

ARTICLE 8

Protection of Intellectual Property

Each Party shall use reasonable efforts to maintain the proprietary nature of any classified military information it receives in an exchange or transfer pursuant to this Agreement. Such efforts are to be implemented in accordance with the receiving Party's national laws and regulations, so as to not prejudice any intellectual property rights that could be, or are being, pursued for such classified military information.

ARTICLE 9

Exchange of Security Standards

Each Party shall provide the other Party with information about its security standards, procedures and practices for the protection of the classified military information. Each Party shall inform the other Party in writing of changes to its security standards, procedures and practices that affect the manner in which the classified military information is protected.

ARTICLE 10

Compliance and Security Inspection

1. Each Party shall ensure that defence establishments or any other entities handling classified military information protect such information in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.
2. Each Party shall ensure that necessary security inspections are carried out and ensure compliance with appropriate security regulations and procedures to protect classified military information.

ARTICLE 11

Principle of Visits

1. Visits by personnel of a Party requiring access to classified military information held by the other Party or access to restricted areas or defence facilities of the other Party shall be undertaken only with the prior approval of the other Party. Approval for such visits shall be granted only to those personnel set out in Article 6.
2. Requests for visits shall be submitted through diplomatic or military channels to the National Security Authority of the host Party in accordance with procedures mutually determined by the Parties. Unless otherwise mutually determined, such requests should reach the National Security Authority not less than twenty (20) working days before the date of requested visits.
3. The request to visit shall contain the following information:
 - (a) name of the visitor, date and place of birth, nationality, and passport number;
 - (b) official title of the visitor and the name of the entity represented by him or her;
