The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

66 WILL you please write and tell me whether it is customary to acknowledge Valentine postcards? I do not know, and I am so anxious to do the courteous thing."

So a young person wrote o me a few weeks ago.

I answered her to the best of my ability, but I confess I could not help smiling at that last sentence. You see it didn't seem possible to me that any one who was really "so anxious to do the courteous thing" could have written asking a favor without enclosing a stamp, to say nothing of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

you didn't see fit to pring a cup and that she will have to supply that, too.

Only in the case of a stamp, it is a gift, not a loan, that's asked.

Yes, I know two cents is a very little matter.

But a hundred two cents is more, and a thousand two cents means a gool deal to most of us.

Incidentally you might be interested to know that I do not supply the stamps, so that my protest is quite an impersonal one.

Incidentally you might be interested to know that I do not supply the stamps, so that my protest is quite an impersonal one.

And now, while I'm talking to my correspondents, I might as well say one or two things which have been on my mind for some time.

I wish you people who write and ask me questions, the answer to which could only be of very limited interest, would sign your names, thus giving me a chance to answer you by private letter, instead of expecting the answer in the column. You see my column is my open letter to many thousands of people, and I do not feel that I ought to take up the space with matters that will only interest one person, or at best, a very few people.

Please do not be afraid to sign your names, whatever you write. I have never published a name, and I never will without the owner's express permission.

I cannot close any talk with my letter friends and acquaintances without once more expressing my thanks to the dear good folks who have sent me words of appreciation and cheer and constructive criticism.

Dear friends, do you know my heart just aches with happiness sometimes to think there are such kind people in the world, and that fate should have brought me in touch with them, when I so little deserve that wonderful good fortune.

That you should think such kind things to yourself would be sweet enough of you, but that you should actually take the time and make the effort to put them on paper and send them to me—it is wonderful.

I thank you.

I often say from the bottom of my heart, "God bless you and prosper you as you deserve." May others gladden your lives with the world of appreciation and encouragement spoken at the right moment,, as you have mine.

ST. JOHN BUILDING.

ST. JOHN BUILDING.

Building statistics for the province, published in the last number of the Labor Gazette, show that the new work and repairs done in St. John during 1910 exceeded the figures in 1909 by about 30 per cent. The number of permits issued was 164, being an increase of 28 over 1909, and the value of the buildings represented was $524,475, an increase of $148,275, as compared with last year. Other parts of the province showed a falling off. In Moncton the amount expended was $112,915, as compared with $239,610 the previous year, and in Newcastle district only about one-third as much work was done as in 1909.

THE SUSPENSION BRIDGE

That the provincial government has become convinced that the Suspension bridge is in a serious condition as represented by James Lowell, M. P. P., at the last session of the legislature and denied at the time by a member of the government, is made amply evident by the employment of a gang of carpenters and iron workers to repair the bridge. One of the men in charge of the work said yesterday that the repairs to the bridge would probably occupy the entire summer as the structure would be given a thorough overhauling. The work began on Monday last under the direction of A. R. Wetmore, provincial engineer, who will visit the scene at brief intervals as long as the work is in progress. James Lewis is doing the iron work and Atkins Bros., of Fairville, are doing the carpenter work with day labor.

ring future welfare and making life miserable. In the prevention of the simple skin troubles from which all this suffering so often arises and in establishing a condition of skin health that makes eruptions impossible, mothers are assured that nothing is purer, sweeter or more effective than Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And greater still, if possible, is the success of these simple household remedies in the treatment of the severer skin affections themselves. With the first warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment, the itching and burning of eczema cease, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests and for the first time, possibly, in many weeks peace falls on Mothers Should Realize What May Mean to Children.

A lifetime of disfigurement and suffering often results from the neglect, in infancy or childhood, of minor affections of the skin and scalp. A mother overlooks a little rash or attempts some simple treatment and in a day, perhaps, the little one is covered with severe eczema or a similar distressing eruption. Then the struggle for a cure begins.

A multitude of remedies are tried, doctor after doctor consulted and hospitals visited, but too often the suffering extends, without substantial relief, from days to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Added to this is the ever-present fear that the Itching, burning and disfiguration will become chronic, marring future welfare and making life miserable. In the prevention of the simple skin troubles
