The Yorkshire & Canadian Trust, Limited

H. W. DYSON, General Manager

ESTABLISHED IN VANCOUVER 1889

Extract from "Monetary Times" December 7th, 1917.

By the late Sir Wm. Mortimer Clark, LL.D., K.C., etc.

"Any individual is liable to make mistakes, and this rule applies to private trustees. There are so many cases on record where estates have been frittered away through the carelessness, the incompetence or even the dishonesty of trustees, or have been swallowed up in ill-advised investments that have been made by trustees, that I am convinced the system of entrusting estates to individuals is wrong in principle and dangerous in practice.

"On the other hand, the trust company is an organization of experts. All investments are made by men whose business it is to invest money and who know bonds and mortgages and the principles of investment generally from every angle. As a further safety measure the trust company must lay its books before the court each year and thus render an account of its stewardship."
