

INDEX.

neka Chief, 21. Preaches the Gospel at Gofchgoschuenk, 22. Goes to reside there, 28. Is persecuted, 31. Visits Zoneshio 35. Opposes the enemies boldly, 43. Retires with the Indian congregation to Lawugakhannek, 44. Goes to Pittsburg, 48. Called to a conference at Bethlehem, 64. Travels at Gekelemukpechuenk, 69. Becomes a marked man with the adversaries, 71. Surveys the country on the Muskingum, 73. Fixes on a spot to build Schoenbrunn, 74. His journey to the Shawanose, 82. Second journey to the Shawanose, 92. Invited to attend a treaty of peace, but declines it, 109. Leaves Schoenbrunn, 120. His transactions with the Huron-warriors at Lichtenau, 125. Is in great danger of being murdered, 135. Returns to Schoenbrunn, 138. Goes to Bethlehem, 147. Returns to the Muskingum, 149. Refuses to fare better than his Brethren, and is taken prisoner, 155. His wife seized by a party of savages, 157. Led with the congregation to Sandusky, 161. To Fort Detroit, 164. Second journey to Detroit, 174. During his stay delivers discourses to the prisoners, 191. Goes with the Indian congregation to the river Huron, 192. To Cayahaga, 207. Settled at Pilgersuh, 215. Receives a message from a Delaware Chief, 220. From a Captain, 221.

Zeninge, Indians at, disturb the believers, III. 8. Will not hear the Gospel, 9.

Ziber, I. 86.

Zinochsa, river, II. 121.

Zinnendorf, count Nicholas Lewis, assists the persecuted followers of Schwenkfeld, II. 2. His instructions to the missionaries, 7. Goes to Pennsylvania, 19. His travels among the Indians, 24. Visits Tulpehokin, 27. Makes a covenant with the Iroquois, 28. Visits Shikomoko, ib. Goes to Wajomick, 30. Danger among the Shawanose, 33. Returns to Europe, 37. The Indian congregations lament his decease in 1760, 193.

Zoufia, a town of the Sennekas, II. 122. Council at Zoneshio, their opinion in favor of the mission, III. 36. Chief's angry message, 32. 43.

THE END.