DIRECTORATE OF RAILWAYS BLAMED

Brantford Jury Make G. T. R. Management Responsible for Recent Wreck.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 2.—(Special).—Joseph Maguire, Grand Trunk yardman, was arrested to-night prior to the inquest into the Mt. Vernon wreck, on a charge of manslaughter, and later released on $3000 bail.

Maguire gave evidence at the inquest claiming that he acted under the agent's orders in doing other work at the time he should have protected the return of pilot engine, which went out to the grade and collided on its return with a special work train.

He said that there was an unwritten law to get the work done, although it involved disregard of standing orders.

The verdict was very long and placed responsibility for the disaster on the Grand Trunk. It declared the practice of the yard engine, which collided with the special work train, in leaving the yards to push trains up the five-mile grade to Mount Vernon, and then returning without instructions, was dangerous in the absence of telegraphic connections along the line.

The work train had been ordered to proceed by the train despatcher at London, the order being delivered thru Brantford's night operator.

It was held that Maguire had double duties to perform as yardman and flagman, and that the former telegraph operator and a second yard engine had shortly before been taken off this particular service.

The telegraph operator who remained was a boy of only 19 years and had been on duty for 12 1/2 hours alone.

Concluding the verdict says: "We think that final responsibility for the accident must be placed on the manager and directors of the Grand Trunk Railway, who had not taken proper care to provide a sufficiency of competent and experienced men for duty in the station and yards at this time, nor were the rules and safeguards against accident sufficient to ensure the safety of their employees and the traveling public."

MOTORMAN NEGLIGENT

Coroner's Jury's Verdict in the Essex Fatality.

WINDSOR, Nov. 2.—(Special).—The jury empaneled by Coroner Brien of Essex returned a verdict this evening charging motorman Peterson with negligence in regard to the fatal accident at Polton, on the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Street Railway, Friday night. The jury attached blame to the motorman for not seeing the victims of the accident in time to stop his car or bring it to rest.

FUNERAL OF GREENWAY

Last Sad Rites Attended by a Large Number.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 2.—The special funeral train of six cars that left for Crystal City this morning carried a large number of well-known Winnipeggers to attend the funeral of the late Hon. Thomas Greenway. In the railway commission's private car Acadia the body of the ex- premier reposed.

The services at the Greenway home were attended by a large gathering from all parts of the country. The casket was conveyed to Prairie Home farm, where a private service was held. Interment afterwards took place in the presence of a large gathering.

Nipissing Retrieved By Gordon

Conservative Candidate is Finally Declared Elected by a Majority of 21.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 2.—(Special).—The official count of Returning Officer Browning for Nipissing to-day developed a surprise, George Gordon (Conservative) being returned by a majority of 21.

Election night Gordon was thought to be elected by a good majority, but later returns brought the candidates down to even terms and returns from outlying polls came in very slowly.

By last Thursday the Liberals were so confident of victory with a small majority that arrangements were made to have a celebration and banquet to-night in honor of C. A. McCool, the Liberal candidate.

Mr. McCool himself was averse to any demonstration being made until the returning officer made his declaration, but his North Bay followers got everything in readiness, brass band engaged, caterer at work and rink ready.

There are 46 rejected ballots, but a recount, if asked for, will probably increase Gordon's majority.

STEAMER "TELEGRAM" BURNS IN LAKE HURON

Crew of Dominion Co's Vessel Taken to Boats and Land Safely at Fitzwilliam Island.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Nov. 2.—(Special).—The steamer Telegram, a small ship, about 125 feet long, engaged principally in fishing traffic on Georgian Bay and Lake Huron, caught fire and burned to the water's edge, one mile off Rattle Snake Harbor, to-day. The crew, numbering 15 men, and one passenger, took to the boats and were safely landed.

The Telegram is owned by the Dominion Navigation Co. and is said to carry insurance of $15,000, but no marine insurance.

The 15 men aboard put in at Fitzwilliam Island, a port between Georgian Bay and Lake Huron.

Following their landing the master of the ship despatched a messenger to Toronto, by a telegraph station at the head of the bay, from which point news of the occurrence was sent to the news of the Telegram was en route to the Manitoulin Islands.

Details as to the cause of the fire are unknown and fragmentary reports up to a late hour last night, fail to assign the real cause.

BISHOP FOR TEMISKAMING.

Hallebury Priest Gets Important Office to Aid Ottawa Archdiocese.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(Special).—Rev. Father Lutalippe, parish priest of Hallebury, has been appointed vicar apostolic of Temiskaming and will besides the Bishopric of Catemans. Announcement of this important appointment has been made at the Archbishop's palace.

