BUSINESS OF THE SENATE

GOVERNMENT'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

Hon. Jacques Flynn (Leader of the Opposition): Honourable senators, I understand that none of the Orders of the Day dealing with the second reading of bills will be proceeded with today, and I am wondering what the intention of the government is in connection with those orders as far as tomorrow's sitting is concerned.

I understand that today we will be dealing with Order No. 7, which is the debate on the motion for an Address to His Excellency the Governor General in reply to His Speech at the opening of the session. Is it the intention of the government to have some of these motions for the second reading of bills moved tomorrow?

Hon. Raymond J. Perrault (Leader of the Government): The intention is to have debate on these various bills move forward as expeditiously as possible. However, the material required for the initial speeches is as yet not fully in order.

Senator Flynn: I would have thought, since most of these bills were introduced in the last Parliament, that this material would be readily available. From my recent experience in connection with these matters, I would think you would have very little to add to what was prepared for the introduction of these bills in the last Parliament.

Senator Perrault: Honourable senators, the present government is very concerned about the need to be contemporary in
