That deals with only a few of the directors of one bank. I have not time to put on the record the directors of the other banks which I have here we shall have to be content with these as a fair sample. Surely, Mr. Speaker, the time has come for the government of Canada to arrange that the consumers of Canada, the general public, have some representation on the directorates of the financial institutions of this country. Attention has already been drawn by a previous speaker to the fact that the farmers have no such representation, and I should add the fact that neither have the labouring people of this country.
