

CONTENTS:

	PAGE
Translator's Preface	3
Dedication	7
Preface	9
Natural History of Canada	13
Chapter I.—Of New France in General	13
" II.—A brief description of Quebec and other places	17
" III.—Description of the land of which we have knowledge	24
" IV.—Of the trees that grow in New France	29
" V.—Names of the animals to be met with in New France	35
" VI.—Names of the birds in New France	41
" VII.—Names of the fishes that are to be found in the great river St. Lawrence and in the lakes and rivers that empty themselves into it, so far as we know	44
" VIII.—Names of the cereal and other plants that grow in this country from seeds brought from Europe	47
" IX.—Of the Indians in New France, and of their way of living	49
" X.—Continuation of the same subject, of marriage among the Indians	56
" XI.—The way the Indians make war	62
" XII.—Of the way they treat prisoners of war	64
" XIII.—Answers to questions put to the author when he was in France	69
" XIV.—Continuation of the same subject	79
" XV.—Remarks that have been omitted in the pre- ceding chapters	82