With his patriotic undertaking the Liberal leader pressed for the keeping unsullied of Canada's good name. He drew attention to the serious allegations of fraud and mismanagement which had resulted in Canada's young manhood being sent to serve in boots which had caused them discomfort, suffering and loss. He urged upon the government the necessity for prompt, thorough and public investigation, in order that responsibility might be placed and future and loss. Sir Robert Borden met the Liberal leader on the high plane taken. He expressed appreciation of the patriotism of the opposition's position, and had no exception to take to Sir Wilfrid's comments concerning expenditures. He agreed that the country was entitled to all possible information and suggested, in explantion of the boot scandal, that the goods were prepared on old speci-Whether his followers will continue the same attitude, and agree to defer-

Whether his followers will continue the same attitude, and agree to deferring a general election until next year, is not yet known.

In concluding his speech, the premier read an important communication just received from Right Honorable Louis Harcourt, dealing with the efficiency of the Canadian troops, and stating that their training was now completed, and they were ready to join the Patricias at the front.

At the evening sitting, Dr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, followed the premier in a spirited speech, in which he emphasized the oneness of purpose in the minds of all Canadians, and their united determination, free from party considerations, to give their best in service and sacrifice to the empire. "Our task," declared the eloquent Britisher, "is to get behind the men in the trenches and stay behind them till their task is accomplished."

Mr. MacDonald called the attention of the premier to the fact that reductions of wages had been made in certain industries in Canada engaged in the manufacture of shells and other munitions of war. He pointed out that government contracts, but that in 1891 a British statute required that a fair wage schedule should be inserted in all imperial contracts. He asked the premier to take steps to see that in all contracts let for the imperial government in connection with imperial supplies, a fair wage schedule should be imposed to maintain current wages.

The premier assured Mr. MacDonald the government would take steps to see that in all contracts let for the imperial government in connection with imperial supplies, a fair wage schedule should be imposed to maintain current wages.

The premier assured Mr. MacDonald the government would take steps to see that importance to all workingmen engaged in manufacturing articles for imperial purposes.
