Duckworth, James Nankivel, T. C. S. Macklem and A. W. Jenks.

The Guild of St. Agatha held its first meeting of the season on Sept. 25th, with an attendance of 19. In the absence, through illness, of Miss Cayley, the Vice-President, Miss Lottie Cowan, presided, and the evening was spent in an animated discussion as to the winter's programme. This Guild works for Missions on Monday evenings and is always glad to hear of new members.

A junior chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew has lately been formed in this parish. The inaugural meeting was held in September, and addressed by the Rev. C. H. Coles.

The Young Men's Bible Class has already started on its progressive career, and the Young Women's Class began on Oct. 1st. Both classes meet in the Church on Sundays at 3 p.m.

The Young Men's Association began its weekly evenings on Sept. 28th.

On the last Sunday of the month the organ became unplayable for a short time, and very sweet the Te Deum sounded sung without accompaniment. Mr. Phillips was soon able to rectify the trouble which was caused by a careless workman misplacing a chain.

Everyone has remarked how fresh and clean the Church is after its autumn overhauling, and the sexton has remarked how more than satisfactory this same cleaning is since the new cork-matting has been laid down. The next want in the Church is new cushions and a clean sweep of all the old musty articles.

Bon voyage to Miss Cayley who sails for England on Oct. 14th, where complete rest and a mild climate, we hope, will restore her to health.

The Sanctuary Guild wish to acknowledge with thanks contributions of flowers from Mrs. Weller, Miss Bairds, Miss Ethel Street, Miss Bourne, and Miss Wyatt.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

At the annual meeting of the Toronto Women's Auxiliary in May, 1905, Mrs. Egerton Baines, of this parish, was presented with a Life Membership. The members of the W. A., S. Luke's Church branch, Peterboro', showing in this delightful way how much they feel indebted to her for acting as their representative during the past ten years.
