

actively engaged, and suffered the greatest hardships and privations in many a well fought field in support of the Royal cause. He came to this Province with the Loyalists in the memorable year of 1783, and established himself in Fredericton, (then a wilderness) where he has since resided. He erected the third house in that place, which was only a few months since removed, in order to make room for a new building on the site where it had so long remained.

28. PICKARD.—1847. In the Parish of Douglas, York County, Mr. Moses Pickard, Senior, in the 85th year of his age. Mr. Pickard was one of the first English settlers of the Province, having arrived here when he was only three years old; since which time he has borne the impress of moral worth and religious principle.
29. SMITH.—1855. At Burton, at the residence of N. Hubbard, Esq., Mehetabel, widow of Captain J. Smith, aged 84 years, daughter of the late Joseph Clark, of Mauderville, with whom she came to this Province in 1783.
30. KEANE.—1855. At St. Martins, after a brief illness, Mr. Jeremiah Keane, a native of Waterford, Ireland, aged 76 years. Mr. K. emigrated from his native country fifty years ago, and was the earliest Irish settler in St. Martins, having resided there for the last forty years.
31. FLEMMING.—1839. At Londonderry, (Nova Scotia), aged 60 years, James Flemming, Esquire, one of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Colchester, and for many years a member of the House of Assembly for Londonderry—unusually esteemed as a kind friend and an honest and independent man.
