BRITAIN FACED WITH TERRIBLE REALITIES, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Identical Plans.

Mr. Lloyd George said it was essential that decisions should be taken instantly at Versailles. Meeting separately the delegates of the respective allies, he explained, considered their own plan, which in each case was identical. This plan was passed without a dissenting vote and accepted by all the military representatives, the premier stated.

Being under the impression that all the difficulties had been overcome, continued the premier, the government offered General Robertson a position on the Versailles council, but he was unwilling to acquiesce in the system, objecting to it on military grounds. General Robertson, added the premier, then refused the post of chief of staff with powers adapted to the position set up at Versailles.

American Proposals.
The American representatives at the Versailles council declared "with irresistible power and logic" for the plan for expansion of the supreme council power, the premier said. If we should read the documents submitted by the Americans, said Mr. Lloyd George, there would be no need to make a speech.

result of very powerful representations by the delegates of other governments, notably the American government.

Rawlinson Appointed.
The premier announced that General Sir Henry Seymour Rawlinson had been appointed to represent Great Britain on the supreme war council at Versailles.

Mr. Asquith Follows.
Immediately after Mr. Lloyd George concluded his speech, former Premier Asquith arose and expressed the wish that the premier's address had been made a week ago.

Earl of Derby.
London, Feb. 19.—The Earl of Derby, Secretary of State for War, addressing the House of Lords today, said he strongly supported the plan of attack in the press and had offered to resign, he added, but Premier Lloyd George had asked him to remain in office.
