Where We Draw The Line

It should be understood, especially at this season of sales, that there is a certain standard of quality required in all the merchandise handled by this Store.

More cheapness is never the determining factor with our buyers of products or commodities.

All food stuffs must be the very best.

All fabrics must have true merit in weight or weave.

All garments must be serviceable.

All furnishings must represent honest workmanship. On the lowest ground of self-defence this becomes necessary, for we refund the money and the carriage on all goods returned by customers from any part of the Dominion of Canada. But we draw the line, excluding the lowest-priced merchandise because we thoroughly believe in the old homely adage,

The Good Thing is the Cheapest

Customers of this Store know that however little money they pay, they get worthy goods.
