Will Kindle Flame. Speaking with great emotion at a Hyde Park meeting this afternoon, Mrs. Despard said she hoped that the case of Miss Davison would kindle a flame in the souls of men which would end the present awful situation. Miss McGowan, another suffragette leader, said that Miss Davison had given her life in order to call attention to the wrongs of women. She knew that Miss Davison had always held the view that a woman's life would have to be sacrificed before the women of this country would get justice.

Disorder in Hyde Park.

In striking contrast to the meetings of constitutional society in Hyde Park this afternoon, which met with only mild heckling, the attempts of the W.P.S.U. speakers to address the crowd resulted in considerable disorder, and a number of fights between the male body guards of the women and the spectators.

The constitutionalists had finished, and repeating the tactics of last Sunday the members of the W.P.S.U. raised their flags at several points, but the crowd pushed in and pressed the speakers to-
