

CONTENTS.

7

PAGE.

PAGE.

portunity.—"The Vittles sot Out."—The "Sweetnin'" gave Out.—
Thousands of Cows and no Milk.—The Hired Man's Grace before Meat.—Four Dollars' Worth of Hospitality.—Filing a Counter-Claim . 95

CHAPTER IX.

A Texas Negro.—Was it a Circus?—Going to Camp-Meeting.—The Great Gun of the Occasion.—Discharging the Gun.—The Camp-Ground.—
"A Mighty Movin' Preacher."—"I's Tolerable, Thanky."—The Negroes' Wonderful Power of Memorizing.—The Hymn.—The Prayer.—"Amen!
Yes, Lord."—"A Powerful Rattler of Dry Bones."—The Text: "Death in de Pot."—"De Kingdom am a comin'."—The Exhortation.—The Peroration.—Religious Paroxysms.—Getting Religion.—An Effectual Means of Grace.—Improvising.—Lost in the Woods.—Directions as to the Way.—A Blazed Road 108

CHAPTER X.

Suffering from Thirst.—In Search of Water.—Deceptive Distances.—A Sabbath Day's Journey.—Mr. O'Lafferty burned the Biscuits.—A Conversational Cyclone.—A Malicious Slander.—Matches that would not Ignite.—"Good Luck to Yez."—Dry Seasons.—The Norther.—A Copious Breeze.—Yesterday and To-day in Texas.—The Stranger and the Norther.—Extraordinary Fall of a Thermometer.—The Country Store.—The Post-Office.—A Position of Alleged Rest.—A Smart
Aleck.—Luke Sneed, the Sceptic.—"Thar ain't no Hell."—Pete White's Ghost.—News of the Battle.—A Curious Coincidence 121

CHAPTER XI.

Absorbing Cattle Statistics.—Easy to get killed in Texas.—Effects of calling Mr. — a Liar.—The Man, Dirks.—He wanted to be hung.—No Malice, No Murder.—An Atrocious Murder.—Difference between the Allegata and the Probata.—Self-Defence.—An Alibi.—A Defective Indictment.—Temporary Insanity.—Sentenced to Death.—Reprieved.—
He left Texas to get hung.—The Tarantula.—Association of Ideas.—
Three Old Maids.—The Tune that killed the Cow.—On an Irish Mountain.—Tim the Gamekeeper.—The Murderous Old Earl.—The White Hare.—The Ghost of the Neighboring Chief.—Lost in the Mists of the Mountain.—Reflections on my Sinful Base-Ball Days.—The Moonshiners 133

CHAPTER XII.

A Corn-Bread-and-Coffee Hotel.—Eagle Lake.—An Enterprising Landlord.
—Fooling with a Mortgage.—The Drummer.—"Mine Got! Vat a Schmall Ped is Dot."—He wanted to "Schmoke a Leetle."—The Remnant.—The Ranch Del Rio.—Trying the Remedies.—He wanted to die in Peace.—"Signs" on the Prairie.—Buzzards as Detectives.—Rounding

49

60

72

82