The effect of this appointment is to give the Archdiocese of Ottawa, over which Archbishop Duhamel presides, another suffragan bishop. Up to the present time the only assistant bishop in the diocese of Ottawa has been Bishop Loran of Sault Ste. Marie. The development in recent years of the Temiskaming district has made the selection of another bishop a necessity.

The new bishop, who is about fifty years of age, was born in Huntingdon County, Quebec. For a number of years he was a professor in the College of Montreal. In 1894 he was appointed rector of the cathedral of Pembroke and in 1906 became parish priest of Hallebury and Cobalt.

ASSESSMENT FOR MISSIONS.

Table showing the following is the last year's and proposed scale of missionary giving of the Canadian cities: Last Year, New Standard, Per Capita.

EARNEST WORK FOR MISSIONS

Laymen's Movement Opens Toronto Campaign With Number of Prominent Speakers Present.

The closing Canadian conference of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which has traversed the Dominion, opened at St. James-square Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon under the presidency of James Byrne. A representative attendance of the leading evangelical ministry and laity of the city churches attended, with a number of visitors from outside points.

Rev. Dr. Perry, Rev. Dr. Gault, and J. Campbell White conducted devotional exercises. The chairman said that the church had so far kept, as it were, the body of material good available and sent to the heathen world but the half and the hoofs, the mere by-products. But the church has not awakened to her full duty.

Rev. Dr. George Jackson said it is greatly to our discredit that many church members know of the book of Jonah chiefly by its connection with a whale! Instead of this it was a wonderful missionary discourse—a sermon on the authenticity of divine grace. The gospel of Christ is not perquisite of some spiritual aristocracy. It is for all the world.

J. Campbell White said that not only does Christ's great commission to the church to preach the gospel to all the world mean to everybody, but it has a definite bearing as to time. The view of the promoters of the movement is that one missionary can in his life's work reach 25,000 heathen and preach so intelligently that they may accept it intelligently if they will. He was convinced that this was practicable from his own experience during ten years in Calcutta in reaching the students. He had no doubt but that within 25 years every man then living will have heard the gospel. The church's interpretation has been that it doesn't matter much when the world is evangelized. Roughly speaking the committee meant by the term "this generation" within the next quarter of a century.

Missionary Duty Universal. N. W. Rowell stated that he had practically contended that the church's duty is first to our own land adequately and then if any resources are left over to utilize for the heathen. He now believes such a contention is entirely incorrect. The missionary duty is as universal as the race.

As to the time limit he was convinced that the money is available to handle "the whole job" for the whole world if the Christian men only put their whole hearts into it. A visitor from the Province of Quebec, Mr. Boshart, barrister at St. Francis College, said that unless the example of the nominal Christians who go to foreign lands is overcome by the lives of Christian missionaries the world will never be evangelized.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland said it was a significant sign of the times that the church now recognized that the missionary idea dominates and permeates the Bible. He could not set up one standard of conduct for the missionary and another for the stay-at-home church member. The missionary is expected to be filled with the Spirit of God, and to be the means of bringing every material and many other advantages and to give himself absolutely to the spread of the gospel. The missionary on the first line now was filled with the idea that their future work must be the training of native converts for their own race, so that in China the Chinese converts will ultimately evangelize China.

How much should the Christian at home give to the missionary cause? With the Jew their religious donation was one-tenth. That might have been a great step for the Jew, but it would scarcely serve for more than a minimum in the case of the average Christian church member. Absolute self-sacrifice was demanded of the missionary.

King Sends Message To India

On Jubilee Occasion His Majesty Promises Extension of Self-Government.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of Great Britain's control of the direct government of India, Queen Victoria having been proclaimed Empress throughout India on Nov. 1, 1858, King Edward VII. issued a long message to the princes and people of India, which the viceroy, the Earl of Minto, read at the durbar at Jajpur to-day.

The message dwells upon the peaceful progress of the empire under a beneficent administration, pays warm tribute to the loyalty of the Indian subjects and troops, announces amnesty for prisoners and a further gradual extension of the principle of representative institutions in the direction of equality in citizenship, and a greater share by the Indians in legislation and the government.

ASK PEOPLE'S VOTE ON RETURN TO WARD SYSTEM

Legislation Committee Favors Separation of Public and High School Boards.

The civic legislation and reception committee yesterday carried Controller Hocken's motion, asking that a referendum be submitted to the ratepayers as to whether they favored the abolition of the board of education and the adoption of a system of a public school board elected by wards, and a separate high and technical school board, such as previously existed.

