Further List of Casualties Received Last Night.

The Folly of Boer Delegates and Sympathizers in Europe.

OTTAWA, April 7.—Lord Roberts has cabled the governor general as follows: "I have telegraphed Lord Kitchener hearty congratulations to the troops who did so well at Kleinhardt's River 31st March, but I would like you to acquaint the Canadian government how much I appreciate the splendid stand of the Canadian Mounted Rifles and how much I regret the heavy losses."

CANADIANS SAVED THE DAY.

TORONTO, April 7.—The Telegram's special cable from London says: Most of the recent advances from the front say that at Hart's River engagement the British troops were arranged in the form of a semi-circle, the Canadian Rifles holding a point somewhat in advance and across the front of the semi-circle. The Boers were following up a bold attack on the 28th Mounted Infantry when they were met with a heavy fire from the Canadians, who poured volleys into them at a distance of two hundred yards. Private Evans, although mortally wounded, kept in the thick of the fight, and having fired all the ammunition in his bandolier, broke his rifle.

(Private Evans above mentioned was the son of James Evans, Port Hope, Ont., and was 27 years old.)

CORKONIANS CARRIED A BOER FLAG.

CORK, April 7.—A performance of "The Dandy Fifth" at the opera house here was brought to a premature close tonight by the hostile demonstrations of a crowd of students in the gallery. The demonstrators then paraded through the town, headed by a Boer flag. They were challenged by a loyalist crowd, which tried to capture the flag. A fight then ensued, in which the police interfered with their batons and many persons were injured.

LONDON, April 7.—Lord Kitchener reports that the Boer casualties during the engagements of March 31 and April 1 were, at the lowest estimate, 30 men killed and 80 wounded. Commandant Brummen was killed near Boshof, Orange River Colony, April 8.

LONDON, April 7.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated from Pretoria, says Commandant Kritzinger (who was captured by Gen. French at Hanover Road, Cape Colony, Dec. 17 last, and who has been tried by court martial on the charge of having committed four murders, in addition to train wrecking and cruelty to prisoners), has been acquitted, and is being well cared for as an ordinary prisoner of war.

$1,000 FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

NEW YORK, April 8.—In an address before the Holland Society in this city, Mantagu White, the Boer representative, appealed for funds to aid the women and children and other Boer prisoners. The society agreed to expend $1,000 for relief work.

BOER FOLLY.

NEW YORK, April 8.—There is little faith among the Boer sympathizers here that peace is imminent in South Africa, cables a Tribune correspondent from the Hague. Hearts are hardened in consequence of the conference held here, and at Utrecht and the Boer envoys and refugees are asserting in a louder key than ever that the war will last four years longer and that there can be no peace without independence. The credulity of the burghers in South Africa is matched by the assumption of their other agents here that their deliverance is coming from England's foreign complications when there is not a cloud in the sky. When the three Boer commissioners were sent to America it was assumed that a good case would be made out for an investigation of the military conduct of the war and the shipment of supplies of horses and mules from the United States would be prohibited. These illusions were dissipated when the delegates returned, but a new fiction has been supplied. The Boer advocates are asserting that England is fatally embarrassed by her alliance with Japan, and certainly will be drawn into a war of tremendous magnitude in the east. The Boer sympathizers are consequently justifying an indefinite continuance of the guerrilla warfare, and forecasting the ultimate triumph of the cause of independence, when British troops cannot be spared from the larger theatre of European operations.

LORD KIMBERLEY.

The Distinguished Liberal Statesman Died This Afternoon.

LONDON, April 8.—Lord Kimberley, the liberal statesman, who had been ill for some time past, died this afternoon.

The Rt. Hon. John Wodehouse, K. G., Earl of Kimberley, was born Jan. 7, 1836, and educated at Eton and Christ Church, where he graduated in 1867. He succeeded his grandfather as Baron Wodehouse in 1846, and was raised to the earldom of Kimberley in 1866. In December, 1852, he accepted the post of under secretary of state for foreign affairs, which he held under Lord Aberdeen and Palmerston till 1856, when he was appointed envoy at St. Petersburg. He resumed his former office in 1859 and retired in 1861, and in 1862 went on a special mission to Copenhagen. In 1864 he was appointed under secretary for India, and later in the same year became Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, resigning this post when Lord Russell's second administration fell in 1866. He was Lord Privy Seal in Gladstone's administration from 1868 till 1870, and then secretary of state for the colonies until 1874. In 1875 he was appointed chairman of a royal commission to enquire into the working of the penal servitude acts. On Gladstone's return to power in 1880 he again became secretary of state for the colonies. From 1882 until 1886 he was secretary of state for India, and again from 1892 to 1894. In 1894 and 1895 he was secretary for foreign affairs. In 1897 he was chosen leader of the liberal party in the house of lords. The late earl's estate comprised 11,200 acres.

THOSE HORSE SHIPMENTS.

The Tempest in a Teapot at New Orleans.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 8.—Col. E. H. Crowder, of Chicago, connected with the department of agriculture, and now assigned to the department of the lakes, according to the Tribune's New Orleans correspondent, is the officer to port Chalmette, La., to inquire into the conditions at the military camp reported to be under the management of the British government at that point. Colonel Crowder, the Tribune says, is at New Orleans awaiting instructions from the war department. Colonel Crowder has already briefly inquired into the conditions at Chalmette. He has found that the Port Chalmette railroad people, says the Tribune's correspondent, claim to have full control of the land occupied by the pens and stables. Colonel Crowder investigated the court records pertaining to the suit brought by Gen. Pearson in a recent effort to prevent the sailing of two transports. The court set aside the objections. It is found that nearly all the documents in the case were forwarded to Washington as a part of Governor Heard's report to the secretary of state. Today, it is held, will decide whether there will be a thorough and immediate inquiry. It is estimated that there are now 1,000 horses and four hundred mules penned up at Port Chalmette.

At the wharves three transports are waiting to clear for Cape Town the moment the animal cargoes are aboard. A committee of British army officers and veterinarians are busy passing on the four-footed recruits that come in daily from all points of the western grazing districts.

LAKE SUPERIOR.

Pilot Rodgers on the Stand This Morning.

Evidence Practically the Same as Adduced Before the Pilot Commissioners.

At the afternoon session yesterday of Capt. Thomas Clarke of the Neptune, Capt. Charles Taylor, harbor master; James Moore, second officer of the Superior; A. Nelson, steamer's carpenter; John McGowan, the boatswain; Chief Engineer John Harraghy, Second Engineer Gibb and Third Engineer B. H. Hood, Michael Matthews, boatswain's mate, and Jules LeBarres was taken.

The enquiry into the grounding of the Lake Superior was continued this morning. Most of the time was spent in receiving Pilot Rodgers' testimony. It varies little if any from that given by him before the pilot's commissioners, save that he gave it in greater detail. The pilot took exception to Capt. Thompson's evidence in several points.

Capt. Chas. Taylor, the harbor master, was recalled this morning. He was asked whether he had the power to interfere if he did not approve of the action of a pilot bringing a ship up the harbor. He said that there was no regulation giving him such a power.

To Capt. Murphy—I would advise taking a tugboat always when mooring a ship in the harbor.

To C. J. Coster—In this particular case it would be better for the steamer to have her two anchors spread.

Capt. R. H. Fleming said that the freshest was unusually strong for the month of March. Shown the spot marked on the chart, as the place where the Superior anchored, he stated that he would not have anchored there at all.

There was some little dispute then as to whether the spot marked was really the place the Superior did anchor.

Continuing Capt. Fleming stated that he would not give the vessel a broad sheer, but would gradually work her over. He would under force of circumstances, anchor a ship 500 feet from the east wharf.

To Capt. Douglas—I do not think I would do it with a current of six knots.

Pilot Hart Rogers was then called. He stated that he had anchored the Superior 600 feet to the westward of the Ballast wharf. He pointed out the spot on the chart. The witness then repeated the testimony previously given by him, in regard to the manner in which he boarded the Superior and brought her up.

Commander Spain asked about mishaps in connection with the Alcides and Amaranthia. Pilot Rogers gave a full explanation of these affairs. W. J. Mahoney, his counsel, protested that these questions were irrelevant. His objection was noted.

To Mr. Coster, who asked a question in regard to these steamers, Commander Spain said he was satisfied about them.

Mr. Coster then continued the cross-examination, and Pilot Rogers stated that the captain gave two orders without his instruction. One was to stop the engines. The ship lost her way and he, the pilot, corrected the order almost immediately. He gave the order to port the helm when the ship was under way about 1,000 feet from the Corporation pier; 400 feet further he gave the order "steady," and 400 feet further he gave the order starboard. The captain gave this order afterwards. Pilot Rogers took exception to the captain's evidence, in regard to the statement that there was hesitancy until they reached beacon whether the steamer would be moored or docked, and in regard to the statement that the captain gave the order "starboard" first. He had heard that another pilot had done 40 or 50 pounds damage to a steamer. He would be surprised if the damage amounted only to $50. There is an extra charge by the pilots for mooring vessels, but he would not have charged the Superior anything.

The cause of the accident was the captain giving the order to stop the engines.

To Mr. Mahoney—The ship lost her way quicker than I expected.

To the court—The cause of the stranding of the ship was that she lost her way.

Pilot Richard Cline testified that he had been a pilot for fifty-four years. He would have brought the Superior up on the other side of the harbor.

Adjournment was made until three o'clock.

THE VATICAN.

Will Be Specially Represented at the Coronation.

ROME, April 8.—In spite of the opposition of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, the Pope has decided to send important special missions both to the coronation of King Edward and to the festivities in Spain attendant upon the coronation of King Alfonso. The cardinal's opposition to the sending of the mission to England was based on the fact that the British parliament did not change the anti-Catholic formula of the accession oath, and Mr. Merry Del Val, whom the pontiff designed to be chief of the mission openly refused to go while the present wording of the oath is maintained. Nevertheless, the mission will be sent and will probably arrive in London a few hours after the religious ceremony. This will be a repetition of the diplomatic manoeuvres carried out at the coronation of Czar Nicholas at Moscow.

BIG CONTRACT FOR HALIFAX.

Advices were received in Halifax from Ottawa on Saturday that the tender of M. E. Keefe to build the new Custom House at Halifax has been accepted. There were about a dozen firms tendering, including several from the upper provinces. The building will cost about $300,000, and means much increased labor for Halifax workmen. The building is to be erected on the old market building site.