Controller Spence and Ald. McMurrich opposed the move. The former thought it would confuse the electors by complicating the elections, and that the high and technical schools would be taken out of the control of direct representatives of the people. There was no proof that the board's extravagance was due to the system of election. Ald. McMurrich argued that the controller's motion was a vote-catching one.

The vote was for—Controller Hocken, Ald. Chisholm, Church, J. J. Graham and Keeler—5. Against—Controller Spence and Ald. McMurrich—2.

SHELDON CHOR RECEPTION.

Stewart Houston and H. M. Fletcher announced that arrangements had been made for the part of the Sheldon Choir to take in the reception that the ceremonies should take place at the city hall at 2:30 p.m. on Friday night.

The mayor will receive the visiting choir of 200 members at the main entrance, while the Schubert Choir, stationed on the steps, will afterwards render "O Canada." The Maple Leaf Choir will afterwards be given a drive around the city and later will give a private reception at the residence of H. C. Cox, Queen's Park.

Ald. Church submitted a motion that legislation be sought to compel bicyclists to carry bells and lights. Ald. McMurrich contended that the burden of paying for water mains shouldn't be borne altogether by those who improved their property, owners of vacant land being at present exempt. The committee voted to seek the necessary legislation. Controller Spence announced that he would later move for the appointment of a special committee on the whole question of readjustment of water rates.

'FOR THE PEOPLE' IS BRYAN'S PLEDGE

Pearless One, in Final Address, Contrasts the Support Which Candidates Will Receive—Taft's Last Words to Labor.

AS TEDDY PUTS IT, His own feeling of extreme confidence was thus expressed to-day by President Roosevelt when in speaking of the campaign he declared, "We've got them beaten to a frazzle."

MARYSVILLE, Kas., Nov. 2.—W. J. Bryan concluded his campaign of the State of Kansas and of the United States before an enthusiastic audience here to-night. It was the last political speech, his address at Lincoln being non-partisan.

Mr. Bryan realized it was the concluding political speech of the campaign, and his peroration was delivered with all the earnestness at his command, and as he declared that he had given an impulse to honest politics and helped to create a sentiment in favor of reform, he was wildly applauded by the large audience.

The following is the conclusion of the last campaign speech of 1908 made by Mr. Bryan:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am now 48 years old. It is 15 years since I began my political career as a candidate for congress. I told the people of my district that if elected I would not try to get their hands into other people's pockets; that I would simply try to keep other people's hands out of their pockets. For 15 years this thought has run thru every speech and act. I have tried to apply to government the Jeffersonian maxim of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.' I have tried to help make this government a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

"For 15 years you have had the chance to scan the private character and act. While Republican leaders have disappeared as the result of investigations I have invited the scrutiny of my opponents and have cultivated their criticisms and their misrepresentations. I know not what the future has for me, I know not whether I will be a candidate, but I shall be their spokesman in the White House or continue to perform the work which I have tried to perform as a private citizen. I have not lived to help make this country a better place. I have not lived to see the dawn of a new day. I have not lived to see the rise of a new nation. I have not lived to see the fall of a great empire. I have not lived to see the end of the world. I have only lived to see the dawn of a new day. I have only lived to see the rise of a new nation. I have only lived to see the fall of a great empire. I have only lived to see the end of the world.

"My opponent has behind him all those forces which are considered potent in politics, but I would rather have the love and confidence of the multitude, in whose behalf I have fought, than to hold any office. If I enter the White House, I shall enter it free from all party bias. I have made free to serve with singleness of purpose.

"If I am elected I shall for four years devote whatever energy I have, and whatever ability I possess to the object of making this government again a government in which the people shall draw from society a reward proportionate to the service which he renders to his fellow men.

"Our fight is won and we await the verdict with confidence. The people will not be deceived by the padded straw votes published by the partisan newspapers, by the array of office holders, trust magnates, most of the leading newspapers and an enormous campaign fund so inflated that they tell not the people know where it comes from until after they have voted, and that part of it that is contributed to the Republican campaign committee will not be known even then.

"If I have behind me the awakened conscience of the country, and the sentiment in favor of popular government, which demands the election of United States senators by direct vote.

"I have but one thing to rely on, the confidence of the masses, who are pleading for relief, the laboring men whose petitions have been rejected by the Republican party, the depositors whose savings are jeopardized by the carelessness of bank officials, and the consumers who have been exploited by the beneficiaries of the high tariff.

"All of these people see in a Democratic victory, their only hope of relief, and they know that with the election of a Democratic president and a Democratic congress, backed by a popular verdict in behalf of Democratic policies, the way is open for remedial legislation.

"The Republican leaders have been weighed in the balances and have been found wanting; they have betrayed the
